PREFACE

This work is the fruit of more than thirty years spent in teaching the English New Testament. I first used as a text-book the Harmony of Dr. Ed. Robinson, and for some twenty years past that of Dr. G. W. Clark. Both are valuable works, deserving their wide reputation. But I have become more and more convinced that most harmonists seriously err in laying stress on the division of our Lord's ministry into Passover years. It is quite impossible to determine with any great confidence whether the feast of John 5:1 was a passover, and the two known passovers of John 2:13 and 6:4 have really no important relation to the development of our Lord's ministry. Besides, the length of his ministry, and the dates of his birth and death, cannot be precisely fixed. But cease to labor for an exact chronology, quit regarding the feasts (except the last Passover) as important epochs in his work, and you presently perceive that his ministry divides itself easily into well-defined periods, in each of which you can trace a gradual progress, (a) in our Lord's selfmanifestation, (b) in the hostility of his enemies, and (e) in his training of the Twelve Apostles. Thus we become able to follow the inner movements of the history, towards that long-delayed, but foreseen and inevitable collision, in which, beyond all other instances, the wrath of man was made to praise God.

The chief marks of this historical progress in the Life of our Lord I have tried to indicate by brief foot-notes, and other notes in italic letters placed here and there between the sections. Many of these brief notes also touch various points of harmonizing, of chronology, and other matters, so that the reader may quickly get the most important necessary information or help, and move forward. Questions requiring more elaborate discussion have been treated by my colleague, Dr. A. T. Robertson, in longer notes placed at the end of the volume, which in my judgment are remarkably complete and discriminating, and will greatly aid the careful student.

IV PREFACE.

It has seemed best to print the Harmony in the Revised Version, commonly known as the Canterbury, or Anglo-American Revision, which is nowadays given in many lesson helps and commentaries along with the Common or King James translation. In printing this revised text some use has been made of Waddy's Harmony.

Probably most persons look upon a Harmony of the Gospels as useful only to Bible class work or other regular forms of study. But I invite any one who takes pleasure in reading his Bible to try the experiment of reading this Harmony as a connected and complete Life of Christ. moving steadily on through the successive periods, and striving to come ever nearer to him as our Teacher, Exemplar, Redeemer, Lord. It is hoped also that Y. M. C. A. elasses, in Colleges and elsewhere, may in many cases like to take up a series of lessons in that great Life, which is the focus of human history, and the centre of Scripture. When Sunday School lessons are taken from any one of the Gospels, it is an important advantage for all teachers, and the more intelligent pupils, to compare every such lesson with the other Gospels as presented in a Harmony; while for regular lessons on the Life of Christ a Harmony is indispensable to thorough treatment. In Theological Seminaries, not merely students who use only the English Bible, but those who study the Gospels in Greek, would be much profited by first making a survey of the Harmony in English. And no minister can afford to prepare a sermon on any text from a Gospel without locking up the parallel passages from other Gospels, and also considering where his text stands in the gradual unfolding of the Saviour's teaching and work. REVISER'S PREFACE.

It has been ten years since Dr. Broadus issued his Harmony, which has already gone through six editions. This has seemed a fitting time to give the book a close revision. Some important changes have been made in the notes at the end of the book. Dr. Broadus' Harmony was the first one to depart from the traditional division of the ministry of Christ by the Passovers rather than by the natural unfolding of the ministry itself. He also introduced an Analytical Outline into the body of the Harmony in italics, made cross references to similar incidents or sayings, had helpful summaries at the beginning of each of the General Divisions (Parts), preserved the marginal notes of the Revised Version, which is the text used, and added at suitable points very valuable footnotes that helped the student to seize the movement of the history. The plan of his Harmony is to give the best helps for historical study. The Gospel material is arranged in the order accepted by the best New Testament scholars, but difficulties at various points are freely recognized and indicated. The student at least has a working basis to start with.

In accordance with this conception of the Harmony some further helps are added in this Revised Edition. An excellent map of Palestine is furnished, the Analytical Outline is put by itself in front as well as preserved in the body of the text, the cross references to similar incidents and sayings are added in a separate appendix, besides being preserved in the text, Dr. Broadus' "Analysis and Peculiarities of the Gospel" is given in an appendix, besides new lists of the Parables, Miracles, Old Testament Quotations, Uncanonical Savings of Jesus and a list of the chief Harmonies. References to the sections and pages of the Harmony go with those appendices. There is added, moreover, a full Index of Persons and Places which will be helpful. There is also the usual Synopsis with tables for finding passages. It is believed that this Harmony thus offers peculiar advantages to the student engaged in historical study. Dr. Broadus' work in the volume is the ripe fruit of a lifetime of rich study and reflection by one of the rarest teachers of the New Testament that any age or country has ever seen.

PART I.

MATTERS CONNECTED WITH OUR LORD'S BIRTH AND CHILDHOOD.

§ 1. Introductory portions of the several Gospels.

Matthew, writing for Jewish readers, begins with a genealogy (comp. Gen. 5:1; 6:9; 10:1, etc.). Luke, writing like a Greek historian, begins with a dedication to a friend (so also in Part II of his history, Acts 1:1). John begins in a thoroughly unique manner, not (as in many biographies) with the birth of the subject, but with his eternal pre-existence, and the fact that the entire universe owes its existence to him; adding that he finally became incarnate, and we knew him well (comp. 1 John 1:1). Mark begins his narrative without any formal Introduction.

(a) Dedication of Luke's Gospel.

Luke 1:1-4.

1 FORASMUCH as many have taken in hand to draw up a narrative con-2 cerning those matters which have been fulfilled among us, even as they delivered them unto us, which from the beginning were eyewitnesses 3 and ministers of the word, it seemed good to me also, having traced the course of all things accurately from the first, to write unto thee in order, 4 most excellent Theophilus; that thou mightest know the certainty concerning the ²things ⁸wherein thou wast instructed.

1 Or, fully established. 2. Gr. words. 3. Or, which thou wast taught by word of mouth.

(b) Introduction to John's Gospel.

John 1:1-18.

1 In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and 2 the Word was God. The same was in the beginning with God. 3 All things were made ¹by him; and without him ²was not anything 4 made that hath been made. In him was life; and the life was the light 5 of men. And the light shineth in the darkness; and the darkness ³ap-6 prehended it not. There came a man, sent from God, whose name was 7 John. The same came for witness, that he might bear witness of the 8 light, that all might believe through him. He was not the light, but 9 came that he might bear witness of the light. 4There was the true 10 light, even the light high teth ⁵every man, coming into the world. He was in the world, and the world was made ¹by him, and the world

He was in the world, and the world was made ¹Dy him, and the world 11 knew him not. He came unto ⁶his own, and they that were his own 12 received him not. But as many as received him, to them gave he the 13 right to become children of God, even to them that believe on his name: which were 7born, not of 8blood, nor of the will of the flesh, nor of the 14 will of man, but of God. And the Word became flesh, and 9dwelt among us (and we beheld his glory, glory as of 10the only begotten 15 from the Father), full of grace and truth. John beareth witness of him, and crieth, saying, 11 This was he of whom I said, He that com-16 eth after me is become before me; for he was 12 before me. For of his 17 fulness we all received, and grace for grace. For the law was given 18 by Moses; grace and truth came by Jesus Christ. No man hath seen God at any time; 13 the only begotten Son, which is in the bosom of the Father, he hath declared him.

1. Or, through. 2. Or, was not anything made. That which hath been made was life in him; and the life, &c. 3. Or, overeame. 4. Or, The true light, which lighteth every man, was coming. 5. Or, every man as he cometh. 6. Gr. his own things. 7. Or, begotten. 8. Gr. hloods. 9. Gr. tabernacled. 10. Or, an only begotten from a father. 11. Some ancient authorities read (this was he that said. 12. Gr. first in regard of me. 13. Many very ancient authorities read God only begotten.

§ 2. Annunciation† of the Birth of John the Baptist.

Jerusalem, in the Temple. Probably B.C. 6.

Luke 1:5-25.

5 There was in the days of Herod, king of Judea, a certain priest named Zacharias, of the course of Abijah: and he had a wife of the 6 daughters of Aaron, and her name was Elisabeth. And they were both righteous before God, walking in all the commandments and or-7 dinances of the Lord blameless. And they had no child, because that Elisabeth was barren, and they both were now 1 well stricken in years.

8 Now it came to pass, while he executed the priest's office before 9 God in the order of his course, according to the custom of the priest's 10 office, his lot was to enter into the 2temple of the Lord and burn incense. And the whole multitude of the people were praying without 11 at the hour of incense. And there appeared unto him an angel of the 12 Lord standing on the right side of the altar of incense. And Zacha-13 rias was troubled when he saw him, and fear fell upon him. But the angel said unto him, Fear not, Zacharias: because thy supplication is

For he shall be great in the sight of the Lord, and he shall drink no wine ner 3 strong drink; and he shall be 16 filled with the 4Holy Ghost, even from his mother's womb. And many 17 of the children of Israel shall he turn unto the Lord their God. And he shall 5go before his face in the spirit and power of Elijah, to turn the hearts of the fathers to the children, and the disobedient to walk in the wisdom of the just; to make ready for the Lord a people pre-18 pared for him. And Zacharias said unto the angel, Whereby shall I know this? for I am an old man, and my wife 6 well stricken in years. 19 And the angel answering said unto him, I am Gabriel, that stand in the presence of God; and I was sent to speak unto thee, and to bring 20 thee these good tidings. And behold, thou shalt be silent and not able to speak, until the day that these things shall come to pass, because thou believedst not my words, which shall be fulfilled in their 21 season. And the people were waiting for Zacharias, and they mar-22 velled 7 while he tarried in the 2 temple. And when he came out, he could not speak unto them: and they perceived that he had seen a vision in the 2 temple: and he continued making signs unto them, and 23 remained dumb. And it came to pass, when the days of his ministration were fulfilled, he departed unto his house. § 3. Annunciation to the Virgin Mary of the Birth of Jesus.

Nazareth. Probably B.C. 5.

Luke 1:26-38.

Now in the sixth month the angel Gabriel was sent from God unto 27 a city of Galilee, named Nazareth, to a virgin betrothed to a man whose name was Joseph, of the house of David; and the virgin's name 28 was Mary. And he came in unto her, and said, Hail, thou that art 29 lhighly favoured, the Lord is with thee. But she was greatly troubled at the saying, and cast in her mind what manner of saluta-30 tion this might be. And the angel said unto her, Fear not, Mary: 31 for thou hast found 3favor with God. And behold, thou shalt conceive in thy wemb, and bring forth a son, and shalt call his name 32 Jesus. He shall be great, and shall be called the Son of the Most High: and the Lord God shall give unto him the throne of his father 33 David: and he shall reign over the house of Jacob 4forever; and of his 34 kingdom there shall be no end. And Mary said unto the angel, How 35 shall this be, seeing I know not a man? And the angel answered and said unto her, The Holy Ghost shall come upon thee, and the power of the Most High shall overshadow thee: wherefore also 5 that which

Luke 1:26-38.

36 is to be born 7 shall be called holy, the Son of God. And behold, Elisabeth thy kinswoman, she also liath conceived a son in her old 37 age: and this is the sixth month with her that 8 was called barren.

38 For no word from God shall be void of power. And Mary said, Behold, the handmaid of the Lord; be it unto me according to thy word. And the angel departed from her.

Or, the holy thing which is to be born shall be called the son of God. 6. Or, is beyotten. 7. Some ancient authorities insert of thee. 8. Or, is. 9. Gr. bondmaid.

§ 4. VISIT OF MARY TO ELISABETH.

Hill Country of Judea.

Luke 1:39-56.

- 39 And Mary arose in these days and went into the hill country with 40 haste, into a city of Judah; and entered into the house of Zacharias and 41 saluted Elisabeth. And it came to pass, when Elisabeth heard the salutation of Mary, the babe leaped in her womb; and Elisabeth was filled 42 with the Hely Chest; and stellifted up her voice with a level own and
- 42 with the Holy Ghost; and she lifted up her voice with a loud cry, and said, Blessed art thou among women, and blessed is the fruit of thy 43 womb. And whence is this to me, that the mother of my Lord should
- 44 come unto me? For behold, when the voice of thy salutation came 45 into mine ears, the babe leaped in my womb for joy. And blessed is she that 1 believed; for there shall be a fulfilment of the things which 46 have been spoken to her from the Lord. And Mary said, My soul doth magnify the Lord, 47 And my spirit hath rejoiced in God my Saviour.

48 For he hath looked upon the low estate of his ²handmaiden: For behold, from henceforth all generations shall call me blessed.

49 For he that is mighty hath done to me great things; And holy is his name.

50 And his mercy is unto generations and generations On them that fear him.

51 He hath shewed strength with his arm; He hath scattered the proud 3 in the imagination of their heart.

§ 5. BIRTH OF JOHN THE BAPTIST, AND HIS DESERT LIFE.

Hill Country of Judea.

Luke 1:57-80.

57 Now Elisabeth's time was fulfilled that she should be delivered; 58 and she brought forth a son. And her neighbors and her kinsfolk heard that the Lord had magnified his mercy toward her; and they 59 rejoiced with her. And it came to pass on the eighth day, that they came to circumcise the child; and they would have called him Zacha-60 rias, after the name of his father. And his mother answered and 61 said, Not so; but he shall be called John. And they said unto her, 62 There is none of thy kindred that is called by this name. And they 63 made signs to his father, what he would have him called. And he

64 asked for a writing tablet, and wrote, saying, His name is John. And they marvelled all. And his mouth was opened immediately, and his 65 tongue loosed, and he spake, blessing God. And fear came on all that dwelt round about them: and all these sayings were noised abroad 66 throughout all the hill country of Judea. And all that heard them

66 throughout all the hill country of Judea. And all that heard them laid them up in their heart, saying, What then shall this child be? For the hand of the Lord was with him.

77 And his father Zacharias was filled with the Holy Ghost, and prophesied, saving.

Blessed be the Lord, the God of Israel;

For he hath visited and wrought redemption for his people,

69 And hath raised up a horn of salvation for us In the house of his servant David

- 70 (As he spake by the mouth of his holy prophets which have been since the world began),
- 71 Salvation from our enemies, and from the hand of all that hate us:

72 To show mercy towards our fathers, And to remember his holy covenant;

73 The oath which he sware unto Abraham our father,

74 To grant unto us that we being delivered out of the hand of our enemies Should serve him without fear, 75 In holiness and righteousness before him all our days.

76 Yea and thou, child, shalt be called the prophet of the Most High: For thou shalt go before the face of the Lord to make ready his ways:

77 To give knowledge of salvation unto his people

In the remission of their sins,

78 Because of the ¹tender mercy of our God, ²Whereby the dayspring from on high ³shall visit us, 79 To shine upon them that sit in darkness and the shadow of death; To guide our feet into the way of peace.

80 And the child grew, and waxed strong in spirit, and was in the deserts till the day of his shewing unto Israel.*

§6. Annunciation to Joseph of the Birth of Jesus.

Nazareth.

Matt. 1:18-25

18 Now the ¹birth ²of Jesus Christ was on this wise: When his mother Mary had been betrothed to Joseph, before they came together she 19 was found with child of the ³Holy Ghost. And Joseph her husband, being a righteous man, and not willing to make her a public example, 20 was minded to put her away privily. But when he thought on these 20 was minded to put her away privily. But when he thought on these things, behold, an angel of the Lord appeared unto him in a dream, saying, Joseph, thou son of David, fear not to take unto thee Mary 21 thy wife: for that which is 4conceived in her is of the Holy Ghost. And she shall bring forth a son; and thou shalt call his name JESUS:

22 for it is he that shall save his people from their sins. Now all this is come to pass, that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the Lord through the prophet, saying.

Behold, the virgin shall be with child, and shall bring forth a son,

And they shall call his name 5Immanuel;

- 24 which is, being interpreted, God with us. And Joseph arose from his sleep, and did as the angel of the Lord commanded him, and took unto 25 him his wife; and knew her not till she had brought forth a son.
- Or, generation: as in ver. 1 in § 3.
 Some ancient authorities read of the Christ.
 Or, Holy Spirit.
 Gr. begotten.
 Gr. Emmanuel.

§ 7. Birth of Jesus.

Bethlehem. Probably B.C. 5.

Luke 2:1-7.

1 Now it came to pass in those days, there went out a decree from 2 Cæsar Augustus, that all the ¹world should be enrolled. This was the first enrolment made when Quirinius was governor of Syria. 3 And all went to enrol themselves, every one to his own city.* And 4 Joseph also went up from Galilee, out of the city of Nazareth, into Jubdea. to the city of David, which is ealled Bethlehen, because he was of the house and family of David; to enrol himself with Mary, who was 6 betrothed to him, being great with child. And it came to pass, while they were there, the days were fulfilled that she should be delivered. 7 And she brought forth her firstborn son; and she wrapped him in swaddling clothes, and laid him in a manger, because there was no room for them in the inn.

1. Gr. inhabited earth.

^{*}Observe how the ruler of the civilized world is unconsciously bringing it about that the Messiah, the son of David, shall be born at Bethlehem, though his mother's home was Nazarth. All the previous history of Rome and of Israei gathers about this manger. As to Quirinins, and as to the probable time of the Saviour's birth, see Note at the end of the book, $7$.

§ 8. Angels Proclaim to Shepherds that the Messiah is Born at Bethlehem.

Near Bethlehem.

Luke 2:8-20.

8 And there were shepherds in the same country abiding in the field, 9 and keeping ¹watch by night over their flock. And an angel of the Lord stood by them, and the glory of the Lord shone round about 10 them, and they were sore afraid. And the angel said unto them, Be 11 not afraid; for behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy which shall be to all the people: for there is born to you this day in the city 12 of David, a Saviour which is ²Christ the Lord. And this is the sign unto you; Ye shall find a babe wrapped in swaddling clothes, and lying 13 in a manger. And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God, and saying,

14 Glory to God in the highest,

And on earth 3 peace among 4 men in whom he is well pleased.

- 15 And it came to pass, when the angels went away from them into heaven, the shepherds said one to another, Let us now go even unto Bethlehem, and see this 5thing that is come to pass, which the Lord 16 hath made known unto us. And they came with haste, and found 17 both Mary and Joseph, and the babe lying in the manger. And when they saw it, they made known concerning the saying which was spok-18 en to them about this child. And all that heard it wondered at the 19 things which were spoken unto them by the shepherds. But Mary 20 kept all these 6sayings, pondering them in her heart. And the shepherds returned, glorifying and praising God for all the things that they had heard and seen, even as it was spoken unto them.
- 1. Or, night-watches. 2. Or, Anointed Lord. 3 Many ancient authorities read peace, good pleasure among men. 4. Gr. men of good pleasure. 5. Or, saying. 6. Or, things.

Next, in & 9-13 we find certain events connected with Jesus' infancy and childhood.

§ 9. CIRCUMCISION OF JESUS, AND PRESENTATION IN THE TEMPLE. Bethlehem and Jerusalem.

Luke 2:21-38.

- 21 And when eight days were fulfilled for circumcising him, his name was called JESUS, which was so called by the angel before he was conceived in the womb.
- 22 And when the days of their purification according to the law of 23 Moses were fulfilled, they brought him up to Jerusalem, to present him to the Lord (as it is written in the law of the Lord, Every male that openeth the womb, shall be called hely to the Lord), and to offer 24 a specifical according to that which is said in the law of the Lord.

Matt. 2:1-12.

1 Now when Jesus was born in Bethlehem of Judea in the days of 2 Herod the king, behold, 1 wise men from the east came to Jerusalem, saying, 2 Where is he that is born King of the Jews? for we saw his 3 star in the east, and are come to worship him. And when Herod the 4 king heard it, he was troubled, and all Jerusalem with him. And gathering together all the chief priests and scribes of the people, he 5 inquired of them where the Christ should be born. And they said unto him, In Bethlehem of Judea: for thus it is written 3 by the prophet.

6 And thou Bethlehem, land of Judah,

Art in no wise least among the princes of Judah; For out of thee shall come forth a governor, Which shall be shepherd of my people Israel.

7 Then Herod privily called the wise men, and learned of them 8 earefully 4 what time the star appeared. And he sent them to Bethlehem, and said, Go and search out carefully concerning the young child; and when ye have found him, bring me word, that I also may 9 come and worship him. And they, having heard the king, went their way; and lo, the star, which they saw in the east, went be-

PART III.

BEGINNINGS OF OUR LORD'S MINISTRY.†

In all parts of the Holy Land, lasting several months.

For the most part probably in A.D. 27.

This early ministry divides itself into the Baptism and Temptation (§ 15, 16), the first calling of disciples (§ 17, 18), the beginning of his work in Galilee (§ 19, 20), the opening ministry in Judea (§ 21, 22), the ministry in Samaria and return to Galilee (§ 23).

§15. Jesus Baptized by John in the Jordan.

Bethany beyond Jordan.

Matt. 3:13-17.

Mark 1:9-11.

Luke 3:21, 22,

Then cometh Jesus from Galilee to the Jordan unto John, to be baptized of him. 14 But John would have hindered him, saying, I have need to be baptized of thee, and comest thou to 15 me? But Jesus answering said unto him, Suffer 'it now: for thus it becometh us to fulfil all right-Then he eousness.

9 And it came to pass in those days, that Jesus came from Nazareth of Galilee, and was baptized of John in the Jordan.

* One may easily put together all that we are told of John the Baptist. In Sections 2, 4, 5, 14, 15, 17, 18, 22, 23(a), 45, 56. Comp. § 109, and Acts 18:25; 19:1-7; and the general introductory statement in John 1:6-15.

[†] The precise duration of this early ministry cannot be determined. Our Lord's baptism must have been at least two months before the Passover (§ 16, 20), and may have been some weeks or mooths earlier. Then the highly successful ministry in Judea after the Passover must have lasted several months, John 3:22 (§ 22); 4:1-3 (§ 22). If the "yet four months" in John 4:25 (§ 23) be understood to be not a common saying as to the usual interval between seedtime and harvest, but a statement that it was then just four months before harvest, that would make the Judean ministry extend eight months after the Passover. But this interpretation is upon the whole improbable, and we can only say that the opening ministry lasted several months. The time occupied makes very little difference for our understanding the events and discourses.

And when the wine failed, the mother of Jesus 4 saith unto him, They have no wine. And Jesus saith unto her, Wo-5 man, what have I to do with thee? mine hour is not yet come. His mother saith unto the servants, Whatsoever he saith unto you, do it. 6 Now there were six waterpots of stone set there after the Jews' man-7 ner of purifying, containing two or three firkins apiece. Jesus saith 8 unto them, Fill the waterpots with water. And they filled them up to the brim. And he saith unto them, Draw out now, and bear unto 9 the 'ruler of the feast. And they bare it. And when the ruler of the feast tasted the water 2 now become wine, and knew not whence it was (but the servants which had drawn the water knew), the ruler of the 10 feast calleth the bridegroom, and saith unto him, Every man setteth on first the good wine; and when men have drunk freely, then that 11 which is worse: thou hast kept the good wine until now. Jesus answered and said unto them, Destroy this 'temple, and in three days I 20 will raise it up. The Jews therefore said, Forty and six years was 21 this 'temple in building, and wilt thou raise it up in three days? But 22 he spake of the 'temple of his body. When therefore he was raised from the dead, his disciples remembered that he spake this; and they believed the scripture, and the word which Jesus had said.

Jesus answered, Verily, verily, I say unto thee, Except a man be born of water and 6 the Spirit, he cannot enter into the kingdom of God. That which is born of the flesh is flesh; and that which is born of the Spirit is spirit. 7 Marvel not that I said unto thee, Ye must be born 2 anew. 2 The wind 8 bloweth where it listeth, and thou hearest the voice thereof, but knowest not whence it cometh, and whither it goeth: so is every one 9 that is born of the Spirit. § 22. EARLY MINISTRY IN JUDEA, AND JOHN'S RENEWED TESTIMONY.

Judea and Ænon.

John 3:22-36.

22 After these things came Jesus and his disciples into the land of 23 Judea; and there he tarried with them, and baptized. And John also was baptizing in Ænon near to Salim, because there 'was much water 24 there; and they came, and were baptized. For John was not yet cast 25 into prison. There arose therefore a questioning on the part of John's 26 disciples with a Jew about purifying. And they came unto John, and said to him, Rabbi, he that was with thee beyond Jordan, to whom thou hast borne witness, behold, the same baptizeth, and all men 27 come to him. John answered and said, A man can receive nothing, 28 except it have been given him from heaven. Ye yourselves bear me

John 4:5-42.

5 So he cometh to a city of Samaria, called Sychar, near to the parcel of ground that Jacob gave to his son Joseph; and Jacob's 'well was *Up to this point, our Lord's ministry has run parallel to that of John. His first disciples were gained in $18, probably some others at the Passover, $21, and certainly many in Judea, $22, until at length he is surpassing John, $23 (a).

The place of John's imprisonment was Machaerus, east of the Dead Sea.

John 4:5-42.

Jesus therefore, being wearied with his journey, sat 2thus by 7 the well. It was about the sixth hour. There cometh a woman of 8 Samaria to draw water: Jesus saith unto her, Give me to drink. For 9 his disciples were gone away into the city to buy food. The Samaritan woman therefore saith unto him, How is it that thou, being a Jew, askest drink of me, which am a Samaritan woman? For Jews 10 have no dealings with Samaritans.) Jesus answered and said unto her, If thou knewest the gift of God, and who it is that saith to thee. Give me to drink; thou wouldest have asked of him, and he would 11 have given thee living water. The woman saith unto him, Sir, thou hast nothing to draw with, and the well is deep: from whence then 12 hast thou that living water? Art thou greater than our father Jacob, which gave us the well, and drank thereof himself, and his sons, and 13 his cattle? Jesus answered and said unto her, Every one that drink-14 eth of this water shall thirst again: but whosoever drinketh of the water that I shall give him shall never thirst; but the water that 1 shall give him shall become in him a well of water springing up unto 15 eternal life. The woman saith unto him, Sir, give me this water, 16 that I thirst not, neither come all the way hither to draw. Jesus 17 saith unto her, Go, call thy husband, and come hither. The woman answered and said unto him, I have no husband. Jesus saith unto 18 her, Thou saidst well, I have no husband; for thou hast had five husbands; and he whom thou now hast is not thy husband; this hast thou 19 said truly. The woman saith unto him, 'Sir, I perceive that thou 20 art a prophet. Our fathers worshipped in this mountain; and ye say, 21 that in Jerusalem is the place where men ought to worship. Jesus saith unto her, Woman, believe me, the hour cometh, when neither 22 in this mountain, nor in Jerusalem, shall ye worship the Father. Ye worship that which ye know not; we worship that which we know; for 23 salvation is from the Jews. But the hour cometh, and now is, when the true worshippers shall worship the Father in spirit and truth: 24 for such doth the Father seek to be his worshippers. God is a 25 Spirit: and they that worship him must worship in spirit and truth. The woman saith unto him, I know that Messiah cometh (which is called Christ): when he is come, he will declare unto us all 26 things. Jesus saith unto her, I that speak unto thee am he. And upon this came his disciples; and they marvelled that he was speaking with a woman; yet no man said, What seekest thou? or, Why 28 speakest thou with her? So the woman left her waterpot, and went 29 away into the city, and saith to the men, Come, see a man, which told 30 me all things that ever I did: can this be the Christ? They went out 31 of the city, and were coming to him. In the mean while the disciples 32 prayed him, saying, Rabbi, cat. But he said to them, I have meat to 33 eat that ye know not. The disciples therefore said one to another, 34 Hath any man brought him aught to eat? Jesus saith unto them, My 35 meat is to do the will of him that sent me, and to accomplish his work. Say not ye, There are yet four months, and then cometh the harvest? behold, I say unto you, Lift up your eyes, and look on the fields, that 36 they are white already unto harvest. He that reapeth receiveth wages, and gathereth fruit unto life eternal; that he that soweth and 37 he that reapeth may rejoice together. (c) Arrival in Galilee.

John 4:43-45.

43 And after the two days he went forth from thence into Galilee. 44 For Jesus himself testified, that a prophet hath no honour in his own 45 country. So when he came into Galilee, the Galileans received him, having seen all the things that he did in Jerusalem at the feast: for they also went unto the feast.

*Notice that John also had recently been preaching to Samaritans (§22), and compare bereafter Philip's work in the city of Samarla (Acts 8:5 ff.)

†In this early ministry Jesus allowed himself to be regarded as the Messiah by his first disciples, §18, and personally declared that he was the Messiah to the woman at the well, §23 b (John 4:25), which many other Samaritans also personally believed (John 4:39, 42). He never declared this to the Jewish rulers at Jernsalem till the very end, § 125, doubtless because such an avowal would lead them to kill him, and so must not be made till his work in teaching the people and training his disciples should be completed. Compare what he says in § 64.

PART IV.

OUR LORD'S GREAT MINISTRY IN GALILEE

Probably more than a year,* in A.D. 27 and 28.

The matters presented by this great ministry may be grouped as follows: (1) He revisits Cana and Nazareth (325-26), then settles at Canernaum, and recalls four disciples (327-29). (2) He makes a journey about Galilee, teaching and healing on a large scale (§30), afterwards performing various miracles at Capernaum, and calling Matthew (331-36). (3) While attending a feast at Jerusalem he heals on the Sabbath, and afterwards does the same in Galilee, in both cases awakening a desire to kill him ($37-39). (4) Great crowds now attend his ministry in Galilee, and he chooses the twelve disciples, giving to them and the multitude the Sermon on the Mount ($40-42). (5) Various miracles, especially the one at Nain, spread his fame over all the land, and then comes a message of inquiry from John the Forerunner, which occasions special discourses (243-46). (6) Now we find him again journeying about Galilee (§47), and presently meet with the blasphemous accusation of league with Satur. and the opposition of his mother and brothers (248-50). (7) Then comes the first great group of Parables (251), immediately after which he crosses the Lake, heals the Gadarene demoniacs, and returning to Galilee revisits Nazareth (352-54). (8) Finally, he makes a third journey about Galilee, with the Twelve sent in advance (255), and presently the miracles of Jesus and his disciples excite the jealous fears of Herod Antipas (256).

*We cannot confidently determine the length of the ministry in Galliec. We are not sure whether it began in summer or late antumn (see footnote on §15). If the feat of John 5:1 was a Passover (see note at the end of the book on §37), the Gatilean ministry lasted at least 16 months, for it caded when another Passover was near, John 6:1(§57). Otherwise we should not certainly know that it lasted more than some 6 or 8 months. About the two subsequent not certainly know that it lasted more than some 6 or 8 months. About the two subsequent periods of our Lord's ministry we shall find no room to question that each lasted 6 months; but here we have to admit much uncertainty as to the time. After all, a determination of the time employed would be a matter of very little importance to our study of this period. Throughout this great ministry in Galilee, and the periods that will follow after, the reader ought to trace carefully the progress of the history along several lines: (1) the Saviour's progressive self-manifestation; (2) the gradual training of the Twelve who are to carry on his teaching and work after his death; (3) the deepening and spreading hostility of the Jewish influential classes and official rulers. By constantly observing these parallel lines of progress, it will be seen that the history and teachings of our 1 ord exhibit a vital growth, moving on to an end by him foreseen (Luke 12:50), when the hostility of the rulers will culminate as he before the Sanbedrin avows himself to be the Messiah, and the Twelve will be almost prepared to succeed him. prepared to succeed him.

When he heard that Jesus was come out of Judea into Galilee, he went unto him, and besought him that he would come 48 down, and heal his son; for he was at the point of death. Jesus there-49 fore said unto him, Except ye see signs and wonders, ye will in no 50 wise believe. The 'nobleman saith unto him. 'Sir, come down ere my child die. Jesus saith unto him, Go thy way; thy son liveth. The man believed the word that Jesus spake unto him, and he went his 51 way. And as he was now going down, his 'servants met him, saying, 52 that his son lived. So he inquired of them the hour when he began to amend. They said therefore unto him, Yesterday at the seventh 53 hour the fever left him. So the father knew that it was at that hour in which Jesus said unto him, Thy son liveth: and himself believed, 54 and his whole house. This is again the second sign that Jesus did, having come out of Judea into Galilee.

16 And he came to Nazareth, where he had been brought up: and he entered, as his custom was, into the synagogue on the sabbath day, 17 and stood up to read. And there was delivered unto him 'the book of the prophet Isaiah. And he opened the 'book, and found the place where it was written,

18 The Spirit of the Lord is upon me,

³Because he anointed me to preach ⁴good tidings to the poor: He hath sent me to proclaim release to the captives,

And recovering of sight to the blind, To set at liberty them that are bruised,

And he said unto them, Doubtless ye will say unto me this parable, Physician, heal thyself: whatsoever we have heard done at Capernaum, do also here in thine own country. And 24 he said, Verily I say unto you, No prophet is acceptable in his own 25 country. But of a truth I say unto you, There were many widows in Israel in the days of Elijah, when the heaven was shut up three years and six months, when there came a great famine over all the land; 26 and unto none of them was Elijah sent, but only to ⁵Zarephath, in the land of Sidon, unto a woman that was a widow. And there were many 27 lepers in Israel in the time of Elisha the prophet; and none of them was cleansed, but only Naaman the Syrian. And they were all filled 28 with wrath in the synagogue, as they heard these things; and they 29 rose up, and cast him forth out of the city, and led him unto the brow of the hill whereon their city was built, that they might throw him 30 down headlong. But he passing through the midst of them went his 31 way. And he came down to Capernaum, a city of Galilee.

In § 37-39 the Saviour seems to the Jews to break the Sabbath, and hence a great hostility, with design to kill him. He defends himself and his disciples (§ 38) by various arguments and personal claims.

§ 37. Attending a Feast in Jerusalem (probably the Passover), Jesus heals a man on the Sabbath, and defends

THIS ACTION.

John 5:1-47.

- 1 After these things there was 'a feast* of the Jews; and Jesus went up to Jerusalem.
- *This feast of John 5:1 was most probably a Passover (see note at end of volume, on § 37). If so, we should know that our Lord's public ministry lasted three years and a fraction, and that the great ministry in Galilee lasted some 18 to 20 months. Otherwise, we should know of only two years and a fraction for the former, and 6 to 8 months for the latter; as John gives three passovers beyond question (John 200; 6:4; 12:1), and our Lord's ministry began some time before the first of these (§15:20). If the feast of 5:1 was not a passover, it is quite impossible to determine what other feast it was. While one would be glad to settle these questions, if it were possible, yet it really does not matter as regards understanding our Lord's recorded history and feachings during the great ministry in Galilee, the only point of difference being that if this feast was a Passover we should conceive of the three journeys about Galilee as occupying a longer time, and including more extensive unrecorded labors in preaching and healing.

John 5:1-47.

Now there is in Jerusalem by the sheep gate a pool, which is called 3 in Hebrew Bethesda, having five porches. In these lay a multitude 5 of them that were sick, blind, halt, withereds. And a certain man was there, which had been thirty and eight years in his infirmity. 6 When Jesus saw him lying, and knew that he had been now a long time in that case, he saith unto him, Wouldst thou be made whole? 7 The sick man answered him, Sir, I have no man, when the water is troubled, to put me into the pool: but while I am coming, another 8 steppeth down before me. Jesus saith unto him, Arise, take up thy 9 bed, and walk. And straightway the man was made whole, and took up his bed and walked.

Now it was the sabbath on that day. So the Jews said unto him that was cured, It is the sabbath, and it is not lawful for thee to take 11 up thy bed. But he answered them, He that made me whole, the 12 same said unto me, Take up thy bed, and walk. They asked him, 13 Who is the man that said unto thee, Take up thy bed, and walk? But he that was healed wist not who it was: for Jesus had conveyed him-14 self away, a multitude being in the place. Afterward Jesus findeth him in the temple, and said unto him, Behold, thou art made whole: 15 sin no more, lest a worse thing befall thee. The man went away, and 16 told the Jews that it was Jesus which had made him whole. And for this cause did the Jews persecute Jesus, because he did these things 17 on the sabbath. But Jesus answered them, My Father worketh even 18 until now, and I work. For this cause therefore the Jews sought the more to kill him, because he not only brake the sabbath, but also called God his own Father, making himself equal with God.

Verily, verily, I say unto you, The Son can do nothing of himself,

Jesus therefore answered and said unto them, but what he seeth the Father doing; for what things soever he doeth, 20 these the Son also doeth in like manner. For the Father loveth the Son, and sheweth him all things that himself doeth; and greater 21 works than these will be shew him, that ye may marvel. For as the Father raiseth the dead and quickeneth them, even so the Son also 22 quickeneth whom he will. For neither doth the Father judge any man, but he hath given all judgement unto the Son; that all may 23 honour the Son, even as they honour the Father. He that honoureth 24 not the Son honoureth not the Father which sent him. Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that heareth my word, and believeth him that sent me, hath eternal life, and cometh not into judgement, but hath passed 25 out of death into life. Verily, verily, I say unto you, The hour cometh, and now is, when the dead shall hear the voice of the Son of 26 God; and they that hear shall live. For as the Father hath life in himself, even so gave he to the Son also to have life in himself: 27 and he gave him authority to execute judgement, because he is 6 the 28 Son of man. Marvel not at this: for the hour cometh, in which all done ill, unto the resurrection of judgement. I can of myself do nothing: as I hear, I judge: and my judgement is righteous; because I seek not mine own will, but the will of him that 31 sent me. If I bear witness of myself, my witness is not true. It is 32 another that beareth witness of me; and I know that the witness

But the witness which I receive is not from man: howbeit I say these things, that ye may be saved. 35 He was the lamp that burneth and shineth: and ye were willing to 36 rejoice for a season in his light. But the witness which I have is greater than that of John: for the works which the Father hath given me to accomplish, the very works that I do, bear witness of me, that 37 the Father hath sent me. And the Father which sent me, he hath borne witness of me. Ye have neither heard his voice at any time. 38 nor seen his form. And ye have not his word abiding in you: for 39 whom he sent, him ye believe not. 'Ye search the scriptures, because ye think that in them ye have eternal life; and these are they which 40 bear witness of me; and ye will not come to me, that ye may have life. 41 I receive not glory from men. But I know you, that ye have not the 42 love of God in yourselves. I am come in my Father's name, and ye 43 receive me not; if another shall come in his own name, him ye will 44 receive. How can ye believe, which receive glory one of another, and 45 the glory that cometh from 8 the only God ye seek not? *Observe that here more than a year before the crucifixion, and probably two years (i. e. if the feast of 5:1 was a passover), the hestility of the Jews of Jerusalem (comp. John 4:1) has reached the point of a desire to kill him, as a sabbath-breaker and a blasphemer (5:16-18). So we shall find him staying away from Jerusalem at the passover of John 6:4, and nutil the Tahernacies six months before the crucifixion (John 7:1-10, ?73, 74). Meantime, the hostility will go on increasing in other parts of the country (33), Mark 3:6; 48, etc.).—Notice also that in this discourse at Jerusalem our Lord repeatedly declares himself in a high sense the Son of God (compare in $40), and the appointed judge of mankind (ver. 27), and says that Moses wrote concerning him (ver, 46). All this indicated that he was the Messlah, but he did not expressly assert it. That would have precipitated the collision, for to claim to be the Messiah would in the view of the Jewish rulers involve political consequences (since they expected the Messiah) be a king), and many of the rulers cared far more for politics than for religion. Comp. John 11:48.

*Matthew postpones giving the names of the Twelve till they are sent out to preach in Galilee (§ 55). There is a fourth list in Acts 1:13. See the four compared in note at the end of this volume, on § 41.

There is little doubt that the discourses given by Matthew and Luke are the same, Matthew locating it on "the mountain," and Luke "on a level place," which might easily be a level spot on a mountain. (See note at end of this book, on § 42.) Observe that they begin and end alike, and pursue the same general order. Luke omits various matters of special interest to Mattnew's Jewish readers (e. g. Matt. 5:17-42), and other matters that he himself will give elsewhere (e. g. Luke 11:1-4; 12:22-31); while Luke has a few sentences (as ver. 24-25, 22-30), which are not given by Matthew.

Ye are the light 15 of the world. A city set on a hill cannot be hid. Neither do men light a lamp, and put it under the bushel, but on the stand; and it 16 shineth unto all that are in the house. Even so let your light shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father which is in heaven.

(c) Relation of the Messianic teaching to the Law, and to the current teaching.

Matt. 5:17-48; Luke 6:27-36.

17 Think not that I came to destroy the law or the prophets: I came 18 not to destroy but to fulfil. For verily I say unto you, Till heaven and earth pass away, one jot or one tittle shall in no wise pass away from 19 the law, till all things be accomplished. Whosoever therefore shall break one of these least commandments, and shall teach men so, shall be called least in the kingdom of heaven: but whosoever shall do and 20 teach them, he shall be called great in the kingdom of heaven. For I say unto you, that except your righteousness shall exceed the right-courses of the scribes and Pharisees, ye shall in no wise enter into the kingdom of heaven.

21 Ye have heard that it was said to them of old time, Thou shalt not 22 kill; and whosoever shall kill shall be in danger of the judgement: but I say unto you, that every one who is angry with his brother 'shall be in danger of the judgement. and whosoever shall say to his brother 'Raca, shall be in danger of the council; and whosoever shall 23 say, 'Thou fool, shall be in danger 'of the 'hell of fire. Verily I say unto thee, Thou shalt by no means

29 And if thy right eye causeth thee to stumble, pluck it out, and east it from thee; for it is profitable for thee that oue of thy members should

30 perish, and not thy whole body be east into 'hell.' And if thy right hand causeth thee to stumble, cut it off, and cast it from thee: for it is profitable for thee that one of thy members should perish, and not thy 31 whole body go into 'hell. It was said also, Whosoever shall put 32 away his wife, let him give her a writing of divorcement: but I say unto you, that every one that putteth away his wife, saving for the cause of fornication, maketh her an adulteress; and whosoever shall marry her when she is put away committeth adultery.

33 Again, ye have heard that it was said to them of old time, Thou shalt not forswear thyself, but shalt perform unto the Lord thine 34 oaths: but I say unto you, Swear not at all: neither by the heaven, for 35 it is the throne of God; nor by the earth, for it is the footstool of his 36 feet; nor by Jerusalem, for it is the city of the great King. (e) Single-hearted devotion to God, as opposed to worldly aims and anxieties.

Matt. 6:19-34.

Lay not up for yourselves treasures upon the earth, where moth and 20 rust doth consume, and where thieves break through and steal: but lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor 21 rust doth consume, and where thieves do not break through nor 22 steal: for where thy treasure is, there will thy heart be also. The lamp of the body is the eye: if therefore thine eye be single, thy 23 whole body shall be full of light. But if thine eye be evil, thy whole body shall be full of darkness. If therefore the light that is in thee 24 be darkness, how great is the darkness! No man can serve two masters: for either he will hate the one, and love the other; or else he will hold to one, and despise the other. Ye cannot serve God and 25 mammon. Therefore I say unto you, Be not auxious for your life, what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drink; nor yet for your body, what ye shall put on. Is not the life more than the food, and the body 26 than the raiment? Behold, the birds of the heaven, that they sow not, neither do they reap, nor gather into barns; and your heavenly Father feedeth them. Or what man is there of you, who, if his son shall ask him for a loaf, will 10 give him a stone; or if he shall ask for a fish, will give him a serpent?

11 If ye then, being evil, know how to give good gifts unto your children, how much more shall your Father which is in heaven give good things mustard seed, which a man took, 32 and sowed in his field: which indeed is less than all seeds: but when it is grown, it is greater than the herbs, and becometh a tree, so that the birds of the heaven come and lodge in the branches thereof.

- 33 Another parable spake he unto them; The kingdom of heaven is like unto leaven, which a woman took, and hid in three 'measures of meal, till it was all leavened.
- 34 All these things spake Jesus 33 in parables unto the multitudes; and without a parable spake he 35 nothing unto them: that it might be fulfilled which was spoken 2by

Matt. 13:36-53.

36 Then he left the multitudes, and went into the house: and his disciples came unto him, saying, Explain unto us the parable of the tares 37 of the field. And he answered and said, He that soweth the good seed 38 is the Son of man; and the field is the world; and the good seed, these 39 are the sons of the kingdom; and the tares are the sons of the evil one; and the enemy that sowed them is the devil: and the harvest is the 40 end of the world; and the reapers are angels. As therefore the tares are gathered up and burned with fire; so shall it be in the end of the 41 world. The Son of man shall send forth his angels, and they shall gather out of his kingdom all things that cause stumbling, and them 42 that do iniquity, and shall east them into the furnace of fire: there 43 shall be the weeping and gnashing of teeth. Then shall the right-eous shine forth as the sun in the kingdom of their Father. He that hath ears, let him hear.

4 The kingdom of heaven is like unto a treasure hidden in the field; which a man found, and hid; and in his joy he goeth and selleth all that he hath, and buyeth that field.

Matt. 13:36-53.

Again, the kingdom of heaven is like unto a man that is a merchant 46 seeking goodly pearls: and having found one pearl of great price, he went and sold all that he had, and bought it.

Again, the kingdom of heaven is like unto a enet, that was cast into 48 the sea, and gathered of every kind; which, when it was filled, they drew up on the beach; and they sat down, and gathered the good into

49 vessels, but the bad they east away. So shall it be in the end of the world: the angels shall come forth, and sever the wicked from among 50 the righteous, and shall cast them into the furnace of fire: there shall be the weeping and gnashing of teeth.

Have ye understood all these things? They say unto him, Yea. 52 And he said unto them. Therefore every scribe who hath been made a disciple to the kingdom of heaven is like unto a man that is a householder, which bringeth forth out of his treasure things new and old.

*The long famous instance of "discrepancy" as in the place in this narrative has been *The long famous instance of "discrepancy" as io the place in this narrative has been cleared up in recent years by the decision of textual critics that the correct text in Luke is Gerssenes, as well as in Mark, and by Dr. Thomson's discovery of a ruin on the lake shore, named Khersa (Gersaa). If this village was included (a very natural supposition) in the district belonging to the city of Gadara, some miles south-eastward, then the locality could be described as either in the country of the Gadarenes, or in the country of the Grassenes. The narratives cannot be said to contradict each other and thus lack credibility, when the apparent contradiction can be explained by a thoroughly natural and reasonable supposition. Six months, beginning a year before the Crucifixion, and thus probably from spring to autumn of A.D. 29 (or 28).

Four separate withdrawals from Galilee are given, in $57, 61, 62, 63-67. Notice that in every case he keeps out of Herod's territory, and in every case he goes to the mountains.

Leaving the hot shores of the Lake of Galilee, he spent the summer in mountain districts around, restling, and instructing the Twelve.

†The Bethsalda of Luke 9:10 was evidently the eastern Bethsalda which the Tetrarch Philip had named Bethsalda Julias, while that of Mark 6:45 was the western Berhsalda, neur Capernaum. The territory belonging to Bethsaida Julias would naturally extend some distance down the lake.

§ 59. HE DISCOURSES IN THE CROWDED SYNAGOGUE AT CAPERNAUM, ON EATING SPIRITUAL FOOD, AND ON THE NECESSITY OF A DIVINE TEACHING AND DRAWING IN ORDER TO TRUE DISCIPLESHIP. (COMP. § 92.)

John 6:22-71.

On the morrow the multitude which stood on the other side of the sea saw that there was none other boat there, save one, and that Jesus entered not with his disciples into the boat, but that his disciples went 23 away alone (howbeit there came 2boats from Tiberias nigh unto the place where they are the bread after the Lord had given thanks); 24 when the multitude therefore saw that Jesus was not there, neither his disciples, they themselves got into the 2boats, and came to Caper-25 naum, seeking Jesus. And when they found him on the other side of 26 the sea, they said unto him, Rabbi, when camest thou hither? Jesus answered them and said, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Ye seek me, not because ye saw signs, but because ye are of the loaves and were 27 filled. Work not for the meat which perisheth, but for the meat which abideth unto eternal life, which the Son of man shall give unto 28 you: for him the Father, even God, hath sealed. They said therefore unto him, What must we do, that we may work the works of God? 29 Jesus answered and said unto them, This is the work of God, that ye 30 believe on him whom she hath sent. They said therefore unto him, What then doest thou for a sign, that we may see, and believe thee? 31 what workest thou? Our fathers ate the manna in the wilderness: as 32 it is written, He gave them bread out of heaven to eat. Jesus there-that gave you the bread out of heaven: but my Father giveth you the 33 true bread out of heaven. For the bread of God is that which cometh 34 down out of heaven, and giveth life unto the world. They said there-35 fore unto him. Lord, ever more give us this bread. Jesus said unto

38 in no wise cast out. For I am come down from heaven, not to do 39 mine own will, but the will of him that sent me. And this is the will of him that sent me, that of all that which he hath given me I should 40 lose nothing, but should raise it up at the last day. For this is the will of my Father, that every one that beholdeth the Son, and believeth on him, should have eternal life; and I will raise him up at the last day.

the last day. The Jews therefore murmured concerning him, because he said, I 42 am the bread which came down out of heaven. And they said, Is not this Jesus, the son of Joseph, whose father and mother we know? how 43 doth he now say, I am come down out of heaven? Jesus answered 44 and said unto them, Murmur not among yourselves. No man can come to me, except the Father which sent me draw him: and I will 45 raise him up in the last day. It is written in the prophets, And they shall all be taught of God. Every one that hath heard from the 46 Father, and hath learned, cometh unto me. Not that any man hath seen the Father, save he which is from God, he hath seen the Father. 47 Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that believeth hath eternal life. I 48 am the bread of life. Your fathers did eat the manna in the wilder-49 ness, and they died. This is the bread which cometh down out of 50 heaven, that a man may eat thereof, and not die. I am the living 51 bread which came down out of heaven: if any man eat of this bread, he shall live for ever: yea and the bread which I will give is my flesh, 52 The Jews therefore strove one with another, saying, How can this 53 man give us his flesh to eat? Jesus therefore said unto them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Except ye eat the flesh of the Son of man and 54 drink his blood, ye have not life in yourselves. He that eateth my 55 flesh and drinketh my blood hath eternal life; and I will raise him up at the last day. For my flesh is 5 meat indeed, and my blood is 6 drink 56 indeed. He that eateth my flesh and drinketh my blood abideth in 57 me, and I in him. As the living Father sent me, and I live because of the Father; so he that eateth me, he also shall live because of me. 58 This is the bread which came down out of heaven: not as the fathers 59 did eat, and died: he that eateth this bread shall live for ever. These

Many therefore of his disciples, when they heard this, said, This is 61 a hard saying; who can hear sit? But Jesus knowing in himself that his disciples murmured at this, said unto them, Doth this cause you 62 to stumble? What then if ye should behold the Son of man ascending 63 where he was before? It is the spirit that quickeneth; the flesh 64 profitcth nothing: the words that I have spoken unto you are spirit, and are life. But there are some of you that believe not. For Jesus knew from the beginning who they were that believed not, and who it

65 was that should betray him. And he said, For this cause have I said unto you, that no man can come unto me, except it be given unto him of the Father.

Upon this many of his disciples went back, and walked no more with 67 him. Jesus said therefore unto the twelve, Would ye also go away? 68 Simon Peter answered him, Lord, to whom shall we go? thou hast 69 the words of eternal life. And we have believed and know that thou 70 art the Holy One of God. Jesus answered them, Did not I choose you 71 the twelve, and one of you is a devil? CLOSING MINISTRY, IN ALL PARTS OF THE HOLY LAND. SIX MONTHS PRECEDING THE CRUCIFIXION (NOT INCLUDING THE LAST WEEK).*

Time probably from autumn of A. D. 29 to spring of A. D. 30 (or a year earlier.)

This comprises $75-103, of which $75-79 contain discourses at the Feast of Tabernacles, given by John only.

§75. At the Feast of Tabernacles Jesus Teaches in the Tem-Ple, and People Wonder Whether He is the Messiah.

ATTEMPT OF THE RULERS TO ARREST HIM.

John 7:11-52.

The Jews therefore sought him at the feast, and said, Where is he? 12 And there was much murmuring among the multitudes concerning him. Some said, He is a good man; others said, Nay, but he leads the multitude 13 astray. Yet no one spoke openly concerning him, for fear of the Jews. But when it was now the midst of the feast Jesus went up into the 15 temple, and taught. The Jews therefore marvelled, saying, How 16 knoweth this man letters, having never learned? Jesus therefore answered them, and said, My teaching is not mine, but his that sent 17 me. If any man willeth to do his will, he shall know of the teaching, 18 whether it be of God, or whether I speak from myself. He that speaketh from himself seeketh his own glory: but he that seeketh the glory of him that sent him, the same is true, and no unrighteousness is in Did not Moses give you the law, and yet none of you doeth the 20 law? Why seek ye to kill me? The multitude answered, Thou hast a 21 'devil: who seeketh to kill thee? Jesus answered and said unto them, 22 I did one work, and ye all 2marvel. For this cause hath Moses given you circumcision (not that it is of Moses, but of the fathers); and on 23 the sabbath ye circumcise a man. If a man receiveth circumcision on the sabbath, that the law of Moses may not be broken; are ye wroth with me, because I made a man every whit whole on the sabbath? 24 Judge not according to appearance, but judge righteous judgement. 25Some therefore of them of Jerusalem said, Is not this he whom they 26 seek to kill? And lo, he speaketh openly, and they say nothing unto him. Can it be that the rulers indeed know that this is the Christ? 27 Howbeit we know this man whence he is: but when the Christ cometh, 28 no one knoweth whence he is. Jesus therefore cried in the temple, teaching and saying, Ye both know me, and know whence I am; and

*The Feast of Tabernacles was six months before the Passover, and this period of six months was divided into two nearly equal parts by the Feast of the Dedication (§ 89).—As to the combination of Luke and John for this portion of the history, see the end of this volume, Note on § 75.

I am not come of myself, but he that sent me is true, whom ye 29 know not. I know him; because I am from him, and he sent me. 30 They sought therefore to take him: and no man laid his hands on him, 31 because his hour was not yet come. But of the multitude many believed on him; and they said, When the Christ shall come, will he do 32 more signs than those, which this man hath done? The Pharisees heard the multitude murmuring these things concerning him; and 33 the chief priests and the Pharisees sent officers to take him. Jesus therefore said, Yet a little while am I with you, and I go unto him 34 that sent me. Ye shall seek me, and shall not find me: and where I

35 am, ye cannot come. The Jews therefore said among themselves, Whither will this man go that we shall not find him? will he go unto

- 39 shall flow rivers of living water. But this spake he of the Spirit, which they that believed on him were to receive: for the Spirit was
- 40 not yet given; because Jesus was not yet glorified. Some of the multitude therefore, when they heard these words, said, This is of a truth 41 the prophet. Others said, This is the Christ. But some said, What,
- 42 doth the Christ come out of Galilee? Hath not the scripture said that the Christ cometh of the seed of David, and from Bethlehem, the
- 43 village where David was? So there arose a division in the multitude 44 because of him. And some of them would have taken him; but no man laid hands on him.
- The officers therefore came to the chief priests and Pharisees; and 46 they said unto them, Why did ye not bring him? The officers an-47 swered, Never man so spake. The Pharisees therefore answered 48 them, Are ye also led astray? Hath any of the rulers believed on § 77. JESUS CLAIMS TO BE THE SON OF GOD, AND TO HAVE EXISTED BEFORE ABRAHAM. ATTEMPT OF THE PEOPLE TO STONE HIM.

Jerusalem.

John 8:12-59.

12 Again therefore Jesus spake unto them, saying, I am the light of the world: he that followeth me shall not walk in the darkness, but 13 shall have the light of life. The Pharisees therefore said unto him, 14 Thou bearest witness of thyself: thy witness is not true. Jesus answered and said unto them, Even if I bear witness of myself, my witness is true; for I know whence I came, and whither I go; but ye 15 know not whence I come, or whither I go. Ye judge after the flesh; 16 I judge no man. Yea and if I judge, my judgement is true; for I am 17 not alone, but I and the Father that sent me. Yea and in your law it 18 is written, that the witness of two men is true. I am he that beareth witness of myself, and the Father that sent me beareth witness of me. 19 They said therefore unto him, Where is thy Father? Jesus answered, Ye know neither me, nor my Father: if ye knew me, ye would know 20 my Father also. These words spake he in the treasury, as he taught in the temple: and no man took him: because his hour was not yet come.

21 He said therefore again unto them, I go away, and ye shall seek 22 me, and shall die in your sin: whither I go, ye cannot come. The Jews therefore said, Will he kill himself, that he saith, Whither I 22 we cannot come.

23 go, yo cannot come? And he said unto them, Ye are from beneath: I 24 am from above: ye are of this world; I am not of this world. I said therefore unto you, that ye shall die in your sins: for except ye believe that I am he, ye shall die in your sins. They said therefore unto him, Who art thou? Jesus said unto them. Even that which I have 26 also spoken unto you from the beginning. I have many things to speak and to judge concerning you: howbeit he that sent mo is true; and the things which I heard from him, these speak I sunto the 27 world. They perceived not that he spake to them of the Father.

John 8:12-59.

28 Jesus therefore said, When ye have lifted up the Son of man, then shall ye know that I am he, and that I do nothing of myself, but as the 29 Father taught me, I speak these things. And he that sent me is with me: he hath not left me alone: for I do always the things that are 30 pleasing to him. As he spake these things, many believed on him. Jesus therefore said to those Jews which had believed him, If ye 32 abide in my word, then are ye truly my disciples; and ye shall know 33 the truth, and the truth shall make you free. They answered unto him, We be Abraham's seed, and have never yet been in bondage to 34 any man; how sayest thou, Ye shall be made free? Jesus answered them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Every one that committeth sin 35 is the bondservant of sin. And the bondservant abideth not in the 36 house for ever: the son abideth for ever. If therefore the Son shall 37 make you free, ye shall be free indeed. I know that ye are Abraham's seed; yet ye seek to kill me, because my word 5hath not free 38 course in you. I speak the things which I have seen with my Father; and ye also do the things which ye heard from your father. They an-39 swered and said unto him, Our Father is Abraham. Jesus saith unto them, If ye 'were Abraham's children, 'ye would do the works of 40 Abraham. But now ye seek to kill me, a man that hath told you the 41 truth, which I heard from God; this did not Abraham. Ye do the works of your father. They said unto him, We were not born of for-42 nication; we have one Father, even God. Jesus said unto them, If God were your Father, ye would love me: for I came forth and am come from God; for neither have I come of myself, but he sent me. 43 Why do ye not sunderstand my speech? Eren because ye cannot hear 44 my word. Ye are of your father, the devil, and the lusts of your father it is your will to do. He was a murderer from the beginning, ¹⁰and stood not in the truth, because there is no truth in him. ¹¹When he speaketh a lie, he speaketh of his own; for he is a liar, and the 45 father thereof. But because I say the truth, ye believe me not. 46 Which of you convicteth me of sin? If I say truth, why do ye not 47 believe me? He that is of God heareth the words of God; for this 48 cause ye hear them not, because ye are not of God. The Jews answered and said unto him, Say we not well that thou art a Samaritan, and 49 hast a ¹²devil? Jesus answered, I have not a ¹²devil; but I honour my 50 Father, and ye dishonour me. But I seek not mine own glory: there 51 is one that seeketh and judgeth. Verily, verily, I say unto you, If a 52 man keep my word, he shall never see death. The Jews said unto him, Now we know that thou hast a 12devil. Abraham is dead, and the prophets; and thou sayest. If a man keep my word, he shall never 53 taste of death. Art thou greater than our father Abraham, which is 54 dead? and the prophets are dead: whom makest thou thyself? Jesus answered, If I glorify myself, my glory is nothing: it is my Father 55 that glorifieth me; of whom ye say, that he is your God; and ye have not known him: but I know him; and if I should say, I know him not, I shall be like unto you, a liar: but I know him, and keep his word. 56 Your father Abraham rejoiced 13 to see my day; and he saw it, and was 57 glad. The Jews therefore said unto him, Thou art not yet fifty years 58 old, and hast thou seen Abraham? Jesus said unto them, Verily, 59 verily, I say unto you, Before Abraham 14was, I am. They took up

§78. Jesus Heals a Man Born Blind: The Rulers Forbid His BEING RECOGNIZED AS THE MESSIAH.

Jerusalem.

John 9:1-41.

1, 2 And as he passed by, he saw a man blind from his birth. And his disciples asked him, saying, Rabbi, who did sin, this man, or his 3 parents, that he should be born blind? Jesus answered, Neither did this man sin, nor his parents: but that the works of God should be 4 made manifest in him. We must work the works of him that sent 5 me, while it is day: the night cometh, when no man can work. When 6 I am in the world, I am the light of the world. When he had thus spoken, he spat on the ground, and made clay of the spittle, and 7 anointed his eyes with the clay, and said unto him, Go, wash in the 8 pool of Siloam (which is by interpretation, Sent). He went away therefore, and washed, and came seeing. The neighbours therefore, and they which saw him aforetime, that he was a beggar, said, Is not 9 this he that sat and begged? Others said, It is he; others said, No. 10 but he is like him. He said, I am he. They said therefore unto him, 11 How then were thine eyes opened? He answered, the man that is called Jesus made clay, and anointed mine eyes, and said unto me, Go to Siloam, and wash: so I went away and washed, and I received sight. 12 And they said unto him, Where is he? He saith, I know not. 13, 14 They bring to the Pharisees him that aforetime was blind. Now it was the sabbath on the day when Jesus made the clay, and opened Again therefore the Pharisees also asked him how he received his sight. And he said unto them, He put clay upon mine 16 eyes, and I washed, and do see. Some therefore of the Pharisees said, This man is not from God, because he keepeth not the sabbath. But 17 others said, How can a man that is a sinner do such signs? And there was a division among them. They say therefore unto the blind man again, What sayest thou of him, in that he opened thine eyes? And 18 he said, He is a prophet. The Jews therefore did not believe concerning him, that he had been blind, and had received his sight, until they called the parents of him that had received his sight, and asked 19 them, saying, Is this your son, who ye say was born blind? how then 20 doth he now see? His parents answered and said. We know that this 21 is our son, and that he was born blind: but how he now seeth, we know not; or who opened his eyes, we know not: ask him; he is of age;

John 9:1-41.

- 22 he shall speak for himself. These things said his parents, because they feared the Jews: for the Jews had agreed already, that if any man should confess him to be Christ, he should be put out of the 23 synagogue. Therefore said his parents, He is of age; ask him. 24 So they called the second time the man that was blind, and said unto 25 him, Give glory to God: we know that this man is a sinner. He therefore answered, Whether he be a sinner, I know not: one thing I know, 26 that, whereas I was blind, now I see. They said therefore unto him, 27 What did he to thee? how opened he thine eyes? He answered them, I told you even now, and ye did not hear: wherefore would ye hear it 28 again? would ve also become his disciples? And they revited him, 29 and said, Thou art his disciple, but we are disciples of Moses. We know that God hath spoken unto Moses: but as for this man, we know 30 not whence he is. The man answered and said unto them, Why, herein is the marvel, that ye know not whence he is, and yet he opened 31 mine eyes. We know that God heareth not sinners: but if any man 32 be a worshipper of God, and do his will, him he heareth. Since the world began it was never heard that any one opened the eyes of a man 33 born blind. If this man were not from God, he could do nothing. 34 They answered and said unto him, Thou wast altogether born in sins, and dost thou teach us? And they east him out. Jesus heard that they had cast him out; and finding him, he said,
- 36 Dost thou believe on 2 the Son of God? He answered and said, And 37 who is he, Lord, that I may believe on him? Jesus said unto him, 38 Thou hast both seen him, and he it is that speaketh with thee. And 39 he said, Lord, I believe. And he worshipped him. And Jesus said, For judgement came I into this world, that they which see not may 40 see; and that they which see may become blind. Those of the Pharisees which were with him heard these things, and said unto him, Are we 41 also blind? Jesus said unto them, If ye were blind, ye would have no sin: but now ye say, We see: your sin remaineth.

- § 79. JESUS INTIMATES THAT HE IS GOING TO DIE FOR HIS FLOCK, AND COME TO LIFE AGAIN.

Jerusalem.

John 10:1-21.

Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that entereth not by the door into the fold of the sheep, but climbeth up some other way, the same is a 2 thief and a robber. But he that entereth in by the door is 'the shep-3 herd of the sheep. To him the porter openeth; and the sheep hear his voice: and he calleth his own sheep by name, and leadeth them 4 out. When he hath put forth all his own, he goeth before them, and 5 the sheep follow him: for they know his voice. And a stranger will they not follow, but will flee from him: for they know not the voice of 6 strangers. This 'parable spake Jesus unto them: but they understood not what things they were which he spake unto them.

John 10:1-21.

Jesus therefore said unto them again, Verily, verily, I say unto you, 8 I am the door of the sheep. All that came before me are thieves and 9 robbers: but the sheep did not hear them. I am the door: by me if any man enter in, he shall be saved, and shall go in and go out, and 10 shall find pasture. The thief cometh not, but that he may steal, and kill, and destroy: I came that they may have life, and may shave it 11 abundantly. I am the good shepherd: the good shepherd layeth 12 down his life for the sheep. He that is a hireling, and not a shepherd, whose own the sheep are not, beholdeth the wolf coming, and leaveth the sheep, and fleeth, and the wolf snatcheth them, and scat-13 tereth them: he fleeth because he is a hireling, and careth not for the 14 sheep. I am the good shepherd; and I know mine own, and mine own 15 know me, even as the Father knoweth me, and I know the Father; 16 and I lay down my life for the sheep. And other sheep I have, which are not of this fold: them also I must bring, and they shall hear my 17 voice; and they shall become one flock, one shepherd. Therefore doth the Father love me, because I lay down my life, that I may take 18 it again. No one taketh it away from me, but I lay it down of myself. I have power to lay it down, and I have power to take it again. This commandment received I from my Father.

There arose a division again among the Jews because of these 20 words. And many of them said, He hath a 'devil, and is mad; why 21 hear ye him? Others said, These are not the sayings of one possessed with a 'devil. Can a 'devil open the eyes of the blind?

§ 80. Mission of the Seventy, and Their Return.

(Compare Mission of the Twelve in § 55.)

Probably in Judea.

Luke 10:1-24.

Now after these things the Lord appointed seventy others, and sent them two and two before his face into every city and place, 2 whither he himself was about to come. And he said unto them, The harvest is plenteous, but the labourers are few: pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that he send forth labourers into his harvest. 3 Go your ways: behold, I send you forth as lambs in the midst of 4 wolves. Carry no purse, no wallet, no shoes; and salute no man on 5 the way. And into whatsoever house ye shall enter, first say, Peace

Luke 10:1-24.

§81. JESUS ANSWERS A LAWYER'S QUESTION AS TO ETERNAL LIFE, GIVING THE PARABLE OF THE GOOD SAMARITAN.

Probably in Judea.

Luke 10:25-37.

25 And behold, a certain lawyer stood up and tempted him, saying, 26 Master, what shall I do to inherit eternal life? And he said unto 27 him, What is written in the law? how readest thou? And he answering said, Thou shalt love the Lord thy God 2with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy strength, and with all thy mind; 28 and thy neighbour as thyself. And he said unto him, Thou hast 29 answered right; do this, and thou shalt live. But he, desiring to 30 justify himself, said unto Jesus, And who is my neighbour? Jesus made answer and said, A certain man was going down from Jerusalem to Jericho; and he fell among robbers, which both stripped him and 31 beat him, and departed, leaving him half dead. And by chance a certain priest was going down that way: and when he saw him, he 32 passed by on the other side. And in like manner a Levite also, when 33 he came to the place, and saw him, passed by on the other side. But a certain Samaritan, as he journeyed, came where he was: and when 34 he saw him, he was moved with compassion, and came to him, and bound up his wounds, pouring on them oil and wine; and he set him on his own beast, and brought him to an inn, and took care of him.

Luke 10:25-37.

35 And on the morrow he took out two spence, and gave them to the host, and said, Take earo of him; and whatsoever thou spendest more, I, 36 when I come back again, will repay thee. Which of these three. thinkest thou, proved neighbour to him that fell among the robbers? 37 And he said, He that shewed mercy on him. And Jesus said unto him, Go, and do thou likewise.

JESUS THE GUEST OF MARTHA AND MARY.

Bethany, near Jerusalem.*

Luke 10:38-42.

Now as they went on their way, he entered into a certain village: and a certain woman named Martha received him into her house. 39 And she had a sister called Mary, which also sat at the Lord's feet, 40 and heard his word. But Martha was reumbered about much serving; and she came up to him, and said, Lord, dost thou not care that my sister did leave me to serve alone? bid her therefore that she help me. 41 But the Lord answered and said unto her, ²Martha, Martha, thou art 42 anxious and troubled about many things: *but one thing is needful; for Mary hath chosen the good part, which shall not be taken away from her.

§83. JESUS AGAIN GIVES A MODEL OF PRAYER (COMP. §42,D), AND EN-COURAGES HIS DISCIPLES TO PRAY.

Probably in Judea.

Luke 11:1-13.

And it came to pass, as he was praying in a certain place, that when he ceased, one of his disciples said unto him, Lord, teach us to pray, *There was another Bethany beyond Jordan ($17, 18, 89). The present Bethany, near Jerusalem, we shall visit again in $94, 104, and 117.

I say unto you, Though he will not rise and give him, because he is his friend, yet because of his im-9 portunity he will arise and give him bas many as he needeth. And I say unto you, Ask, and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find; 10 knock, and it shall be opened unto you. For every one that asketh receiveth: and he that seeketh findeth; and to him that knocketh it 11 shall be opened. And of which of you that is a father shall his son ask a bloaf, and he give him a stone? or a fish, and he for a fish give § 84. Blasphemous Accusation of League with Beelzebub.

(Compare § 48.)†

Probably in Judea.

Luke 11:14-36.

14 And he was easting out a 'devil which was dumb. And it came to pass, when the 'devil was gone out, the dumb man spake; and the 15 multitudes marvelled. But some of them said, 'By Beelzebub the 16 prince of the *devils casteth he out devils. And others, tempting 17 him, sought of him a sign from heaven. But he, knowing their thoughts, said unto them, Every kingdom divided against itself is tit is perfectly natural that the blasphemous accusation made in Galilee (§ 48), and probathis perfectly natural that the blasphemous accusation made in Galilee (§ 48), and probably more than once (§ 36), Matt. 9:31, should be repeated a year or so afterward in Judea or Perea, and that Jesus should make substantially the same argument in reply. This sort of thing occurs to every travelling religious teacher. Our Lord does not here give the solemn warning that such an accusation is really blaspheming against the Holy Spirit, and is unpardonable. (See § 86, Luke 12:10.) And the subsequent occurrences are quite different in the two cases. In § 48f. he afterwards goes out by the lake-side and gives the great group of parables, presently explaining some of them to the disciples in a house, and then crosses the lake to Gerasa, etc. Here is § 84, he breakhasts with a Pharisee, and utters such solemn woes against the Pharisees as are found only in the closing months of his ministry, and then gives to vast multitudes a series of instructions wholly unlike the great group of parables. So it is quite unsuitable to identify this occurrence with that of § 48.

brought to desolation; and a house divided against a house falleth. 18 And if Satan also is divided against himself, how shall bis kingdom 19 stand? because ye say that I east out 'devils' by Beelzebub. And if I ²by Beelzebub cast out ³devils, by whom do your sons cast them out? 20 therefore shall they be your judges. But if I by the finger of God 21 east out *devils, then is the kingdom of God come upon you. When the strong man fully armed guardeth his own court, his goods are in 22 peace: but when a stronger than he shall come upon him, and over-

And it came to pass, as he said these things, a certain woman out of the multitude lifted up her voice, and said unto him, Blessed is the 28 womb that bare thee, and the breasts which thou didst suck. But he said, Yea rather, blessed are they that hear the word of God, and keep it.

And when the multitudes were gathering together unto him, he began to say, This generation is an evil generation: it seeketh after a sign; and there shall no sign be given to it but the sign of Jonah.

30 For even as Jonah became a sign unto the Ninevites, so shall also the 31 Son of man be to this generation. The queen of the south shall rise up in the judgement with the men of this generation, and shall condemn them: for she came from the ends of the earth to hear the wis-

32 dom of Solomon: and behold, 'a greater than Solomon is here. The men of Nineveh shall stand up in the judgement with this generation and shall condemn it: for they repented at the preaching of Jonah; and behold, a greater than Jonah is here.

1 In the mean time, when 'the many thousands of the multitude were gathered together, insomuch that they trode one upon another, he began to 'say unto his disciples first of all, Beware ye of the leaven of 2 the Pharisees, which is hypocrisy. But I will warn you whom ye shall fear: Fear him, which after he hath killed hath spower to cast into shell; yea, I 6 say unto you, Fear him. Are not five sparrows sold for two farthings? 7 and not one of them is forgotten in the sight of God. But the very hairs of your head are all numbered. Fear not: ye are of more value 8 than many sparrows. And I say unto you, Every one who shall confess me before men, him shall the Son of man also confess before the 9 angels of God: but he that denieth me in the presence of men shall be 10 denied in the presence of the angels of God. And every one who shall speak a word against the Son of man, it shall be forgiven him: but unto him that blasphemeth against the Holy Spirit it shall not be 11 forgiven. And when they bring you before the synagogues, and the rulers, and the authorities, be not anxious how or what ye shall an-12 swer, or what ye shall say: for the Holy Spirit shall teach you in that very hour what ye ought to say. And one out of the multitude said unto him, Master, bid my brother 14 divide the inheritance with me. But he said unto him, Man, who 15 made me a judge or a divider over you? And he said unto them, Take heed, and keep yourselves from all covetousness: 8 for a man's life consisteth not in the abundance of the things which he possesseth. 16 And he spake a parable unto them, saying, The ground of a certain 17 rich man brought forth plentifully: and he reasoned within himself, saying, What shall I do, because I have not where to bestow my 18 fruits? And he said, This will I do: I will pull down my barns, and build greater; and there will I bestow all my corn and my goods. 19 And I will say to my 'soul, 'Soul, thou hast much goods laid up for 20 many years; take thine ease, eat, drink, be merry. But God said unto him, Thou foolish one, this night 10 is thy 9 soul required of thee; 21 and the things which thou hast prepared, whose shall they be? So is he that layeth up treasure for himself, and is not rich toward God. 22 And he said unto his disciples, Therefore I say unto you, Be not anxious for your "life, what ye shall eat; nor yet for your body, what ye shall put 23 on. For the "life is more than the food, and the body than the rai-24 ment. Consider the ravens, that they sow not, neither reap; which have no store-chamber nor barn; and God feedeth them; of how much 25 more value are ye than the birds! And which of you by being anx-26 ious can add a cubit unto his 12 stature? If then ye are not able to do even that which is least, why are ye anxious concerning the rest? 27 Consider the lilies, how they grow: they toil not, neither do they spin; yet I say unto you, Even Solomon in all his glory was not array-28 ed like one of these. But if God doth so clothe the grass in the field, which to-day is, and to-morrow is east into the oven; how much more 29 shall he clothe you, O ye of little faith? And seek not ye what ye shall 30 eat, and what ye shall drink, neither be ye of doubtful mind. For all these things do the nations of the world seek after: but your Father 31 knoweth that ye have need of these things. Howbeit seek ye 18 his 32 kingdom, and these things shall be added unto you. Fear not, little flock; for it is your Father's good pleasure to give you the kingdom. 33 Sell that ye have, and give alms; make for yourselves purses which

35, 36 Let your loins be girded about, and your lamps burning; and be ve yourselves like unto men looking for their lord, when he shall return from the marriage feast; that, when he cometh and knocketh,

37 they may straightway open unto him. Blessed are those "servants, whom the lord when he cometh shall find watching: verily I say unto you, that he shall gird himself, and make them sit down to meat, and 38 shall come and serve them. And if he shall come in the second watch, and if in the third, and find them so, blessed are those servants.

39 15 But know this, that if the master of the house had known in what hour the thief was coming, he would have watched, and not have left 40 his house to be ¹⁶broken through. Be ye also ready: for in an hour

And Peter said, Lord, speakest thou this parable unto us, or even 42 unto all? And the Lord said, Who then is 17 the faithful and wise steward, whom his lord shall set over his household, to give them 43 their portion of food in due season? Blessed is that ¹⁸servant, whom 44 his lord when he cometh shall find so doing. Of a truth I say unto 45 you, that he will set him over all that he hath. But if that 18 servant shall say in his heart, My lord delayeth his coming; and shall begin to beat the menservants and the maidservants, and to eat and drink.

46 and to be drunken; the lord of that 18 servant shall come in a day when he expecteth not, and in an hour when he knoweth not, and shall

47 ¹⁹cut him asunder, and appoint his portion with the unfaithful. And that ¹⁸servant, which knew his lord's will, and made not ready, nor 48 did according to his will, shall be beaten with many stripes; but he that knew not, and did things worthy of stripes, shall be beaten with few stripes. And to whomsoever much is given, of him shall much be required: and to whom they commit much, of him will they ask the more.

49 I came to cast fire upon the earth; and what will I, if it is already 50 kindled? But I have a baptism to be baptized with; and how am I 51 straitened till it be accomplished! Think ye that I am come to give 52 peace in the earth? I tell you, Nay; but rather division: for there shall be from henceforth five in one house divided, three against two.

53 and two against three. They shall be divided, father against son, and son against father; mother against daughter, and daughter against her mother; mother in law against her daughter in law, and daughter in law against her mother in law.

Luke 13:10-21.

- 10 And he was teaching in one of the synagogues on the sabbath day.
- 11 And behold, a woman which had a spirit of infirmity eighteen years; 12 and she was bowed together, and could in no wise lift herself up. And
- when Jesus saw her, he called her, and said to her, Woman, thou art
- 13 loosed from thine infirmity. And he laid his hands upon her: and 14 immediately she was made straight, and glorified God. And the ruler of the synagogue, being moved with indignation because Jesus had healed on the sabbath, answered and said to the multitude, There are six days in which men ought to work: in them therefore come and 15 be healed, and not on the day of the sabbath. But the Lord answered him, and said, Ye hypocrites, doth not each one of you on the sabbath loose his or his ass from the 'stall, and lead him away to watering? 16 And ought not this woman, being a daughter of Abraham, whom Satan had bound, lo, these eighteen years, to have been loosed from 17 this bond on the day of the sabbath? And as he said these things, 7 this bond on the day of the sabbath? And as he said these things, all his adversaries were put to shame; and all the multitude rejoiced for all the glorious things that were done by him.

18 He said therefore, Unto what is the kingdom of God like? and 19 whereunto shall I have it? It is like unto a grain of mustard seed, which a man took, and east into his own garden; and it grew, and became a tree; and the birds of the heaven lodged in the branches 20 thereof. And again as said, Whereunto shall I liken the kingdom of 21 God? It is like unto leaven, which a woman took and hid in three measures of meal, till it was all leavened.

§ 89. AT THE FEAST OF DEDICATION, JESUS WILL NOT YET OPENLY SAY THAT HE IS THE MESSIAH. THEY TRY TO STONE HIM, AND HE RETIRES TO PEREA.

Jerusalem, and Bethany beyond the Jordan.

Johu 10:22-42.

And it was the feast of the dedication at Jerusalem: it was win-23 ter; and Jesus was walking in the temple in Solomon's porch. 24 The Jews therefore came round about him, and said unto him, How 25 long dost thou hold us in suspense? If thou art the Christ, tell us plainly. Jesus answered them, I told you, and ye believe not: the 26 works that I do in my Father's name, these bear witness of me. But 27 ve believe not, because ye are not of my sheep. My sheep hear my 28 voice, and I know them, and they follow me: and I give unto them eternal life; and they shall never perish, and no one shall snatch them 29 out of my hand. 2 My Father, which hath given them unto me, is greater than all; and no one is able to snatch sthem out of the Father's 30, 31 hand. I and the Father are one. The Jews took up stones again 32 to stone him. Jesus answered them, Many good works have I shewed 33 you from the Father; for which of those works do ye stone me? The Jews answered him, For a good work we stone thee not, but for blasphemy; and because that thou, being a man, makest thyself God. 34 Jesus answered them. Is it not written in your law, I said, ye are gods? 35 If he called them gods, unto whom the word of God came (and the 36 scripture cannot be broken), say ye of him, whom the l'ather sanctified and sent into the world, Thou blasphemest; because I said, I am their hand.

And he went away again beyond Jordan into the place where John 41 was at the first baptizing; and there he abode. And many came unto him; and they said, John indeed did no sign: but all things whatsoever 42 John spake of this man were true. And many believed on him there.

Luke 13:22-35.

- And he went on his way through cities and villages, teaching, and
- 23 journeying on unto Jerusalem.* And one said unto him, Lord, are 24 they few that be saved? And he said unto them, Strive to enter in
- by the narrow door: for many, I say unto you, shall seek to enter in, and 25 shall not be able. When once the master of the house is risen up, and hath shut to the door, and ye begin to stand without, and to
- knock at the door, saying, Lord, open to us; and he shall answer and 26 say to you, I know you not whence ye are; then shall ye begin to say, We did eat and drink in thy presence, and thou didst teach in our
- 27 streets; and he shall say, I tell you, I know not whence ye are; depart 28 from me, all ye workers of iniquity. There shall be weeping and
- gnashing of teeth, when ye shall see Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob, and all the prophets, in the kingdom of God, and yourselves cast forth 29 without. And they shall come from the east and west, and from
- the north and south, and shall isit down in the kingdom of God. 30 And behold, there are last which shall be first, and there are first

- § 91. WHILE DINING (BREAKFASTING) WITH A CHIEF PHARISEE, HE AGAIN HEALS ON THE SABBATH, AND DEFENDS HIMSELF (COMP. § 88, AND § 37-39). THREE LESSONS SUGGESTED BY THE OCCASION.

Probably in Perea.

Luke 14:1-24.

- 1 And it came to pass, when he went into the house of one of the rulers of the Pharisees on a sabbath to eat bread, that they were 2 watching him. And behold, there was before him a certain man 3 which had the dropsy. And Jesus answering spake unto the lawyers and Pharisees, saying, Is it lawful to heal on the sabbath, or not? 4 But they held their peace. And he took him, and healed him, and 5 let him go. And he said unto them, Which of you shall have 'an ass or an ox fallen into a well, and will not straightway draw him up on a 6 sabbath day? And they could not answer again unto these things.

 7 And he spake a parable unto those which were bidden, when he
- 8 marked how they chose out the chief seats; saying unto them, When thou art bidden of any man to a marriage feast, "sit not down in the chief seat: lest haply a more honourable man than thou be bidden of 9 him, and he that bade thee and him shall come and say to thee, Give
- this man place; and then thou shalt begin with shame to take the 10 lowest place. But when thou art bidden, go and sit down in the lowest place; that when he that hath bidden thee cometh, he may say to thee, Friend, go up higher: then shalt thou have glory in the pres-
- Il ence of all that sit at meat with thee. For every one that exalteth himself shall be humbled; and he that humbleth himself shall be exalted.
- 12 And he said to him also that had bidden him, When thou makest a dinner or a supper,* call not thy friends, nor thy brethren, nor thy kinsmen, nor rich neighbours; lest haply they also bid thee again, 13 and a recompense be made thee. But when thou makest a feast, bid
- the poor, the maimed, the lame, the blind: and thou shalt be blessed; 14 because they have not wherewith to recompense thee: for thou shalt be recompensed in the resurrection of the just.
- 15 And when one of them that sat at meat with him heard these things, he said unto him, Blessed is he that shall eat bread in the 16 kingdom of God. But he said unto him, A certain man made a great 17 supper; and he bade many: and he sent forth his *servant at supper

*More exactly, "a breakfast or a dinner" (comp. § 85 and § 140). The two principal meals of the Jews answered to the present English breakfast (in the forencen and often near noon), and dinner (at or after dark); and so in our cities. In the time of King James, as in many of our country homes now, the meal towards noon answered to dinner, and the night meal to supper. Hence a certain confusion in the older and more recent English versions.—In ver. 16, 17 the right word would be dinner, according to city usage, and so elsewhere.

FIVE GREAT PARABLES—THE LOST SHEEP, THE LOST COIN, THE LOST SON-THE UNRIGHTEOUS STEWARD-THE RICH MAN AND LAZARUS. SOME OTHER BRIEF LESSONS.

Probably in Perea.

Luke 15:1 to 17:10.

Now all the publicans and sinners were drawing near unto him for 2 to hear him. And both the Pharisees and the scribes murmured, saying, This man receiveth sinners, and eateth with them.

3, 4 And he spake unto them this parable, saying, What man of you, having a hundred sheep, and having lost one of them, doth not leave the ninety and nine in the wilderness, and go after that which is lost, 5 until he find it? And when he hath found it, he layeth it on his 6 shoulders, rejoicing. And when he cometh home, he calleth together his friends and his neighbours, saying unto them, Rejoice with me, 7 for I have found my sheep which was lost. I say unto you, that even so there shall be joy in heaven over one sinner that repenteth, more than over ninety and nine righteous persons, which need no repentance.

Or what woman having ten pieces of silver, if she lose one piece, doth not light a lamp, and sweep the house, and seek diligently until 9 she find it? And when she hath found it, she calleth together her friends and neighbours, saying, Rejoice with me, for I have found the 10 piece which I had lost. Even so, I say unto you, there is joy in the presence of the angels of God over one sinner that repenteth.

11. 12 And he said, A certain man had two sons: and the younger of them said to his father, Father, give me the portion of 2thy substance 13 that falleth to me. And he divided unto them his living. And not many days after the younger son gathered all together, and took his journey into a far country; and there he wasted his substance with 14 riotous living. And when he had spent all, there arose a mighty

15 famine in that country; and he began to be in want. And he went and joined himself to one of the citizens of that country; and he sent 16 him into his fields to feed swine. And he would fain have been filled with the husks that the swine did eat: and no man gave unto him. 17 But when he came to himself he said, How many hired servants of my father's have bread enough and to spare, and I perish here with 18 hunger! I will arise and go to my father, and will say unto him, 19 Father, I have sinned against heaven, and in thy sight: I am no more worthy to be called thy son: make me as one of thy hired servants.

20 And he arose, and came to his father. But while he was yet afar off, his father saw him, and was moved with compassion, and ran, and fell 21 on his neck, and kissed him. And the son said unto him, Father, I have sinned against heaven, and in thy sight; I am no more worthy 22 to be called thy son. But the father said to his servants, Bring forth quickly the best robe, and put it on him; and put a ring on his

23 hand, and shoes on his feet: and bring the fatted calf, and kill it, and 24 let us eat, and make merry: for this my son was dead, and is alive 25 again; he was lost, and is found. And they began to be merry. Now his elder son was in the field: and as he came and drew nigh to the 26 house, he heard music and dancing. And he called to him one of the

Luke 15:1 to 17:10.

27 servants, and inquired what these things might be. And he said unto him, Thy brother is come; and thy father hath killed the fatted 28 calf, because he hath received him safe and sound. But he was angry, and would not go in: and his father came out, and entreated him.

29 But he answered and said to his father, Lo, these many years do I serve thee, and I never transgressed a commandment of thine: and yet thou never gavest me a kid, that I might make merry with my

30 friends: but when this thy son came, which hath devoured thy living 31 with harlots, thou killedst for him the fatted calf. And he said unto 32 him, 'Son, thou art ever with me, and all that is mine is thine. But it was meet to make merry and be glad: for this thy brother was dead, and is alive again; and was lost, and is found.

16 And he said unto the disciples, There was a certain rich man, which had a steward; and the same was accused unto him that he was wast-

2 ing his goods. And he called him, and said unto him. What is this that I hear of thee? render the account of thy stewardship; for thou

3 canst be no longer steward. And the steward said within himself, What shall I do, seeing that my lord taketh away the stewardship 4 from me? I have not strength to dig; to beg I am ashamed. I am resolved what to do, that, when I am put out of the stewardship, they 5 may receive me into their houses. And calling to him each one of his lord's debtors, he said to the first, How much owest thou unto my

6 lord? And he said, A hundred *measures of oil. And he said unto 7 him, Take thy bond, and sit down quickly and write fifty. Then said he to another, And how much owest thou? And he said, A hundred measures of wheat. He saith unto him, Take thy bond, and write fourscore. And his lord commended "the unrighteous steward because he had done wisely; for the sons of this ¹²world are for their 9 own generation wiser than the sons of the light. And I say unto you, make to yourselves friends ¹³by means of the mammon of unrighteous-make to yourselves friends ¹³by means of the mammon of unrighteousness; that, when it shall fail, they may receive you into the eternal 10 tabernacles. He that is faithful in a very little is faithful also in 11 much. If therefore ye have not been faithful in the unrighteous 12 mammon, who will commit to your trust the true riches?. And if ye have not been faithful in that which is another's, who will give you

13 that which is "your own? No "servant can serve two masters: for either he will hate the one, and love the other; or else he will hold to one, and despise the other. Ye cannot serve God and mammon.

14 And the Pharisees, who were lovers of money, heard all these 15 things; and they scoffed at him. And he said unto them, Ye are they that justify yourselves in the sight of men; but God knoweth your hearts: for that which is exalted among men is an abomination in the 16 sight of God. The law and the prophets were until John: from that time the gospel of the kingdom of God is preached, and every man 17 entereth violently into it. But it is easier for heaven and earth to 18 pass away, than for one tittle of the law to fall. Every one that putteth away his wife, and marrieth another, committeth adultery: and he that marrieth one that is put away from a husband committeth adultery.

19 Now there was a certain rich man, and he was clothed in purple and 20 fine linen, ¹⁶ faring sumptuously every day: and a certain beggar named 21 Lazarus was laid at his gate, full of sores, and desiring to be fed with the crumbs that fell from the rich man's table; yea, even the dogs 22 came and licked his sores. And it came to pass, that the beggar died, and that he was carried away by the angels into Abraham's 23 bosom; and the rich man also died, and was buried. And in Hades he lifted up his eyes, being in torments, and seeth Abraham afar off, 24 and Lazarus in his bosom. And he cried and said, Father Abraham, have mercy on me, and send Lazarus, that he may dip the tip of his finger in water, and cool my tongue; for I am in anguish in this flame. 25 But Abraham said, 17 Son, remember that thou in thy lifetime receivedst thy good things, and Lazarus in like manner evil things: but now 26 here he is comforted, and thou art in anguish. And 18 beside all this, between us and you there is a great gulf fixed, that they which would pass from hence to you may not be able, and that none may cross over 27 from thence to us. And he said, I pray thee therefore, father, that 28 thou wouldest send him to my father's house: for I have five brethren; that he may testify unto them; lest they also come into this place of 29 torment. But Abraham saith, They have Moses and the prophets; 30 let them hear them. And he said, Nay, father Abraham; but if one 31 go to them from the dead, they will repent. And he said unto him, If they hear not Moses and the prophets, neither will they be persuaded, if one rise from the dead.

Luke 15:1 to 17:10.

17 And he said unto his disciples, It is impossible but that occasions of stumbling should come; but we unto him, through whom they come! 2 It were well for him if a millstone were hanged about his neck, and he were thrown into the sea, rather than that he should cause one of 3 these little ones to stumble. Take heed to yourselves: if thy brother 4 sin, rebuke him; and if he repent, forgive him. And if he sin against thee seven times in the day, and seven times turn again to thee, saying, I repent; thou shalt forgive him.

5, 6 And the apostles said unto the Lord, Increase our faith. And the Lord said, If ye have faith as a grain of mustard seed, ye would say unto this sycamine tree, Be thou rooted up, and be thou planted in 7 the sea; and it would have obeyed you. But who is there of you, having a 19 servant plowing or keeping sheep, that will say unto him, when he is come in from the field, Come straightway and sit down to meat; 8 and will not rather say unto him, Make ready wherewith I may sup, and gird thyself, and serve me, till I have eaten and drunken; and after-9 ward thou shalt eat and drink? Doth he thank the ¹⁹servant because 10 he did the things that were commanded? Even so ye also, when ye shall have done all the things that are commanded you, say, We are unprofitable 20 servants; we have done that which it was our duty to do.

§ 94. JESUS RAISES LAZARUS FROM THE DEAD.

From Perea* to Bethany near Jerusalem.

John 11:1-46.

Now a certain man was sick, Lazarus of Bethany, of the village of 2 Mary and her sister Martha. And it was that Mary, which anointed the Lord with ointment, and wiped his feet with her hair, whose 3 brother Lazarus was sick. The sisters therefore sent unto him, say-4 ing, Lord, behold, he whom thou levest is sick. But when Jesus heard it, he said, this siekness is not unto death, but for the glory of 5 God, that the Son of God may be glorified thereby. Now Jesus loved 6 Martha, and her sister, and Lazarus. When therefore he heard that he was sick, he abode at that time two days in the place where he was. 7 Then after this he saith to the disciples, Let us go into Judea again. 8 The disciples say unto him, Rabbi, the Jews were but now seeking to 9 stone thee; and goest thou thither again? Jesus answered, Are there not twelve hours in the day? If a man walk in the day, he stumble th 10 not, because he seeth the light of this world. But if a man walk in 11 the night, he stumbleth, because the light is not in him. These things spake he: and after this he saith unto them, Our friend Lazarus is 12 fallen asleep; but I go, that I may awake him out of sleep. The disciples therefore said unto him, Lord, if he is fallen asleep, he will 13 recover. Now Jesus had spoken of his death: but they thought that 14 he spake of taking rest in sleep. Then Jesus therefore said unto 15 them plainly, Lazarus is dead. And I am glad for your sakes that I was not there, to the intent ye may believe; nevertheless let us go 16 unto him. Thomas therefore, who is called 2Didymus, said unto his fellow-disciples, Let us also go, that we may die with him. So when Jesus came, he found that he had been in the tomb four 18 days already. Now Bethany was nigh unto Jerusalem, about fifteen 19 furlongs off; and many of the Jews had come to Martha and Mary, to 20 console them concerning their brother. Martha therefore, when she heard that Jesus was coming, went and met him: but Mary still sat in 21 the house. Martha therefore said unto Jesus, Lord, if thou hadst 22 been here, my brother had not died. And even new I know that 23 whatsoever thou shalt ask of God, God will give thee. Jesus saith 24 unto her, Thy brother shall rise again. Martha saith unto him, I know that he shall rise again in the resurrection at the last day. 25 Jesus said unto her, I am the resurrection, and the life; he that be-26 lieveth on me, though he die, yet shall he live: and whosoever liveth 27 and believeth on me shall never die. Believest thou this? She saith unto him, Yea, Lord: I have believed that thou art the Christ, the 28 Son of God, even he that cometh into the world. And when she had said this, she went away, and called Mary ther sister secretly, 29 saying. The Master is here, and calleth thee. And she, when she 30 heard it, arose quickly, and went unto him. (Now Jesus was not yet come into the village, but was still in the place where Martha met 31 him.) The Jews then which were with her in the house, and were comforting her, when they saw Mary, that she rose up quickly and went out, followed her, supposing that she was going unto the tomb

*Our Lord was apparently at a distance of two or three days' journey (ver. 6,17) from Bethany; and by comparing 88,90 we see that he was probably in Perea. This visit to Bethany, a suburb of Jerusalem, may be that to which Luke pointed in 13:22 (2 90).

John 11:1-46.

32 to weep there. Mary therefore, when she came where Jesus was. and saw him, fell down at his feet, saying unto him, Lord, if thou 33 hadst been here, my brother had not died. When Jesus therefore saw her eweeping, and the Jews also eweeping which came with her, he 34 groaned in the spirit, and was troubled, and said, Where have 35 ye laid him? They say unto him, Lord, come and see. Jesus wept. 36, 37 The Jews therefore said, Behold how he loved him! But some of them said, Could not this man, which opened the eyes of him that 38 was blind, have caused that this man also should not die? Jesus therefore again groaning in himself cometh to the tomb. Now it was 39 a cave, and a stone lay 10 against it. Jesus saith, Take ye away the stone. Martha, the sister of him that was dead, saith unto him, Lord, by this time he stinketh: for he hath been dead four days. 40 Jesus saith unto her, Said I not unto thee, that, if thou believedst. 41 thou shouldest see the glory of God? So they took away the stone. And Jesus lifted up his eyes, and said, Father, I thank thee that thou 42 heardest me. And I knew that thou hearest me always: but because of the multitude which standeth around I said it, that they may be-43 lieve that thou didst send me. And when he had thus spoken, he 44 cried with a loud voice, Lazarus, come forth. He that was dead came forth, bound hand and foot with "grave-elothes; and his face was bound about with a napkin. Jesus saith unto them, Loose him, and let him go.

45 Many therefore of the Jews, which came to Mary and beheld ¹²that 46 which he did, believed on him. But some of them went away to the Pharisees, and told them the thing which Jesus had done.

§ 95. THE SANHEDRIN PLOT HIS DEATH, AND HE RETIRES AGAIN. Jerusalem, and Ephraim in Judea.

John 11:47-54.

The chief priests therefore and the Pharisees gathered a council, 48 and said, What do we? for this man doeth many signs. If we let him thus alone, all men will believe on him: and the Romans will come 49 and take away both our place and our nation. But a certain one of them, Caiaphas, being high priest that year, said unto them, Ye 50 know nothing at all, nor do ye take account that it is expedient for you that one man should die for the people, and that the whole nation 51 perish not. Now this he said not of himself: but being high priest 52 that year, he prophesied that Jesus should die for the nation; and not for the nation only, but that he might also gather together into one 53 the children of God that are scattered abroad. So from that day forth they took counsel that they might put him to death.

4 Jesus therefore walked no more openly among the Jews, but departed thence into the country near to the wilderness, into a city called Ephraim; and there he tarried with the disciples.

In Samaria or Galilee.

Luke 17:11-37. And it came to pass, 'as they were on the way to Jerusalem, that he 12 was passing 2through the midst of Samaria and Galilee.* And as he entered into a certain village, there met him ten men that were 13 lepers, which stood afar off: and they lifted up their voices, saying, 14 Jesus, Master, have mercy on us. And when he saw them, he said unto them, Go and shew yourselves unto the priests. And it came to 15 pass, as they went, they were cleansed. And one of them, when he saw that he was healed, turned back, with a loud voice glorifying 16 God; and he fell upon his face at his feet, giving him thanks: and he 17 was a Samaritan. And Jesus answering said, Were not the ten 18 cleansed? but where are the nine? *Were there none found that re-19 turned to give glory to God, save this 'stranger?' And he said unto him, Arise, and go thy way: thy faith hath made thee whole. And being asked by the Pharisees, when the kingdom of God cometh, he answered them and said, the kingdom of God cometh not with 21 observation: neither shall they say, Lo, here! or, There! for lo, the kingdom of God is 'within you.

And he said unto the disciples. The days will come, when ye shall desire to see one of the days of the Son of man, and ye shall not see 23 it. And they shall say to you, Lo, there! Lo, here! go not away, nor 24 follow after them: for as the lightning, when it lighteneth out of the one part under the heaven, shineth unto the other part under heaven;

25 so shall the Son of man be in his day. But first must he suffer many 26 things and be rejected of this generation. And as it came to pass in the days of Noah, even so shall it be also in the days of the Son of

27 man. They ate, they drank, they married, they were given in marriage, until the day that Noah entered the ark, and the flood came, 28 and destroyed them all. Likewise even as it came to pass in the days of Lot; they ate, they drank, they bought, they sold, they planted, 29 they builded: but in the day that Lot went out from Sodom it rained 30 fire and brimstone from heaven, and destroyed them all: after the same manner shall it be in the day that the Son of man is revealed.

31 In that day, he which shall be on the housetop, and his goods in the house, let him not go down to take them away; and let him that is in 32, 33 the field likewise not return back. Remember Lot's wife.

Weithus again combine Luke's account with that of John in easy agreement. Yet he says that Jesus did this when he had finished the parable of the unforgiving servant, which we have placed nearly 6 months earlier (71). Luke here presently agrees with Matthewand Mark, and they go on together to the end, while heretofore Matthew and Mark have given us nothing since Jesus went to the Feast of Tabernacles. In one way or another we must suppose quite a break in their narrative. See the author's commentary on Matthew 19:1, and compare note on 275

*Matthew mentions two blind men, while Mark and Luke describe one, probably the more conspicuous one, comp. on §53.—The discrepancy as to place. "as he went out from Jericho," "as he drew nigh unto Jericho." Is best explained by the recent suggestion that the healing occurred after he left the old Jericho, and as he was approaching the new Jericho which Herod the Great had built at some distance away. An older, and also possible explanation was that the blind men made application when he was approaching the city, but were not then healed, and only when he had left the city were they healed. (Comp. And Jesus said unto him, To-day is salvation come to this 10 house, for a smuch as he also is a son of Abraham. For the Son of man eame to seek and to save that which was lost.

And as they heard these things, he added and spake a parable, beeause he was night o Jerusalem, and because they supposed that the 12 kingdom of God was immediately to appear. He said therefore, A certain nobleman went into a far country, to receive for himself a 13 kingdom, and to return. And he called ten servants of his, and gave them ten pounds, and said unto them, Trade ye herewith till I come.

14 But his citizens hated him, and sent an ambassage after him, saying, 15 We will not that this man reign over us. And it came to pass, when he was come back again, having received the kingdom, that he commanded these 'servants, unto whom he had given the money, to be called to him, that he might know what they had gained by trading.

And the second came, saying, Thy pound, 19 Lord, hath made five pounds. And he said unto him also, Be thou 20 also over five cities. And another came, saying, Lord, behold, here 21 is thy pound, which I kept laid up in a napkin: for I feared thee, because thou art an austere man: thou takest up that thou layedst not 22 down, and reapest that thou didst not sow. He saith unto him, Out of thine own mouth will I judge thee, thou wicked *servant. Thou knewest that I am an austere man, taking up that I laid not down. 23 and reaping that I did not sow; then wherefore gavest thou not my money into the bank, and I at my coming should have required it 24 with interest? And he said unto them that stood by, Take away from 25 him the pound, and give it unto him that hath the ten pounds. And 26 they said unto him, Lord, he hath ten pounds. I say unto you, that unto every one that hath shall be given; but from him that hath not, 27 even that which he hath shall be taken away from him. Howbeit these mine enemies, which would not that I should reign over them, bring hither, and slay them before me. And when he had thus spoken, he went on before, going up to Jerusalem.

PART VII.

LAST WEEK OF OUR LORD'S MINISTRY, AND HIS CRUCI-FIXION.

Spring of A.D. 30 (or A.D 29).*

2104. JESUS ARRIVES AT BETHANY, TNEAR JERUSALEM.

Friday afternoon.

John 11:55 to 12:1, and 12:9-11.

- 55 Now the passover of the Jews was at hand: and many went up to Jerusalem out of the country before the passover, to purify them-
- 56 selves. They sought therefore for Jesus, and spake one with another, as they stood in the temple, What think ye? That he will not come
- 57 to the feast? Now the chief priests and the Pharisees had given commandment, that, if any man knew where he was, he should shew it, that they might take him.
 - 1 Jesus therefore six days before the passover came to Bethany, where Lazarus was, whom Jesus raised from the dead.
- 9 The common people therefore of the Jews learned that he was there: and they came, not for Jesus' sake only, but that they might see Laz-
- 10 arus also, whom he raised from the dead. But the chief priests took 11 counsel that they might put Lazarus also to death; because that by - reason of him many of the Jews went away, and believed on Jesus.

In §105-116 we have the Saviour's movements and teachings on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday—the close of his public ministry, except the little that he said during the Jewish and Roman trial. All of his teaching thereafter will be given to his disciples.

John 12:20-50.

Now there were certain Greeks among those that went up to worship 21 at the feast: these therefore came to Philip, which was of Bethsaida 22 of Galilee, and asked him saying, Sir, we would see Jesus. Philip cometh and telleth Andrew: Andrew cometh, and Philip, and they tell 23 Jesus. And Jesus answereth them, saying, The hour is come, that 24 the Son of man should be glorified. Verily, verily, I say unto you, Except a grain of wheat fall into the earth and die, it abideth by itself 25 alone; but if it die, it beareth much fruit. He that loveth his 'life loseth it; and he that hateth his 'life in this world shall keep it unto 26 life eternal. If any man serve me, let him follow me; and where I am, there shall also my servant be: if any man serve me, him will the 27 Father honour. Now is my soul troubled; and what shall I say? Father, save me from this hour. But for this cause came I unto this 28 hour. Father, glorify thy name. There came therefore a voice out of heaven, saying, I have both glorified it, and will glorify it again. 29 The multitude therefore, that stood by, and heard it, said that it had 30 thundered: others said, An angel hath spoken to him. Jesus answered and said. This voice hath not come for my sake, but for your sakes. 31 Now is the judgement of this world: now shall the prince of this 32 world be east out. And I, if I be lifted up from the earth, will draw 33 all men unto myself. But this he said, signifying by what manner of 34 death he should die. The multitude therefore answered him, We have heard out of the law that the Christ abideth for ever: and how sayest thou, The Son of man must be lifted up? who is this Son of man? 35 Jesus therefore said unto them, Yet a little while is the light samong you. Walk while ye have the light, that darkness overtake you not: and he that walketh in the darkness knoweth not whither he goeth. 36 While ye have the light, believe on the light, that ye may become sons of light.

These things spake Jesus, and he departed and hid himself from 37 them. But though he had done so many signs before them, yet they

He hath blinded their eyes, and he hardened their heart; Lest they should see with their eyes, and perceive with their heart, And should turn,

And I should heal them.

41 These things said Isaiah, because he saw his glory: and he spake of 42 him. Nevertheless even of the rulers many believed on him; but because of the Pharisees they did not confess it, lest they should be put 43 out of the synagogue; for they loved the glory of men more than the glory of God.

The kingdom of heaven is likened unto a certain king. 3 which made a marriage feast for his son, and sent forth his *servants to call them that were bidden to the marriage feast: and they would 4 not come. Again he sent forth other *servants, saying, tell them that are bidden, Behold, I have made ready my dinner: my oxen and my fatlings are killed, and all things are ready; come to the marriage 5 feast. But they made light of it, and went their ways, one to his own 6 farm, another to his merchandise: and the rest laid hold on his ser-7 vants, and entreated them shamefully, and killed them. But the king was wroth; and he sent his armies, and destroyed those murder-8 ers, and burned their city. Then saith he to his *servants, The wed-9 ding is ready, but they that were bidden were not worthy. Go ye therefore unto the partings of the highways, and as many as ye shall 10 find, bid to the marriage feast. And those *servants went out into the highways, and gathered together all as many as they found, both 11 bad and good: and the wedding was filled with guests. §116. CONCLUSION OF THIS DISCOURSE—AS TO THE SECOND COMING— PARABLE OF THE TEN VIRGINS, AND OF THE TALENTS— THE FINAL JUDGMENT.

On the Mount of Olives. (Tuesday.)

Matt. chap. 25.

Then shall the kingdom of heaven be likened unto ten virgins, 2 which took their lamps, and went forth to meet the bridegroom. And 3 five of them were foolish, and five were wise. For the foolish, when 4 they took their lamps, took no oil with them: but the wise took oil in 5 their vessels with their lamps. Now while the bridegroom tarried, 6 they all slumbered and slept. But at midnight there is a cry, Behold, 7 the bridegroom! Come ye forth to meet him. Then all those virgins 8 arose, and trimmed their lamps. And the foolish said unto the wise, 9 Give us of your oil; for our lamps are going out. But the wise answered, saying, Peradventure there will not be enough for us and 10 you: go ye rather to them that sell, and buy for yourselves. And while they went away to buy, the bridegroom came; and they that were ready went in with him to the marriage feast: and the door was 11 shut. Afterward come also the other virgins, saying, Lord, Lord, 12 open to us. But he answered and said, Verily I say unto you, I know 13 you not. Watch therefore, for ye know not the day nor the hour. For it is as when a man, going into another country, called his own 15 *servants, and delivered unto them his goods. And unto one he gave five talents, to another two, to another one; to each according to his 16 several ability; and he went on his journey. Straightway he that received the five talents went and traded with them, and made other 17 five talents. In like manner he also that received the two gained other 18 two. But he that received the one went away and digged in the earth, 19 and hid his lord's money. Now after a long time the lord of those 20 servants cometh and maketh a reckoning with them. And he that received the five talents came and brought other five talents, saying, Lord, thou deliveredst unto me five talents: lo, I have gained other 21 five talents. His lord said unto him, Well done, good and faithful *servant: thou hast been faithful over a few things, I will set thee over 22 many things; enter thou into the joy of thy lord. And he also that received the two talents came and said, Lord, thou deliveredst unto me 23 two talents: lo, I have gained other two talents. His lord said unto him, Well done, good and faithful *servant; thou hast been faithful over a few things, I will set thee over many things: enter thou into the joy 24 of thy lord. And he also that had received the one talent came and said, Lord, I knew thee that thou art a hard man, reaping where thou 25 didst not sow, and gathering where thou didst not scatter: and I was afraid, and went away and hid thy talent in the earth: lo, thou hast 26 thine own. But his lord answered and said unto him, Thou wicked and slothful servant, thou knewest that I reap where I sowed not,

Matt. chap. 25.

27 and gather where I did not scatter; thou oughtest therefore to have put my money to the bankers, and at my coming I should have received 28 back mine own with interest. Take ye away therefore the talent 29 from him, and give it unto him that hath the ten talents. For unto every one that hath shall be given, and he shall have abundance; but from him that hath not, even that which he hath shall be taken 30 away. And cast ye out the unprofitable *servant into the outer darkness: there shall be the weeping and gnashing of teeth. But when the Son of man shall come in his glory, and all the angels 32 with him, then shall he sit on the throne of his glory; and before him shall be gathered all the nations; and he shall separate them one from 33 another, as the shepherd separateth the sheep from the 'goats; and he 34 shall set the sheep on his right hand, but the goats on the left. Then shall the King say unto them on his right hand, Come, ve blessed of my Father, inherit the kingdom prepared for you from the foundation 35 of the world: for I was an hungred, and ye gave me meat: I was thirsty, and ye gave me drink: I was a stranger, and ye took me in; 36 naked, and ye clothed me: I was sick, and ye visited me: I was in 37 prison, and ye came unto me. Then shall the righteous answer him, saying, Lord, when saw we thee an hungred, and fed thee? or athirst, 38 and gave thee drink? And when saw we thee a stranger, and took 39 thee in? or naked, and clothed thee? And when saw we thee sick, or 40 in prison, and came unto thee? And the King shall answer and say that them. Voyily Low puts you Intermediate and say that them.

43 no drink: I was a stranger, and ye took me not in; naked, and ye 44 clothed me not; siek, and in prison, and ye visited me not. Then shall they also answer, saying, Lord, when saw we thee an hungred, or athirst, or a stranger, or naked, or siek, or in prison, and did not

45 minister unto thee? Then shall he answer them, saying, Verily, I say unto you, Inasmuch as ye did it not unto one of these least, ye did 46 it not unto me. And these shall go away into eternal punishment: but the righteous into eternal life.

*This anointing has nothing in common with that given by Luke ($46), except the fact of a woman anointing the Saviour's feet, and the name Simon, which was common. The former was in Galilee, this is at Bethany near Jerusalem. There the host despised the woman who anointed, here her brother is one of the guests, and her sister an active attendant. There the woman was "a sinner," a notoriously bad woman, here it is the devout Mary who "sat at the Lord's feet and heard bis word" months before ($82). There the host thought strange that Jesus allowed her to touch him, here the disciples complain of the waste. There the Saviour gave assurance of forgiveness, here of perpetual and world-wide honor. Especially notice that here the woman who anoint is anticipating his speedy death and burial, of which at the former time he had never distinctly spoken. In view of all these differences it is absurd to represent the two anointings as the same, and outrageous on such slender ground to cast reproach on Mary of Bethany.

*Some regard certain expressions in the Gospel of John as showing that Jesus did not eat the Paschal meal, and thus hopelessly contradicting the other Gospels. But no one of John's expressions shows what is supposed, and one of them really indicates the contrary. See note at end of the volume, on $118. Matthew, Mark, and Luke clearly show that he did cat the regular Passover meal.

§ 119. During the Paschal Meal, Jesus Washes the Feet of His Disciples.

Evening before the Crucifixion.

John 13:1-20.

- Now before the feast of the passover, Jesus knowing that his hour was come that he should depart out of this world unto the Father, having loved his own which were in the world, he loved them unto 2 the end. And during supper, the devil having already put into the 3 heart of Judas Iseariot, Simon's son, to betray him, Jesus, knowing that the Father had given all things into his hands, and that he came forth 4 from God and goeth unto God, riseth from supper, and layeth aside his 5 garments; and he took a towel and girded himself. Then he poureth water into the bason, and began to wash the disciples' feet, and to 6 wipe them with the towel wherewith he was girded. So he cometh to Simon Peter. He saith unto him, Lord, dost thou wash my feet? 7 Jesus answered and said unto him, What I do thou knowest not now; 8 but thou shalt understand hereafter. Peter saith unto him, Thou shalt never wash my feet. Jesus answered him, If I wash thee not, 9 thou hast no part with me. Simon Peter saith unto him, Lord, not 10 my feet only, but also my hands and my head. Jesus saith to him, He that is bathed needeth not save to wash his feet, but is clean every 11 whit: and ye are clean, but not all. For he knew him that should betray him; therefore said he, Ye are not all clean.
- 12 So when he had washed their feet, and taken his garments, and *sat 13 down again, he said unto them, Know ye what I have done to you? Ye 14 call me, 'Master, and, Lord: and ye say well; for so I am. If I then, the Lord and the 'Master, have washed your feet, ye also ought to 15 wash one another's feet. For I have given you an example, that ye 16 also should do as I have done to you. Verily, verily, I say unto you,

A *servant is not greater than his lord; neither *one that is sent I7 greater than he that sent him. If ye know these things, blessed are 18 ye if ye do them. I speak not of you all: I know whom I *have chosen: but that the scripture may be fulfilled, He that eateth *my bread lifted 19 up his heel against me. From henceforth I tell you before it come to pass, that, when it is come to pass, ye may believe that *I am he. 20 Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that receiveth whomsoever I send receiveth me; and he that receiveth me receiveth him that sent me.

John, chap. 14 to chap. 17.

(a) chap. 14.—1 Let not your heart be troubled: 'ye believe in God. 2 believe also in me. In my Father's house are many 2 mansions; if it were not so, I would have told you; for I go to prepare a place for you. 3 And if I go and prepare a place for you, I come again, and will receive 4 you unto myself; that where I am there ye may be also. And whither 5 I go, ye know the way. Thomas saith unto him, Lord, we know not 6 whither thou goest: how know we the way? Jesus saith unto him, I am the way, and the truth, and the life: no one cometh unto the 7 Father, but by me. If ye had known me, ye would have known my Father also: from henceforth ye know him, and have seen him. 8 Philip saith unto him, Lord, shew us the Father, and it sufficeth us. 9 Jesus saith unto him, Have I been so long time with you, and dost thou not know me, Philip? he that hath seen me hath seen the Father; 10 how sayest thou, Shew us the Father? Believest thou not that I am in the Father, and the Father in me? the words that I say unto you I speak not from myself: but the Father abiding in me doeth his works. 11 Believe me that I am in the Father and the Father in me: or else be-12 lieve me for the very works' sake. Verily, verily, I say unto you, he that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also; and greater 13 works than these shall be do; because I go unto the Father. And whatsoever ye shall ask in my name, that will I do, that the Father 14 may be glorified in the Son. If ye shall ask me anything in my name, 15 that will I do. If ye love me, ye will keep my commandments. 16 And I will pray the Father, and he shall give you another Comforter. 17 that he may be with you for ever, even the Spirit of truth: whom the world cannot receive; for it beholdeth him not, neither knoweth him: 18 ye know him; for he abideth with you, and shall be in you. I will not 19 leave you 'desolate: I come unto you. Yet a little while, and the world beholdeth me no more: but ye behold me: because I live, 'ye 20 shall live also. In that day ye shall know that I am in my Father, 21 and ye in me, and I in you. He that hath my commandments, and keepeth them, he it is that loveth me: and he that loveth me shall be loved of my Father, and I will love him, and will manifest myself 22 unto him. Judas (not Iscariot) saith unto him, Lord, what is come to pass that thou wilt manifest thyself unto us, and not unto the world?

23 And Jesus answered and said unto him, If a man love me, he will keep my word: and my Father will love him, and we will come unto 24 him, and make our abode with him. He that loveth me not keepeth not my words: and the word which ye hear is not mine, but the Father's who sent me.

25 These things have I spoken unto you, while yet abiding with you.
26 But the 'Comforter, even the Holy Spirit, whom the Father will send in my name, he shall teach you all things, and bring to your remem27 brance all that I said unto you. Peace I leave with you; my peace I give unto you: not as the world giveth, give I unto you. Let not your 28 heart be troubled, neither let it be fearful. Ye heard how I said to you, I go away, and I come unto you. If ye loved me, ye would have rejoiced, because I go unto the Father: for the Father is greater 29 than I. And now I have told you before it come to pass, that, when it 30 is come to pass, ye may believe. I will no more speak much with you, 31 for the prince of the world cometh: and he hath nothing in me; but that the world may know that I love the Father, and as the Father gave me commandment, even so I do. Arise, let us go hence.

(b) chaps. 15 and 16.—15. I am the true vine, and my Father is the 2 husbandman. Every branch in me that beareth not fruit, he taketh it away: and every branch that beareth fruit, he cleanseth it, that it 3 may bear more fruit. Already ye are clean because of the word which 4 I have spoken unto you. Abide in me, and I in you. As the branch cannot bear fruit of itself, except it abide in the vine; so neither can 5 ye, except ye abide in me. I am the vine, ye are the branches: He that abideth in me, and I in him, the same beareth much fruit: for 6 apart from me ye can do nothing. If a man abide not in me, he is cast forth as a branch, and is withered; and they gather them, and 7 cast them into the fire, and they are burned. If ye abide in me, and my words abide in you, ask whatsoever ye will, and it shall be done 8 unto you. Herein is my Father glorified, that ye bear much fruit: 9 and so shall ye be my disciples. Even as the Father hath loved me, 10 I also have loved you: abide ye in my love. If ye keep my commandments, ye shall abide in my love; even as I have kept my Father's 11 commandments, and abide in his love. These things have I spoken unto you, that my joy may be in you, and that your joy may be fulfilled. 12 This is my commandment, that ye love one another, even as I have 13 loved you. Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down 14 his life for his friends. Ye are my friends, if ye do the things which 15 I command you. No longer do I call you servants; for the servant knoweth not what his lord doeth: but I have called you friends; for all things that I heard from my Father I have made known unto you. 16 Ye did not choose me, but I chose you, and appointed you, that ye should go and bear fruit, and that your fruit should abide; that whatsoever ye shall ask of the Father in my name, he may give it you. 17, 18 These things I command you, that ye may love one another. If the world hateth you, bye know that it hath hated me before it hated you. 19 If ye were of the world, the world would love its own; but because ye are not of the world, but I chose you out of the world, therefore the 20 world hateth you. Remember the word that I said unto you, A servant is not greater than his lord. If they persecuted me, they will also 21 persecute you; if they keep my word, they will keep yours also. But all these things will they do unto you for my name's sake, because 22 they know not him that sent me. If I had not come and spoken unto them, they had not had sin; but now they have no excuse for their 23, 24 sin. He that hateth me hateth my Father also. If I had not done among them the works which none other did, they had not had sin: 25 but now have they both seen and hated both me and my Father. But this cometh to pass, that the word may be fulfilled that is written in 26 their law, They hated me without a cause. But when the Comforter is come, whom I will send unto you from the Father, even the Spirit of truth, which proceedeth from the Father, he shall bear witness of 27 me: and ye also bear witness, because ye have been with me from the beginning.

16. 1. These things have I spoken unto you that ye should not be 2 made to stumble. They shall put you out of the synagogues: yea, the hour cometh, that whosoever killeth you shall think that he offereth 3 service unto God. And these things will they do, because they have 4 not known the Father, nor me. But these things have I spoken unto you, that when their hour is come, ye may remember them, how that I told you. And these things I said not unto you from the beginning, 5 because I was with you. But now I go unto him that sent me; and 6 none of you asketh me, Whither goest thou? But because I have 7 spoken these things unto you, sorrow hath filled your heart. Nevertheless I tell you the truth; It is expedient for you that I go away: for if I go not away, the 'Comforter will not come unto you; but if I go, I 8 will send him unto you. And he, when he is come, will convict the 9 world in respect of sin, and of righteousness, and of judgement: of 10 sin, because they believe not on me: of righteousness, because I go to 11 the Father, and ye behold me no more; of judgement, because the 12 prince of this world hath been judged. I have yet many things to say 13 unto you, but ye cannot bear them now. Howbeit when he, the Spirit of truth, is come, he shall guide you into all the truth: for he shall not speak from himself; but what things soever he shall hear, these shall he speak: and he shall declare unto you the things that are to 14 come. He shall glorify me: for he shall take of mine, and shall 15 declare it unto you. All things whatsoever the Father hath are mine: therefore said I, that he taketh of mine, and shall declare it unto you. 16 A little while, and ye behold me no more; and again a little while, 17 and ye shall see me. Some of his disciples therefore said one to another, What is this that he saith unto us, A little while, and ye behold me not; and again a little while, and ye shall see me: and, 18 Because I go to the Father? They said therefore, What is this that 19 he saith, A little while? We know not what he saith. Jesus perceived that they were desirous to ask him, and he said unto them, Do ye inquire among yourselves concerning this, that I said, A little while, and ye behold me not, and again a little while, and ye shall 20 see me? Verily, verily, I say unto you, that ye shall weep and lament, but the world shall rejoice: ye shall be sorrowful, but your sorrow 21 shall be turned into joy. A woman when she is in travail hath sorrow because her hour is come: but when she is delivered of the child, she remembereth no more the anguish, for the joy that a man is born 22 into the world. And ye therefore now have sorrow: but I will see you again, and your heart shall rejoice, and your joy no one taketh 23 away from you. And in that day ye shall eask me nothing. Verily, verily, I say unto you, If ye shall ask anything of the Father, he will 24 give it you in my name. Hither to have ye asked nothing in my name: ask and ye shall receive, that your joy may be fulfilled. These things have I spoken unto you in 10 proverbs: the hour cometh, when I shall no more speak unto you in 10 proverbs, but shall tell you 26 plainly of the Father. In that day ye shall ask in my name: and I say 27 not unto you, that I will "pray the Father for you; for the Father himself loveth you, because ye have loved me, and have believed that I 28 came forth from the Father. I came out from the Father, and am come into the world: again, I leave the world, and go unto the Father. 29 His disciples say, Lo, now speakest thou plainly, and speakest no 30 12 proverb. Now know we that thou knowest all things, and needest not that any man should ask thee: by this we believe that thou camest 31, 32 forth from God. Jesus answered them, Do ve now believe? Behold, the hour cometh, yea, is come, that ye shall be scattered, every man to his own, and shall leave me alone; and yet I am not alone, be-

(e) chap. 17. 1. These things spake Jesus; and lifting up his eyes to heaven, he said. Father, the hour is come; glorify thy Son, that the 2 Son may glorify thee: even as thou gavest him authority over all flesh, that whatsoever thou hast given him, to them he should give eternal And this is life eternal, that they should know thee the only 4 true God, and him whom thou didst send, even Jesus Christ. I glorified thee on the earth, having accomplished the work which thou 5 hast given me to do. And now, O Father, glorify thou me with thine own self with the glory which I had with thee before the world was. 6 I manifested thy name unto the men whom thou gavest me out of the world: thine they were, and thou gavest them to me; and they have 7 kept thy word. Now they know that all things whatsoever thou hast 8 given me are from thee: for the words which thou hast given me I have given unto them; and they received them, and knew of a truth that I came forth from thee, and they believed that thou didst 9 send me. I pray for them: I pray not for the world, but for those 10 whom thou hast given me; for they are thine; and all things that are 11 mine are thine, and thine are mine; and I am glorified in them. And I am no more in the world, and these are in the world, and I come to thee. Holy Father, keep them in thy name which thou hast given 12 me, that they may be one, even as we are. While I was with them, I kept them in thy name which thou hast given me: and I guarded them, and not one of them perished, but the son of perdition; that the 13 scripture might be fulfilled. But now I come to thee: and these things I speak in the world, that they may have my joy fulfilled in 14 themselves. I have given them my word; and the world hated them. 15 because they are not of the world, even as I am not of the world. I pray not that thou shouldest take them from the world, but that 16 thou shouldest keep them 'from 'the evil one. They are not of the 17 world, even as I am not of the world. Sanctify them in the truth: thy 18 word is truth. As thou didst send me into the world, even so sent I 19 them into the world. And for their sakes I sanctify myself, that they 20 themselves also may be sanctified in truth. Neither for these only do I pray, but for them also that believe on me through their word; 21 that they may all be one; even as thou, Father, art in me, and I in thee, that they also may be in us: that the world may believe that thou 22 didst send me. And the glory which thou hast given me I have given 23 unto them; that they may be one, even as we are one; I in them, and thou in me, that they may be perfected into one; that the world may know that thou didst send me, and lovedst them, even as thou lovedst 24 me. Father, 5that which thou hast given me, I will that, where I am, they also may be with me; that they may behold my glory, which thou hast given me: for thou lovedst me before the foundation of the 25 world. Orighteous Father, the world knew thee not, but I knew 26 thee; and these knew that thou didst send me; and I made known unto them thy name, and will make it known; that the love wherewith thou lovedst me may be in them, and I in them.

Friday before dawn.

John 18:12-14, 19-23.

12 So the 'band and the 'chief captain, and the officers of the Jews, 13 seized Jesus and bound him, and led him to Annas first; for he was 14 father in law to Caiaphas, which was high priest that year. Now Caiaphas was he which gave counsel to the Jews, that it was expedient that one man should die for the people.

19 The high priest therefore asked Jesus of his disciples, and of his 20 teaching. Jesus answered him, I have spoken openly to the world; I ever taught in *synagogues, and in the temple, where all the Jews 21 come together; and in secret spake I nothing. Why askest thou me?

*Each of the four Gospels records three denials; but the details differ considerably, as must always be the case where in each narrative a few facts are selected out of many sayings and doings. We have seen (footnote on $125) that there were three stages of the Jewish trial, (1) before Annas, (2) before Caiaphas and the Sanhedrin for informal examination, (3) before them in a formal trial. Now John gives only the first of the three stages, Luke only the last, Matthew and Mark give the second stage fully, and the third in brief mention. If Peter's denials ran through all three (and Luke says in ver. 59 that there was an hour between his second and third denials), then no one of the four Gospels could give each of the denials precisely at the time of its occurrence; and so each Gospel merely throws them together, as in another way we here bring them together in one section. There is no difficulty about the substantial fact of the denials; and we must be content with our inability to arrange all the circumstances into a complete programme.

*Golgotha is the Aramaic word for 'skull,' and Calvary is the Latin word. The place cannot have been where the so-called "Church of the Holy Sepulchre" stands, far within the walls. There is of late a rapidly growing agreement that it was the northern end of the Temple hill, whose rounded summit (without the city wall), and southern face with holes in the rock, looks at a little distance much like a skull. This place fulfils all the conditions.

*Of this period we see that he remained at or near Jerusalem for a week (§139). Then he probably left at once for Galilee (Matt, 257; Mark 167). In the month that followed we cannot fix the exact time of the events that occurred in Galilee (§140, 141), but just at the end of the forty days we find him again in Jerusalem (§142-3).

the had already risen at early dawn on the first day of the week. He was buried (§133d) shortly before sunset on Friday, and at sunset the subbath began. So he lay in the tomb a small part of Friday, all of saturday, and 10 or 11 hours of Sunday. This corresponds exactly with the seven times repeat of statement that he would or did rise 'on the third day,' which could not possibly mean after 72 hours. The pursse 2 or 31 imes given, "after three days," naturally denoted for Jews, as for Greeks and Romans, a whole central day and any part of a first and third, thus agreeing with "on the third day." Even the "three days and three nights" of Matt. 12:4) need not, according to known Jewish usage, near more than we have described. So these expressions can be reconciled with "on the third day," and with the facts as recorded, while "on the third day," and with the

And behold, two of them were going that very day to a village named Emmaus, which three-score furlongs they communed with each other of all these things which 15 had happened. And it came to pass, while they communed and questioned together, that Jesus himself drew near, and went 16 with them. But their eyes were holden 17 that they should not know him. And he said unto them, 'What communications are these that ye have one with another, as ye And they stood still, looking sad. 18 And one of them, named Cleopas, answering

And he said unto them, O foolish men, and slow of heart to believe 26 in all that the prophets have spoken! Behoved it not the Christ to suffer these 27 things, and to enter into his glory? And beginning from Moses and from all the prophets, he interpreted to them in all the serip-28 tures the things concerning himself. And they drew nigh unto the village, whither they were going: and he made as though he 29 would go further. And they constrained him, saying, Abide with us: for it is toward evening, and the day is now far spent. And 30 he went in to abide with them. And it came to pass, when he had sat down with them to meat, he took the bread, and blessed 31 it, and brake, and gave to them. And their eyes were opened, and they knew him; and 32 he vanished out of their sight. And they said one to another, Was not our heart burning within us, while he spake to us in the way, while he opened to us the scriptures?

33 And they rose up that very hour, and returned to Jerusalem, and found the eleven gathered together, and them that were with them,

John 21.

1 After these things Jesus manifested himself again to the disciples 2 at the sea of Tiberias; and he manifested himself on this wise. There were together Simon Peter, and Thomas called ¹Didymus, and Nathanael of Cana in Galilee, and the sons of Zebedee, and two other

3 of his disciples. Simon Peter saith unto them, I go a fishing. They say unto him, We also come with thee. They went forth, and entered 4 into the boat; and that night they took nothing. But when day was now breaking, Jesus stood on the beach; howbeit the disciples knew 5 not that it was Jesus. Jesus therefore said unto them. Children, have 6 ye aught to eat? They answered him, No. And he said unto them. Cast the net on the right side of the boat, and ye shall find. They cast therefore, and now they were not able to draw it for the multitude 7 of fishes. That disciple therefore whom Jesus loved saith unto Peter, It is the Lord. So when Simon Peter heard that it was the Lord, he girt his coat about him (for he was naked), and cast himself into the 8 sea. But the other disciples came in the little boat (for they were not far from the land, but about two hundred cubits off), dragging the 9 net full of fishes. So when they got out upon the land, they see a fire 10 of coals there, and is is laid thereon, and ibread. Jesus saith unto 11 them, Bring of the fish which ye have now taken. Simon Peter therefore went sup, and drew tho net to land, full of great fishes, a hundred and fifty and three: and for all there were so many, the net 12 was not rent. Jesus saith unto them, Come and break your fast. And none of the disciples durst inquire of him, Who art thou? knowing 13 that it was the Lord. Jesus cometh, and taketh the bread, and giveth 14 them, and the fish likewise. This is now the third time that Jesus was manifested to the disciples, after he was risen from the dead.

15 So when they had broken their fast, Jesus saith to Simon Peter, Simon, son of John, slovest thou me more than these? He saith unto Simon, son of John, slovest thou me more than these? He saith unto him, Yea, Lord; thou knowest that I slove thee. He saith unto him, 16 Feed my lambs. He saith to him again a second time, Simon, son of John, slovest thou me? He saith unto him, Yea, Lord; thou knowest 17 that I nove thee. He saith unto him, Tend my sheep. He saith unto him the third time, Simon, son of John, novest thou me? Peter was grieved because he said unto him the third time, Lord, thou knowest all things; thou knowest that I nove thee. Jesus saith unto him, Feed my sheep.

18 Verily, verily, I say unto thee, When thou wast young, thou girdedst

18 Verily, verily, I say unto thee, When thou wast young, thou girdedst thyself, and walkedst whither thou wouldest: but when thou shalt be old, thou shalt stretch forth thy hands, and another shall gird thee, 19 and carry thee whither thou wouldest not. Now this he spake, signifying by what manner of death he should glorify God. And when he 20 had spoken this, he saith unto him, Follow me. Peter, turning about, seeth the disciple whom Jesus loved following; which also leaned back on his breast at the supper, and said, Lord, who is he 21 that betrayeth thee? Peter therefore seeing him saith to Jesus, 22 Lord, "and what shall this man do? Jesus saith unto him, If I will 23 that he tarry till I come, what is that to thee? follow thou me. This saying therefore went forth among the brethren, that that disciple should not die; yet Jesus said not unto him, that he should not die; but, If I will that he tarry till I come, what is that to thee?

24 This is the disciple which beareth witness of these things, and wrote these things: and we know that his witness is true.

25 And there are also many other things which Jesus did, the which if they should be written every one, I suppose that even the world itself would not contain the books that should be written.

EXPLANATORY NOTES ON POINTS OF SPECIAL DIFFICULTY IN THE HARMONY OF THE GOSPELS.

BY A. T. ROBERTSON.

In explaining a difficulty, it is always to be remembered that even a possible explanation is sufficient to meet the objector. possible explanations are suggested, it becomes all the more unreasonable for one to contend that the discrepancy is irreconcilable. It is a work of supererogation to proceed to show that this or that explanation is the real solution of the problem. Sometimes, owing to new light, this might be possible, but it is never necessary. And by reason of the meagre information we have on many points in the gospel narrative, it may always be impossible in various cases to present a solution satisfactory in every point. The harmonist has done his duty, if he can show a reasonable explanation of the problem before him. Let no one be upset by the numerous theories about such matters, nor be seized with a nervous anxiety to apply the square and rule to every expression of different witnesses about the life of Christ. They are all true, and simply present different views of the perfect and so many-sided Man. It is to be remembered also that there is as much prejudice against the supernatural element in the Gospels as there is in favor of the accuracy of the narratives.

§1, c. The Genealogies of Christ.

Scepties of all ages, from Porphyry and Celsus to Strauss, have urged the impossibility of reconciling the difficulties in the two accounts of the descent of Jesus. Even Alford says it is impossible to reconcile them. But certainly several possible explanations have been suggested. The chief difficulties will be discussed.

- 1. In Matthew's list several discrepancies are pointed out.
- (a) It is objected that Matthew is mistaken in making three sets of fourteen each. There are only forty-one names, and this would leave one set with only thirteen. But does Matthew say he has mentioned forty-two names? He does say (1:17) that there are three sets of fourteen and divides them for us himself: "So all the generations from Abraham unto David are fourteen generations; and from David unto the carrying away to Babylon fourteen generations; and from the carrying away to Babylon unto the Christ fourteen generations." The points of division are David and the captivity; in the one case a man, in the other an event. He counts David in each of the first two sets, although Jechoniah is counted only once. David was the connecting link between the patriarchal line and the royal line. But he does not say "from David to Jechoniah," but "from David to the carrying away unto Babylon," and Josiah is the last name he counts before that event. And so the first name after this same event is Jechoniah. Thus Matthew deliberately counts David in two places to give symmetry to the division, which made an easy help to the memory.

- (b) The omissions in Matthew's list have occasioned some trouble. These omissions are after Joram, the names of Ahaziah, Joash, Amaziah, and after Josiah, that of Jehoiakim. (II. Kings 8:24; I. Chron. 3:11; II. Chron. 22:1, 11; 24:27; II. Kings 23:34; 24:6). But such omissions were very common in the Old Testament genealogies. See II. Chron. 22:9. Here "son of Jehoshaphat" means "grandson of Jehoshaphat." So in Matt. 1:1 Jesus is called the son of David, the son of Abraham. A direct line of descent is all that it is designed to express. This is all that the term "begat" necessarily means here. It is a real descent. Whatever omissions were made for various reasons, would not invalidate the line. The fact that Ahaziah, Joash, and Amaziah were the sons of Ahab and Jezebel would be sufficient ground for omitting them.
- (c) Matthew mentions four women in his list, which is contrary to Jewish custom, viz. Tamar, Rahab, Ruth, and the wife of Uriah. But neither one is counted in the lists of fourteen, and each one has something remarkable in her case (Broadus, Comm. on Matt. in loco). Three were guilty of gross sin, and one, Ruth, was of Gentile origin and deserved mention for that reason. This circumstance would seem to indicate that Matthew did not simply copy the genealogical history of Joseph. He did this, omitting what suited his purpose and adding likewise remarks of his own. His record is thus reliable and yet made a part of his own story.
 - 2. A comparison of the lists of Matthew and Luke.

If no list had been given by Luke, no further explanations would be necessary. But Luke not only gives a list, but one radically different from Matthew's, and in inverse order. Matthew begins with Abraham and comes to Jesus; Luke begins with Jesus and concludes with Adam [the son of God]. Several explanations are offered to remove the apparent contradiction.

(a) As early as Julius Africanus it was suggested that the two lines had united in accordance with the law of Levirate marriage. By this theory, Heli and Jacob being stepbrothers, Jacob married Heli's widow and was the real father of Joseph. Thus both genealogies would be the descent of Joseph, one the real, the other the legal. This theory is ably advocated by McClellan, p. 416ff., and Waddy, p. xvii. It is argued that Jechoniah's children were born in captivity and so, being slaves, lost both his royal dignity and his legal status. Stress is laid upon the word "begat" to show that Matthew's descent must be the natural pedigree of Joseph, and upon the use of the expression "son (as was supposed) of Joseph." Hence both Joseph's real and legal standing are shown, for by Luke's account he had an undisputed legal title to descend from David. This is certainly possible, although it rests on the hypothesis of the Levirate marriage.

- (b) Lord Arthur Hervey, in his volume on the Genealogies of Our Lord, and in Smith's Dictionary, argues that Matthew gives Joseph's legal descent as successor to the throne of David. According to this theory Solomon's line failed in Jechoniah (Jer. 22:30) and Shealtiel of Matthew's line took his place. Luke's account, on the other hand, gives Joseph's real parentage. Matthew's Matthan and Luke's Mattathias are identified as one, and the law of Levirate marriage comes into service with Jacob and Heli. This explanation has received favor with such writers as Mill, Alford, Wordsworth, Ellicott, Westcott, Fairbairn. The chief objection seems to be the most natural meaning of "begat," implying direct descent, and the necessity for two suppositions, one about Shealtiel and another about Jacob and Heli. It is even fairly probable that the Shealtiel and Zerubbabel of Matthew and Luke are different persons.
- (c) The third and most plausible solution yet suggested makes Matthew give the real descent of Joseph, and Luke the real descent of Mary. Several arguments of more or less weight can be adduced for this hypothesis.
- (1) The most natural meaning of "begat" in Matthew is preserved. Jesus goes through David's royal line and so fulfils prophecy. It is not elsewhere stated that Mary was of Davidie descent, although presumptive evidence exists in the language of the augel (Luke 1:32) and the enrollment of Mary (Luke 2:5). So Robinson (Revised edition).
- (2) The use of Joseph without the article, while it is used with every other name in the list. "The absence of the article puts the name outside of the genealogical series properly so-called."—Godet. This would seem to indicate that Joseph belonged to the parenthesis, "as was supposed." It would read thus, "being son (as was supposed of Joseph) of Heli." Luke had already clearly stated the manner of Christ's birth, so that no one would think he was the son of Joseph. Jesus would thus be Heli's grandson, an allowable meaning of "son." See Andrews' (new edition) Life of Our Lord, p. 63.

- (3) It would seem proper that Matthew should give the legal descent of Jesus, since he wrote chiefly for Jews. This, of course, could only be through Joseph.
- (4) And it would seem equally fitting that Luke should give the real genealogy of Jesus, since he was writing for all. And this could come only through Mary. If it is objected that a woman's genealogy is never given, it may be replied that women are mentioned for special reasons in Matthew's list, though not counted, and that Mary's name is not mentioned in this list. The genealogy goes back to her father either by skipping her as suggested above and making son mean the grandson of Heli, or by allowing Joseph to stand in her place in the list, as he would have to do anyhow. On the whole, then, this theory seems the most plausible and pleasing. So practically Luther, Bengel, Olshausen, Lightfoot, Wieseler, Robinson, Alexander, Godet. Weiss, Andrews (new edition, p. 65), Broadus, Clark.

₹ 7. THE PROBABLE TIME OF THE SAVIOUR'S BIRTH.

Every one now understands that the accepted date of our Lord's birth is wrong by several years. The estimates of the true date vary all the way from one to seven years B.C. There are various data that fix the year with more or less certainty, but none of them with absolute precision. They do, however, agree in marking pretty clearly a narrow limit for this notable occurrence.

1. The death of Herod the Great is relied on with most certainty to fix the year of Christ's birth. The rule of Archelaus and Antipas demands B.C. 4. Josephus mentions an eclipse of the moon which occurred shortly before he died. Ant. xvii. 6, 4. This eclipse is the only one alluded to by Josephus, and fixes with absolute certainty the time after which the birth of Jesus could not have occurred, since. according to Matt. 2:1-6, Jesus was born while Herod was still living. The question to be determined would be the year of this eclipse. Astronomical calculations name an eclipse of the moon March 12 and 13, in the year of Rome 750, and no eclipse occurred the following year that was visible in Palestine. Josephus (Ant. xvii. 8, 1,) says that Herod died thirty-seven years after he was declared king by the Romans. In 714 he was proclaimed king, and this would bring his death, counting from Nisan to Nisan, as Josephus usually does, "in the year from 1st Nisan 750 to 1st Nisan 751, according to Jewish computation, at the age of seventy" (Andrews). Herod died shortly before the Passover of 750, theu, according to the eclipse and the length of his reign. Caspari contends for Jan. 24, 753, as the date of Herod's death, because there was a total eclipse of the moon Jan. 10. So he puts his death fourteen days later. Mr. Page (New Light from Old Eclipses) argues for the eclipse that occurred July 17, 752, as the one preceding Herod's death. He thinks that this makes unnecessary the subtraction of two years from the reign of Tiberius on the theory that Tiberius was contemporary ruler with Augustus for two years. But he finds difficulty in lengthening Herod's reign so long, and his theory has gained no great acceptance as yet. Our present era makes the birth of Christ in the year of Rome 754, and is due to the Abbot Dionysius Exiguus in the Sixth Century. Hence it is clear that if Herod died in the early spring of 750, Jesus must have been born at least four years before 754, the common era, and likely in the year 749.

- 2. It has been inferred by some that Jesus was at least two or three years old when Herod slaughtered the infants in Bethlehem, Matt. 2:16. Thus the year would be put two years further back to the end of 747 or beginning of 748. But this is not demanded by the "two years" of Matthew, for Herod would naturally extend the limit so as to be sure to include the child in the number slain, and a child just entering the second year would be called "two years" old by Jewish custom. No more definite note of time comes from this circumstance, save that the massacre probably took place some months before Herod's death, which fact would bring the Saviour's birth back some time into the year 749.
- 3. The appearance of the "star in the east" (Matt. 2:2). This, of course, was before Herod's death, and would agree in time with the slaughter of the children, if the star be looked upon as a supernatural phenomenon, and not the wise men's interpretation of a natural conjunction of planets. Kepler first suggested that, as there was a conjunction of Jupiter and Saturn in 747, to which Mars was added in 748, this conjunction might have been the bright star that led on the wise men. See Wieseler, Synopsis, p. 57. Kepler had also suggested that a periodical star or a comet might have joined the constellation. The Chinese records preserve the account of the appearance of a comet in the spring of 749. Either of these theories is fascinating in itself, especially to those minds that prefer a natural explanation of anything that looks miraculous. Both phenomena are possible in themselves, but they hardly meet the requirements of the record in Matthew. (1) The word used is aster, star, and not astron, a group of stars. (2) Rev. C. Pritchard, whose calculations have been verified at Greenwich (Smith's Dict.), has shown that those "planets could never have appeared as one star, for they never approached each other within double the apparent diameter of the moon." So Ideler's hypothesis that the wise men all had weak eyes seems rather feeble. (3) The year 747 would conflict slightly with other evidence for Christ's birth that favors 749, although Wieseler, p. 53, note 4, contends that the star first appeared to the wise men two years before their visit, and a second time on their visit to Bethlehem. (4) Besides, the star is said to have stood over "where the young child was," v. 9. If it were a natural star it would have kept going as they went, and would not have stopped till they stopped. Even then it would appear as far away as ever from Bethlehem. It seems best, therefore, to admit the existence of a miracle here, and hence gain nothing from the visit of the Magi to establish the date of the Saviour's birth, save that it was not long before the slaughter of the infants, and would at least agree with the date 749. See Broadus, Comm. in loco.

- 4. The language of the heavenly host in Luke 2:14 is urged by some as fixing the birth at a time when there was universal peace throughout the world. The closing of the temple of Janus in the time of Augustus is also adduced, but it is not certainly known when it was closed apart from 725 and 729. It was intended to be closed at the end of 744, but was delayed on account of trouble among the Daci and Dalmatae. See Greswell i. 469. Nothing specific can be obtained from this fact, save that there was a time of comparative quiet in the Roman world from 746 to 752. There was a hush in the clangor of war when Jesus was born.
- 5. The entrance of John the Baptist upon his ministry gives us another note of time. See Luke 3:1 f. John emerged from the wilderness seclusion in the fifteenth year of the reign of Tiberius. Augustus died August 29, 767. Adding fifteen years to this, the fifteenth year of Tiberius would begin August 29, 781. John was of a priestly family and so could naturally enter upon his work when thirty years of age. Thirty years subtracted from this gives 751, as the date of John's birth. But that is too late by two years to agree with the other date. Here, however, the Roman histories come to our help. Tacitus, Ann. 1,3: "Tiberius is adopted by Augustus as his son, and colleague in empire." Vell. Pat. 2, 121; "At the request of Augustus, Tiberius was invested with equal authority in all the provinces." So Suetonius Aug. 97 and Tib. 21. It is clear then, that Tiberius reigned jointly with Augustus about two years before he assumed full control of the empire at the death of Augustus. Luke could have used either date, but Tiberius' power was already equal to that of Augustus in the provinces two years before his death. Luke would naturally use the provincial point of view. Taking off the two years from the joint reign of Augustus, we again come to the year 749, as John was born six months before Jesus. So if John was born in the early part of the spring, Jesus would have been born in the summer or fall of 749.

- 6. The age of Jesus at his entrance upon his ministry, Luke 3:23. "And Jesus himself, when he began to teach, was about thirty years of age." So most modern scholars. Meyer, Wieseler, Alford, Ellicott. Wordsworth, etc. Origen refers it to the beginning of a new life, by the second birth of baptism, after his spiritualizing fashion. The Authorized Version has it: "And Jesus himself began to be about thirty years of age," applying the "beginning" to the period of thirty years. McClellan argues that it means "about thirty years, beginning;" that is, a little the rise of thirty years. The Revised Version seems to be preferable and the only doubt would be as to what is included in the phrase "about thirty years." It has been variously argued that Jesus was from one to three years younger or older than thirty. It seems more reasonable to give the words the meaning that he was just about thirty, a few months under or over. So Edersheim, Meyer, Alford, Tischendorf. DeWette, Norton. The argument that Jesus had to be exactly thirty years old because the priest had to be so, when he entered upon his work, has no great force. For Jesus was not a priest save in a spiritual sense. John had been preaching no great while when Jesus was baptized by him and so entered upon his public ministry. If John began his ministry when he was thirty years old in the fifteenth year of Tiberius, then Jesus's ministry would begin about six months later. His birth would then come in the latter part of 749, unless John was born in the latter part of 748, when it would be earlier in the year.
- 7. The building of the temple of Herod gives a further elue to the date of Christ's birth. In John 2:20, the Jews say, "Forty and six years was this temple in building." Josephus tells us in one place that Herod began rebuilding the temple in the fifteenth year of his reign, War. I. 21,1, and in another that he did so in the eighteenth year of his reign. Ant. XV. 11,1. In the account of Herod's death, Ant. XVII. 8,1, he used two dates for his reign, according as he counted from his declaration as king by the Romans 714, or the death of Antigonus 717. Eighteen and fifteen would both be correct, according as he reckoned from the one date or the other. Eighteen added to forty-six and both to 714 would make 778. It was at the first Passover in his ministry that this expression is used. It has been probably six months since his baptism. If thirty and a half years be taken from 778, his birth would be thrown back to the year 747, unless the forty-six years be taken as completed, when it would be 748. So Robinson. But this does not quite agree with the other notes of time we have. Many modern harmonists count the eighteen years from 717, and so bring the whole number, adding forty-six, down to 780, or, if the years are complete, 781. Thirty and a half from this would give the autumn of 749 or 750. So substantially McClellan, Andrews, Clark, Thomson (Smith's Diet.), Meyer, Wieseler, Weiss, Godet, Edersheim, Lardner, Tischendorf. This is done because Josephus usually reckons Herod's reign from the death of Antigonus, 717. On the whole it seems clear that Josephus is wrong in the War. The temple was begun the year that the Emperor came to Syria, as is plain from Josephus. According to Dio Cassius LIV., 7, this visit was made in B.C. 20 or 19. Correcting Josephus by hirself and by Dio Cassius we thus again get B.C. 5 as the probable year of the birth of Christ. See Schuerer, History of the Jewish People in the Time of Jesus Christ, Div. I., Vol. I., p. 410. Caspari urges the year 713 as the time when Herod was proclaimed king by the Romans. This would make the year 748 or 749.

- 8. The census of Augustus Cæsar mentioned in Luke 2:1f., furnishes the last note of time for this event. This subject is involved in a great many difficulties, and for a full discussion, the reader is referred to McClellan, who presents quite an array of testimony.
- (1) It used to be said that no census was ever taken by Augustus, but heathen writers mention three, in 726, 746, 767. One of these, 746, may be the one here mentioned, which was delayed for various reasons, or which was executed slowly in the distant provinces. But it is not necessary that the phrase "all the world" should be pressed to its literal meaning, though this is more natural. Nor does the argument from silence prove that no other general census was taken by Augustus.
- (2) It is not a "taxing," but an "enrollment" (Rev. Ver.) that was taken. There was a taxing later (Acts 5:37). And if it were done while Herod was king, Augustus could not have taxed Judea without Herod's consent.
- (3) This helps to explain another objection that the enrollment would not have included Judea anyhow, because it was not yet a province, but a kingdom. But it is not likely that Herod would have displeased Augustus by refusing such information if it was desired. Tacitus asserts that the regna, the dependent kingdoms, were included in the census taken by Augustus.
- (4) Hence, also, it is natural that the enrollment should have taken place according to the Jewish and not according to the Roman method, because Herod would wish it to be in accordance with the customs of his kingdom. So every one went to his own city.
- (5) We now have to meet the objection that Quirinius was not governor till ten years later, A.D. 6, when a taxing did occur. (See Acts 5:37.) Various answers are given. (a) Two statements are made here; one is that the decree went forth, which was begun by Herod, but was interrupted by his death. This enrollment was completed by Quirinius ten years later. This seems hardly likely since Luke specially says "first" and seems to point to the second in Acts 5:37. (b) But the first enrollment may have been undertaken by Herod, which was completed about 750 by Quirinius, who might thus have succeeded Varus as Procurator of Judea. We may suppose that Quirinius was twice governor of Svria. A gap exists in the history of Quirinius in the years 748-752, so that it is possible. (c) The term "governor" may have a special meaning. Quirinius, as the superior officer, may have had special powers granted for this census, which they both may have carried on after Herod's death. McClellan suggests the possibility of a plurality of Procurators. Varus, Legatine governorship, and Quirinius, the Fiscal governorship. Prof. Ramsay's book, Was Christ Born at Bethlehem, has shown the entire likelihood of Luke's correctness from the periodical census used by Augustus every fourteen years.

Few subjects have excited as much interest, even needless curiosity, as the date of the birth of the Saviour. But it is noticeable that by the masses of Christians more interest is taken in the day of Christ's birth than in the year. The Christmas festivities and the natural desire to make that the birthday of Jesus cause this widespread interest in December 25. Not only is it impossible to determine with any degree of certainty the day of the month, but the time of the year also is equally uncertain. The chief thing that appears proved is that December 25 is not the time, since the shepherds would hardly be in the fields at night with the flocks, which were usually taken into the folds in November and kept in till March. The nights of December would scarcely allow watching in the mountain fields even as far South as Bethlehem. And besides, the long journey from Nazareth to Bethlehem would hardly be made by Joseph and Mary in winter, the rainy season. McClellan argues for December 25, but his arguments are not convincing. The ancients had various days for Christ's birth: May 20 (Clement of Alexandria), April 20, December 25, January 5. Tertullian and others even say that the day of his birth (December 25) was kept in the register at Rome. But chronologists attach little weight to this testimony, since the same tradition puts the birth of John, June 24; the annunciation of Mary, March 25, and Elizabeth's conception, September 25-the four cardinal points of the year. If one might hazard an opinion, it would be that the birth of Jesus occurred in the summer or early in the fall of 749.

§37. THE FEAST OF JOHN 5:1, AND THE DURATION OF OUR LORD'S MINISTRY.

It seems almost impossible to decide with certainty what feast is alluded to in John 5:1. One can only speak with moderation where everything is so doubtful. Various feasts have been suggested as solving the problem.

- 1. The Feast of Dedication has been proposed by Kepler and Petavius. But this view has met with no great amount of favor, for there is too short an interval between the first Passover and December, when it occurred. It might be a later Feast of Dedication, but this feast was not one of the great feasts and would hardly have drawn Jesus all the way from Galilee to attend it. He did attend this feast once, (John 10:22), but he was already in Judea at this time, having come up to attend the Feast of Tabernacles (John 7:2, 14). So Robinson, Clark, etc. So this feast seems to be ruled out of the question.
- 2. The Feast of Tabernacles is advocated by Ebrard, Ewald, Patritius. It is very unlikely that the Feast of Tabernacles after the first Passover could be meant, as the Saviour did not return to Galilee for sometime afterwards. He could hardly have come back so soon to Jerusalem. But the Feast of Tabernacles after the Passover of John 6:4 is mentioned later, John 7:2f., which Jesus attended, it seems, because he was hindered from going up to the previous Passover by the murderous designs of the Jews. It is possible that the feast of John 5:1 may have been the Feast of Tabernacles after a Passover not mentioned, and so would come after the second Passover of his public ministry. But we do not know that Jesus attended any other Feast of Tabernacles save the one in John 7:2, which he may have done because he missed the preceding Passover.
- 3. The Feast of Purim, first suggested by Kepler, has had great favor with modern harmonists. So Lange, Tholuck, Ellicott, Wieseler, Tischendorf, Winer, Neander, Olshausen, Meyer, who says, "Without doubt it was Purim." But it is by no means so certain as Meyer would have us believe. (a) Meyer relies on John 4:35 and 6:4 to show that this was the Feast of Purim just before John 6:4. But the expression, "Say not ye, There are yet four months and then cometh the harvest?" may be, and probably is, a proverbial saying indicating the usual length of time between sowing and reaping, which, as a matter of fact, was about four months. Hence nothing can be determined by this note of time. And, besides, the four months could precede the Passover just as well as Purim, because the sowing lasted a month or so. (b) The Feast of Purim occurred a month before the Passover. Is it at all likely that two circuits of all Galilee were made in the meantime, besides much work of other kinds? See Luke 8:1 and Matt. 9:25-38. The three general circuits throughout Galilee, besides the mission of the twelve and a large part of their training, the general statements about the Master's work of preaching and healing, require an expansion rather than a contraction of the time for this period of his ministry. It seems then quite unreasonable, when once the mind takes in this enlarged conception of the missionary work of Jesus, as recorded by the Synoptic Gospels, to limit it to the amount of work mentioned by John, since he omits much of the early ministry, because, it would seem, the others are so full just here. (c) The Feast of Purim, moreover, was observed at home in the synagogues, and not by going to Jerusalem. See Esther 9:22 and Jos. Ant. xi. 6, 13. But "the multitude" (John 5:13) seems to imply (Robinson) a concourse of strangers at one of the great festivals. (d) It seems hardly probable, besides, that Jesus would go to any feast just a month before the Passover and come back to Galilee and not go to the Passover itself (John 6:4). Least of all would he do this in the case of Purim. (e) The man who was healed at this feast was healed on the Sabbath (John 5:9), and this occasioned the outburst among the people. But the Feast of Purim was never eelebrated on the Sabbath, and when it came on a Sabbath it was postponed. See Reland, Antiq. Sacr. 4, 9. So Robinson and Clark.

- 4. Pentecost is held to be the feast here alluded to by many early and some later writers, such as Chrysostom, Cyril of Alex., Erasmus, Calvin, Bengel, Norris, McClellan. Norris makes it the Pentecost after the first Passover, but to do this, has to crowd into this short interval Christ's first Judean ministry, the journey through Samaria together with the first part of his Galilean ministry. So this idea has little weight. McClellan argues that the allusions of Jesus in John 5:17–47, "infallibly point to Pentecost," meaning the Pentecost after a second Passover that is not mentioned. He further contends that this best suits the chronological arrangement and the term "a feast of the Jews." This view is certainly possible and cannot be positively disproved, although it is not so "infallibly" clear as McClellan imagines.
- 5. The Passover has always met with many adherents, being the second Passover in the Saviour's ministry and making four in all (John 2:13; 5:1; 6:4; 12:1). So Luther, Grotius, Lightfoot, LeClerc, Hengstenberg, Greswell, Robinson, Clark, Smith's B. D., Broadus, etc. The arguments in favor of this interpretation are the most satisfactory. We cannot consider them as absolutely conclusive, yet the Passover meets all sides of the case better than any of the other feasts. (a) The plucking of ears from standing grain by the disciples (Luke 6:1,) would indicate a time after the Passover and before Pentecost. This incident appears to have happened after the feast mentioned in John 5:1. (b) It is fairly implied (John 5:1) that the feast took Jesus to Jerusalem. Passover would more likely be the one to lead him there. It is expressly stated that he attended two Passovers and a special reason is given for his not attending a third. If there was another passover in his ministry, this would naturally be the one. (c) This snits best the hostility manifested at this feast, which would have time to become acute (Broadus' Comm. on Matt.) and break out with increased vigor in Galilee and prevent his attending the next Passover (John 6:4; 7:1). (d) If this Passover be a second Passover of the ministry, sufficient time is afforded for the great Galilean ministry without artificial crowding. His ministry would be long enough to allow the great work recorded as done by him. Only two serious objections can be urged to this idea. (1) It is objected that the article would be used with "feast," if the Passover were thus mentioned as the feast. But to this we can reply: (a) The article is sometimes omitted when the Passover is meant (Matt. 27:15: Mark 15:6). (b) The absence of the article proves nothing whatever one way or the other. No conclusion can be drawn for or against the idea of the Passover. (c) The article does occur in many manuscripts, including the Sinaitic, and is put in the margin of the Revised Version. So nothing can be gained against this theory here. (2) The chief objection is that Jesus would not have remained so long away from Jerusalem, a year and six months, from the Second Passover till the Feast of Tabernacles after the Third Passover. But (a) we do not know that he did not attend any other feast in that time, for silence proves nothing; and (b) a good reason is given for his failure to attend the Third Passover, which may have applied to the others, if he did not go, viz., the desire of the Jews to kill him (John 7:1).

Hence it is natural that there should be a variety of opinions as to the length of the Saviour's ministry, varying all the way from one to four years, leaving out mere guesses based on five and more Passovers. Mc-Knight argues that the ministry may have lasted five or more full years, since all the Passovers of Christ's ministry may not be mentioned.

- (1) The Bi-paschal theory makes the time of the public life of Jesus one year, allowing only two Passovers to the Gospel of John. Browne in his Ordo Sacclorum advocates this view. But the words, "the Passover," in John 6:4 must be omitted, and for this there is not enough documentary evidence. If this could be done, Westcott thinks Browne would make out a good case. But with the present text, his view cannot be entertained.
- (2) The Tri-paschal theory finds only three Passovers in the life of Christ. Hence the public work of Jesus would be from two to two and a half years in length. So Wieseler, Godet, Caspari, Tischendorf, Stier, Ellicott, Farrar, etc. These writers usually make the feast of John 5:1 Purim before the Passover of John 6:4. or Pentecost after it.

(3) The Quadri-paschal theory contends for four Passovers and a ministry of from three to three and a half years. This theory follows from making John 5:1 a Passover or Purim before or Pentecost or Tabernacles after an unnamed Passover. This seems to be the more probable length of the Saviour's public work on earth. How short a space was even this to compass such a marvellous work. So Robinson, Andrews, McClellan, Clark, Broadus, Waddy, Smith's B. D. It would be certain that the Saviour's public life lasted about three years and a half, if it was admitted that John 5:1 referred to a Passover. Various writers seek to find an allusion to the three years of the Saviour's ministry in the Parable of the Barren Fig Tree (Luke 13:6), but this application of the parable is by no means certain, since three might naturally be used as a round number.

₹ 41. THE FOUR LISTS OF THE TWELVE APOSTLES.

It is interesting to compare the four lists of Jesus' chosen apostles as given by Matthew, Mark, Luke, and Acts.

Matthew 10:2f.	Mark 3:16f.	Luke 6:14f.	Acts 1:13f.
1. Simon Peter	. Simon Peter.	Simon Peter.	Simon Peter.
2. Andrew.	James.	Andrew.	James.
3. James.	John.	James.	John.
4. John.	Andrew.	John.	Andrew.
5. Philip.	Philip.	Philip.	Philip.
6. Bartholomev	v. Bartholomew.	Bartholomew.	Thomas.
7. Thomas.	Matthew.	Matthew.	Bartholomew.
8. Matthew.	Thomas.	Thomas.	Matthew.
9. James the so of Alpheu		James the son of Alpheus.	James the son of Alpheus.
10. Thaddeus.	Thaddeus.	Simon the Zeal- ot.	Simon the Zeal- ot.
11. Simon the C	a- Simon the Ca- nanæan.	Judas the broth- er of James.	Judas the broth- er of James.
12. Judas Iscario	ot. Judas Iscariot.	Judas Iscariot.

Let us examine the names here given.

(1) The lists are given some time after the selection was made, and hence may represent a later grouping according to later developments in this inner circle.

- (2) One mark of an apostle was that he should have been with the Lord from the baptism of John until the day that he was received up (Acts 1:21f). Perhaps no great stress is to be laid on any exact time here, provided it began in the time of John. An apostle must know the Lord. Hence Paul received the vision of Christ. We have some knowledge of seven of these apostles before this time. If we infer from John 1:41 that John followed the example of Andrew in finding his own brother, it was not long till James was a disciple as well as John, Andrew, and Peter. Philip and Nathanael are soon added to the list (John 1:43f). Later Matthew hears the call of the Saviour, too (Matt. 9:9; Mark 2:13f). Of the other five we have no knowledge previous to this occasion. Jesus had "found" them by the same insight that led to his other selections. He chose Judas, though knowing that he was a devil.
- (3) Observe the three groups of four, headed by Simon Peter, Philip, and James the son of Alpheus, respectively. The great variety in the arrangement of the other names makes this uniformity significant. It seems clear that there are three recognized groups among the apostles (Bengel, Broadus, Clark). Each group has the same persons in every list, although there is such a variety in the order. In the first group Matthew and Luke have the same order, while Mark and Acts agree. In the second group Mark and Luke have a like order, while Matthew and Acts agree in putting Matthew at the end of this group. In the third group Matthew and Mark agree exactly, while Luke and Acts are identical save the dropping out of Judas Iscariot from the list in Acts because of his apostasy and death. No great importance can be attached to the precise order within the groups since Luke, in the Gospel and Acts, gives a different arrangement in the first and second groups.
- (4) Observe also that Simon Peter not only stands at the head of his group, but at the head of all the groups, while Judas Iscariot is always at the bottom till he drops out entirely. Simon occupied a position of precedence of some sort. He was one of the inner circle of three that was so close to the Saviour's heart. Perhaps it was this, rather than any notion of primacy in authority or power. He was the spokesman because of his natural impetuosity. The question as to who should be greatest among the apostles illustrates the spirit of rivalry about precedence that existed among them.
- (5) There are among the Twelve three pairs of brothers—Simon and Andrew, James and John, James the son of Alpheus and Judas the brother of James. The first two pairs form the first group of the Twelve. It is, however, uncertain whether Judas is the brother or the son of James. The Greek is ambiguous, James's Judas. The Revised Version translated it "Judas son of James," but the Epistle of Jude begins

"Judas a servant of Jesus Christ and brother of James." But the Jude of the Epistle and the Judas of the Twelve were hardly the same. Cf. Broadus, Comm. on Matt., p. 216.

(6) There are some apparent discrepancies in the names in the various lists. Bartholomew occurs in every list, but is generally understood to be another name for Nathanael. Thaddeus is also called Judas the brother of James. Matthew and Mark give Thaddeus, and Luke in Gospel and Acts gives Judas the brother of James. It was a very common circumstance for one to have two names. Lebbeus, given in some MSS. in Matthew and Mark, is only a marginal explanation of Thaddeus. Both are terms of endearment. Matthew and Mark again call Simon the Cananæan, while Luke in the Gospel and Acts speaks of him as Simon the Zealot. But "Zealot" is simply a translation into Greek of the Aramaic "Cananæan." Jesus gave the other Simon the name "Cephas," which was translated into the Greek "Peter," meaning rock. He is called by all three names in the New Testament. Matthew likewise had another name, Levi, and Thomas was also called Didymus, which was a Greek translation of Thomas, meaning "twin."

342. The Sermon on the Mount.

Do Matthew and Luke record the same discourse? Let us consider the several theories on this subject. My own view will be stated last.

- 1. Some hold that the two discourses are entirely distinct in time, place, circumstances and audience. So Greswell, Anger, Patritius. Clark. The arguments for this theory usually presented are these.
- (a) The time of delivery of the two sermons appears to be different. Matthew gives the sermon before his call (Matt. 9:9), while Luke precedes his sermon by the call of the twelve. Hence Matthew's discourse comes quite a while before Luke's in the early Galilean ministry. But it may be well replied that, inasmuch as Matthew's arrangement in ch. 8-13 is not chronological, but topical, it is entirely possible, even likely, that the same arrangement should prevail in ch. 5-7. It is perfectly natural that Matthew, writing for Jewish readers and about the Messianic reign, should give at the beginning of his account of that reign the formal principles that rule in this new state of affairs, as proclaimed by Jesus on a later occasion. In the early part of the ministry of Jesus, besides, the hearers would hardly be prepared for so advanced and radical ideas. Besides, Matthew makes no note of time whatever for this discourse.
- (b) The place appears to be different. One is on a mountain (Matt. 5:1), while the other is on a plain (Luke 6:17). Hence the one is called by Clark the Sermon on the Mount, and the other the Sermon on the Plain. If it is necessary that "plain" here shall mean a place away from a mountain, down in a valley, this would seem to refer to a different place. McClellan seeks to show that Luke uses "and" in 6:17-20 by way of anticipation. He presents for effective grouping events that happened after Jesus came down out of the mountain before he gives the sermon delivered to the whole body of disciples up in the mountain. This is possible, but another interpretation is much more likely. The plain here is really simply "a level place" (Rev. Ver.). So then the two accounts of Matthew and Luke will harmonize quite well. Jesus first went up into the mountain to pray (Luke 6:12) and selected and instructed the Twelve. Afterwards he came down to a level place on the mountain side whither the crowds had gathered, and stood there and wrought miracles (Luke 6:17). He then went up a little higher into the mountain where he could sit down and see and teach the multitudes (Matt. 5:1). Matthew gives the multitudes as the reason for his going up into the mountain. By this arrangement any discrepancy between "sat" in Matthew and "stood" in Luke disappears. Waddy has given an admirable arrangement of the material at this point in Note C, p. xix. Many writers affirm that the tradition mentioned by Jerome, making the Horns of Hattin the place where the Sermon on the Mount was delivered, suits this explanation exactly. There is a level place on it where the crowds could have assembled. It is not necessary to insist that this mountain is the Mount of Beatitudes, nor need we contend, as Robinson does, that the mountain must be very close to Capernaum.

(c) The audience is different. Matthew (4:25) states that his audience was composed of "great multitudes from Galilce and Decapolis and Jerusalem and Judea and from beyond Jordan," while Luke (6:17) says that there was "a great multitude of his disciples, and a great number of the people from all Judea and Jerusalem, and the sea coast of Tyre and Sidon." Matthew says (5:1) also that "his disciples came unto him." Hence both assemblages were composed of great multitudes from many regions besides many of his disciples, but in neither case is Jesus said to address himself to any save his disciples, his followers (Matt. 5:1 and Luke 6:20). So in both accounts the Saviour seems to withdraw a little from the great outside crowd of curiosity seekers. But the multitudes also must have heard something of what he said, for they were astonished at his teaching (Matt. 7:28). Andrews well shows that the audience in Matthew were not mostly Jews (according to Kraft), and the audience in Luke mostly heathen. Matthew omits Tyre and Sidon, but he had already mentioned Syria (4:24), which includes Tyre and Sidon. Neither list may be complete. Hence nothing can be made out of Luke's omission of Galilee, Decapolis, and beyond Jordan. Great multitudes from the same general regions are alluded to as being present.

(d) The contents are radically different. It is objected by Alford. Greswell, etc., that Luke omits large portions of what Matthew has, so that Luke has only thirty verses, while Matthew has one hundred and seven. But this leaves out of consideration the several large portions of the same matter which Luke has placed elsewhere, or which Jesus repeated on other occasions (cf. Matt. 6:9-13 and Luke 11:2-4: Matt. 6:25-34 and Luke 12:22-31). Jesus often repeated his sayings on other occasions as all teachers do and ought to do. Neither evangelist gives a complete report of this wonderful discourse. So Matthew omits some things which Luke records (cf. Matt. 5:12 with Luke 6:23-6; Matt. 7:12 with Luke 6:31-40). Nor need we be surprised that Luke, writing generally for all Christians, omits large portions towards the beginning of the sermon that were designed especially for Jews (see Matt. 5:17-27; 6:1-18). These Matthew would be sure to record. Luke adds four wees to the beatitudes. It is unnecessary to remark upon minor variations of language, since the gospels manifestly aim to give the sense of what the Saviour said and not the verbatim words. They make no mistakes, for they quote freely, yet correctly. In each case they are incorporated into the narrative in hand. Moreover, to offset these variations, which admit of explanation, it ought to be remembered that the two discourses begin alike and end alike, that they have a general similarity in the order of the different parts, and that they show a general likeness and often absolute identity of expression.

So these differences all melt away on careful comparison, and it is not proved that there are two distinct sermons.

- 2. Another theory holds that the two sermons are distinct, but spoken on the same day, and near together. So Augustine, who is followed by Lange. The further points of this theory are two. (a) The one (Matt.) was spoken before the choice of the Apostles, to the disciples alone, and while Jesus was sitting on the mountain. (b) The other (Luke) was spoken after the choice of the Apostles, to the multitudes, and standing upon the plain. It is not hard to see that these points do not solve the question. In Matt. 7:28 we are told that the multitudes were astonished at his teaching and in Luke 6:20 that "he lifted up his eyes on his disciples, and said." So this distinction vanishes. The question of the mountain and the plain has been already discussed, and another more probable explanation suggested. It is only a conjecture that the discourse in Matthew was before the appointment of the Twelve. This theory has had no great following.
- 3. Wieseler holds that Matthew has simply brought together detached sayings of Jesus on different occasions and does not mean to present the whole as one discourse; Luke's account being only one of the discourses used by Matthew. But this violates the evident notes of place and audience and surroundings by which Matthew gives local color and east to the entire discourse. See Matt. 5:1 and 8:1. The case of the grouping of the miracles in chapters 8 and 9 is not parallel, since there Matthew does not state that they occurred on one occasion. The fact that various portions of this discourse are repeated elsewhere by Matthew is immaterial, because this was a common habit of Jesus in his discourses.

4. Both Matthew and Luke give substantially similar accounts of the same discourse. So Robinson, Tischendorf, Tholuck, Lewin, Wordsworth, Andrews, Broadus, McClellan, and most modern writers. Most of the arguments for this interpretation have been mentioned in rebuttal of the previously mentioned theories. (a) This is the most natural explanation in view of the large volume of similar matter in both, in the beginning, progress, and close of the discourse. It is always best to give the Scripture the most natural and manifest setting, when possible. (b) This theory is the most probable one, since it is hardly likely that Jesus would again make the same sermon to the same audience, and under the same circumstances. (c) There are no objections to this theory that do not admit of a probable explanation. See the discussion above. The omissions and additions in each case suit the specific purpose of the writer. The apparent contradictions, when studied carefully, blend into a harmonious whole. Hence we seem to be justified in maintaining the identity of the discourses recorded by Matthew and Luke. For a careful outline of this matchless discourse see Broadus on Matthew.

§ 75. The Combination of Luke and John.

We now have to deal with the most perplexing question in harmonistic study, the proper disposal of the mass of material furnished by Luke in 9:51-18:14. McClellan discusses ten schemes, pushes them all aside, and then suggests another which is no more convincing and equally complicated. Nothing can be attempted here but a presentation of the chief points in this endless discussion. All the principal plans for arranging this part of Luke proceed on one or the other of the following ideas:

1. Some hold that this portion of Luke is neither orderly nor chronological. Hence many of the incidents, here recorded as apparently belonging to the last six months of the Saviour's ministry, in reality are to be placed earlier. They are put here as a sort of summing up of things not mentioned elsewhere. So Robinson and others. In favor of this theory it is urged that Luke here speaks of some things that Matthew and Mark put before the third passover, such as the healing of a demoniac (Luke 11:14-36) and the blasphemy following. But it may be well replied.

- (a) It is not at all clear that we have here the same events that are recorded in Matthew and Mark. Similar miracles were often wrought in the Master's work and similar sayings were frequently repeated on similar or different occasions. This was a common habit with him, as we have heretofore seen.
- (b) This portion of Luke is his distinctive contribution to the ministry of Christ in addition to his account of the nativity. He has condensed his account of the withdrawals from Galilee, apparently to make room for the description of another part of Christ's work. Matthew and Mark almost confine themselves to the ministry in Galilee, while Luke thus devotes the bulk of his narrative to what seems to be a later ministry, after Jesus has left Galilee. It is hardly likely that this account should be a mere jumble of scattered details.
- (c) Especially is this unlikely in view of Luke's express statement (1:3) that he was going to write an orderly narrative. In no real sense could this be true, if this large section is dislocated in time and order of events.
- 2. Others refer the entire narrative (Luke 9:51-18:14) to the last journey of the Saviour to Jerusalem. So Andrews, Greswell, Lewin, McClellan, who all refer it to the last journey to the Passover. Others prefer to understand it as meaning the journey to the Feast of the Tabernacles or Dedication. Some would combine this idea with the unchronological plan noticed above. In favor of this journey being continuous and the last one to Jerusalem, the following arguments are adduced:
- (a) The language of Luke 9:51, "when the days were being completed that he should be received up," implies that the end was drawing near, and that he was setting his face towards Jerusalem to meet it. This is true without doubt, for Wieseler's interpretation of "received up" as meaning Christ's reception by man is entirely too forced. The expression points to the end of Christ's earthly career. But what does the vague expression, "the days were being completed," mean? Does it have to mean only a few weeks? May it not include as much as six months? For we know that Jesus had been instructing his disciples on this very subject expressly and pointedly, and at the Transfiguration he had spoken of his "decease." Henceforward this was the uppermost subject in his mind. So the interpretation is correct, but the inference is not necessary. This journey in Luke 9:51 need not be either just before the Passover or the Dedication. It could be as early as Tabernacles and be thus described.

- (b) It is insisted that this is Jesus' final departure from Galilee, the one described by Matthew and Mark. No place is allowed for a return to Galilee after the departure in Luke 9:51. Robinson urges that Luke 9:51 naturally means a final departure from Galilee. But it may simply mean that he left it as a sphere of activity, not that he never entered Galilee again. And then Luke 17:11 expressly says that Jesus went "through the midst of Samaria and Galilee." This means more than going on the border between the two countries, as McClellan argues. He went through some portions of Samaria and Galilee. In order for McClellan to earry out his scheme he has to resort to the artificial device of referring part of John 10:40 to the departure from Galilee, and the other half to the Perean ministry after a diversion of considerable length into Samaria and back into Galilee. So the effort is not convincing to place all the material in this large section of Luke in one last journey to Jerusalem.
- 3. The combination of Luke's narrative with that of John. Wieseler was the first to point out a possible parallel between Luke and John. John gives us three journeys,—the Feast of Tabernaeles (John 7:2ff), the journey to Bethany at the raising of Lazarus (John 11:17f), the final Passover (John 12:1). Luke likewise three times in this section speaks of Jesus going to Jerusalem, 9:51; 13:22; 17:11. Hence it would seem possible, even probable, that their journeys corresponded. If so, John 7:2-11:54 is to be taken as parallel to Luke 9:51-18:14. This plan is followed by Ellicott, Tischendorf, Clark, Broadus.

According to John's chronology, Jesus was in Jerusalem at the Feast of Tabernacles (7:2), at the Feast of Dedication (10:22), and at the Passover (12:1). Just after the Feast of the Dedication we find him abiding beyond Jordan, where John had baptized (John 10:40). From this point he comes to Bethany near Jerusalem at the raising of Lazarus (John 11:17), whence he withdraws to a little town called Ephraim in the hills north of Jerusalem (John 11:54). Here he abides awhile with his disciples away from his enemies till he goes to the Passover. Such is John's outline of these last six months of the Saviour's life.

(a) But how is all this to be reconciled with the statement of Luke (17:11) that Jesus went through Samaria and Galilee? If Jesus went back to Galilee, John would have mentioned it, we are told. Not necessarily, not unless it fell in with his plan to do so. Hence no conflict need exist between Luke and John. Luke says he went through Galilee and John permits it by the break in his narrative at 11:54. Various points in the six months have been suggested as the point when the return to Galilee was made. The most natural point is from Ephraim, whither he had withdrawn (John 11:54). It was not far to go up through Samaria and join in Galilee (Luke 17:11) the pilgrims from his own country who were in the habit of going to the Passover through Perea, to avoid passing through Samaria. This supposition is not improbable, as Robinson and McClellan urge, but very natural; it makes Luke and John both agree, and allows Luke 9:51 to mean that Jesus then left Galilee as a field of operations. Various other theories are suggested for this return to Galilee, but none of them appear as fitting as this one. It was just before the Passover, when such a journey from Galilee to Jerusalem would be made.

(b) One other point needs to be considered. The theory we hold makes the journey in Luke 9:51 identical with the one in John 7:2-10, viz., to Tabernacles. Many hold such identity to be impossible. So Andrews, Meyer, Godet, Greswell, Farrar, McCiellan, etc. Andrews makes three objections against this identity: (1) That the Lord refused to go with his brethren (John 7:6). But it was his brothers who were not favorable to him that he refused to go with. He simply wished to avoid publicity. His face was set (Luke 9:51) all the time, but he was not going with them. (2) That the manner of the going is unlike; the one in John is secret, while the one in Luke is public. But the secrecy in John may merely mean the avoidance of the caravan routes and so through Samaria (Luke). The messengers sent before were not to herald his coming to gather crowds simply, but to make ready for him. It was needed, since the Samaritans saw that his face was as if he were going to (3) That he went rapidly according to John and slowly according to Luke. He does, according to John, appear in Jerusalem before the feast is over, but Luke does not make him move slowly. Nor is it necessary to connect the sending of the seventy (Luke 10:1ff) with this journey. It belongs rather to the interval between Tabernacles and Dedication. So the secret going of John and the going through Samaria of Luke agree. So substantially Ellicott, Robinson, Wieseler, Gardiner, Caspari, Edersheim, etc. This theory is held irrespective of this being the final departure from Galilee. It is not necessary to fill out every detail in this programme and show where Jesus was between Tabernacles and Dedication. The main outlines remain clear and harmonious and are fairly satisfactory. This combination of Luke and John preserves the integrity of both narratives and fills up a large blank that would otherwise exist in these closing months of the Saviour's life. Upon the whole, therefore, this view seems decidedly preferable, though nothing like absolute certainty can be claimed in regard to the question.

3118. DID CHRIST EAT THE PASSOVER?

To put this question in another form, it would be, On what day of the month was Jesus crucified? For the crucifixion occurred on the same Jewish day as the eating of the meal recorded by all four Eyangelists. Nearly all agree that the crucifixion occurred on Friday and the meal was eaten the evening before, our Thursday, but the beginning of the Jewish day, counting from sunset to sunset. But what day of the month was it? The Passover feast began on the 15th Nisan, the lamb being But the day of the week would vary slain in the afternoon of the 14th. with the new moon. If Jesus ate the regular Passover supper, he was crucified on the 15th Nisan. If he ate an anticipatory meal a day in advance and was himself slain at the hour of killing the paschal lamb, he was crucified on the 14th Nisan. In that case he did not really eat the Passover supper at all. So then we must seek to determine the truth about this matter, because express statements are made about it in the Gospels.

- 1. Some sentimental views of the question need to be disposed of first. A great controversy once raged in the early churches about the Passover.
- (a) In the latter part of the second century some of the churches of Asia Minor, largely composed of Jewish Christians, kept up the Passover on the ground that Jesus had eaten it the night before his crucifixion. Polycarp, the disciple of John, expresses the persuasion that Jesus ate the Passover.
- (b) But some of the churches were afraid of this example and its application to the discussion about the relation of the Mosaic laws to Christianity. So they took the position that Jesus did not eat the Passover himself, but as the Paschal Lamb, was crucified at the time the lamb was slain. He was our Passover. The Greek churches now hold this position, while the Latin churches hold that Jesus ate the Passover. But those arguments are purely subjective and do not affect the question of fact. Hence we waive this old time controversy and come to the testimony of the Gospels themselves.
- 2. The testimony of the Synoptists, Matthew, Mark, and Luke. The evidence they give is abundant and explicit to the effect that Jesus ate the regular Paschal Supper on the evening after the 14th Nisan.
- (a) Jesus predicted that his death would occur during the Feast of the Passover. See Matthew 26:2, "Ye know that after two days the Passover cometh, and the Son of Man is delivered up to be crucified." See also Mark 14:1 and Luke 22:1, where the fact is alluded to. Passover is used in the general sense of the feast of unleavened bread, as Luke explains. The feast of unleavened bread followed the Passover meal, beginning the next morning and lasting a week. But the one term was used to include the other. The Passover was expanded to mean the entire feast that followed, and vice versa.

- (b) It is true that the Jewish authorities decided not to put Jesus to death during the feast (Matthew 26:5; Mark 14:2). But this decision was reached not because of any compunctions of conscience in the matter, but because they were afraid of a tunult among the people, owing to the great crowds, many of whom were friendly to Christ. But so soon as Judas offered his services, their fears vanished and they proceeded with their murderous designs (Matthew 26:14; Mark 14:11). The rulers did expedite matters at the crucifixion that the bodies might not be exposed on the Sabbath. But they had often tried to slay Jesus on the Sabbath heretofore. Public executions did take place during the feasts (Deut. 17:12f).
- (c) The Synoptists flatly say (Matthew 26:17,20; Mark 14:12,17; Luke 22:7,14) that on the first day of unleavened bread Jesus sent Peter and John from Bethany into the city to make preparations for eating the Passover, and that on the evening of the same day he ate it with his disciples. Luke calls it "the hour." Now, the first day of unleavened bread was the 14th Nisan. There is no question about this. Josephus speaks of the feast lasting eight days. The lamb of the supper being slain on the afternoon of this day, it was regarded as the beginning of the feast. Besides, Mark and Luke end the whole matter by saving that on this day they sacrificed the Passover. Jesus himself calls it the Passover (Luke 22:15). It is useless to say that Jesus ate the Passover a day in advance. This could not be done, especially by one to whom the temple authorities were hostile. Equally useless is it to say that the Jews ate the Passover a day too late. If a mistake was made about the new moon, they would hardly keep the Passover on two different days. nor would Jesus be apt to make a point about the matter.
- 3. The testimony of John. If we had only the evidence of the Synoptists, no serious trouble would ever arise on this question. Strauss has strenuously urged that John is on this point in hopeless conflict with the other Evangelists, since he makes Jesus eat the Passover on the evening after the 13th Nisan (Wednesday), and not the evening after the 14th (Thursday). This idea has gained a foothold among many orthodex or semi-orthodox writers, such as Ellicott. Westeott, Alford, Godet, Farrar, Greswell, Meyer, Bleck, Weiss. Some of these evidently do so because they hold that the Paschal controversy in Asia Minor arose from this supposed conflict of John with the Synoptists, and that this shows John's Gospel to have been in existence when that controversy began. But as many able men hold that John and the Synoptists are in perfect harmony on the question. So Wieseler, Robinson, Andrews, McClellan, Tholuck, Clark, Broadus, Edersheim, etc. Andrews, Robinson, and McClellan have elaborate and convincing discussions of the whole subject. It is not worth while to maintain that John in chapter 13 alludes to a different meal on a different occasion. The points of contact with the Synoptists are too sharp and clear, such as the sop given to Judas. But five passages in John are produced as being in direct opposition to the statements of the Synoptic Gospels. Let us examine them.

- (a) John 13:1f., "Now before the feast of the Passover, Jesus knowing, etc." Here, it is alleged, a distinct statement is made that this supper was before the Passover, and consequently twenty-four hours before. But several things are taken for granted in this inference. One is that the phrase "feast of the Passover" is to be confined to this particular meal, and is not to include the entire festival of unleavened bread (cf. Luke 22:1). Often by a metonymy of speech the name of a part is given to the whole. Besides, it is not certain that verse 1 is to be connected with verse 2. The best exegetes agree that a complete idea may be presented therein, either a general statement that Jesus loved his own before the Passover and until the end, or that he came into special consciousness of this love just before the Passover. And if the more natural interpretation be taken and the application of this love be made in verse 2, it is not necessary that the "before" be as much as twenty-four hours. Observe also the text adopted in the Revised Version in verse 2, not "supper being ended," but "during supper." With this reading agree the other references in 13:3, "riseth from supper," 13:12, "sat down again," 13:23, "There was at the table reclining in Jesus' bosom." So the natural meaning is that just before the meal began, Jesus purposed to show his love for his own by a practical illustration. So, after they had all reclined at the table according to custom, Jesus arose and passed around the tables, washing their feet; then he reclined again and proceeded with the meal. So nothing at all can be made out of this passage against the view that this was the regular Passover; but, on the other hand, the most natural meaning is that John is here describing what took place at this Passover meal. Else, why should he mention the Passover at all?
- (b) John 13:27, "That thou doest, do quickly." The objection is made that the disciples would not have thought that Jesus referred to the feast (13:29), if the Passover meal was already going on or was over. So, it is urged, this remark must have been made a day before the Passover was celebrated. But if that were the case, where would be the necessity for hurry, as there would be plenty of time on the morrow? The word "feast" here need not be confined to the paschal supper, but more naturally refers to the whole of the feast, of which the supper was a part. So this haste was needed to provide for the feast of unleavened bread which began on the next morning. No real force lies in the fact that this day was a holy day, being the first day of the Passover festival. The Mishna expressly allows the procuring even on a Sabbath what was needed for the Passover. If this could be done on a Sabbath, much more could it be done on a feast day which was not a Sabbath. Hence not only was it possible for the disciples to have misunderstood the remark of Jesus on the Passover evening, but it was far more natural that such misapprehensions should arise then than a day before. So this passage, like the preceding, when rightly understood, really confirms the Synoptists.

(c) John 18:28, "They themselves entered not into the palace, that they might not be defiled, but might eat the Passover." At first sight this does look like a contradiction. For this was certainly after the feast of John 13:2, and if they had not eaten the Passover meal, why here is a clear case of conflict of authorities. But it is by no means certain that the phrase "eat the Passover" means simply the paschal supper. This phrase occurs five times in the New Testament besides this, but all in Matthew, Mark, and Luke (Matt. 26:17; Mark 14:12,14; Luke 22:11,15). In all of these the reference is to the paschal supper. But the word "passover" is used in three senses in the New Testament, the paschal supper, the paschal lamb, or the paschal festival. The word is used eight times in John besides this instance, and in every case the Passover festival is meant. So we may fairly infer that the usage of John must determine his own meaning rather than that of the Synoptists. This becomes more probable when we remember that John wrote much later than they, after the destruction of Jerusalem, when these terms were not used so strictly. He always speaks of "the Jews" as separate from Christians. And this very expression is used in II. Chronicles 30:22, "And they did eat the festival seven days." The Septuagint translates it, "And they fulfilled (kept) the festival of unleavened bread seven days." See Robinson. So it is entirely possible for the phrase, "eat the Passover." to mean in this instance also the celebration of the Passover festival. Some have urged that the Sanhedrin had not eaten the Passover at the regular hour because of the excitement of the trial. But this is hardly tenable. And, moreover, since this remark was made early in the morning, how could that affect the eating of the supper in the evening? For whatever impurities one had during the day passed away at evening. Hence this uncleanness must belong to the same day on which it was incurred. If the Passover / estival had begun, this would be true, for they would wish to participate 'n the offerings of that day. So this passage likewise becomes an argument in favor of agreement with the Synoptists.

- (d) John 19:14, "Now it was the Preparation of the Passover." This is claimed to mean the day preceding the Passover festival. Hence Christ was crucified on the 14th Nisan, in opposition to the Synoptists. The afternoon before the Passover was used as a preparation, but it was not technically so-called. This phrase "Preparation" was really the name of a day in the week, the day before the Sabbath, our Friday. We are not left to conjecture about this question. The Evangelists all use it in this sense alone. Matthew uses it for Friday (27:62), Mark expressly says that the Preparation was the day before the Sabbath (15:42), Luke says that it was the day of the Preparation and the Sabbath drew on (23:54), and John himself so uses the word in two other passages (19:31,42), in both of which haste is exercised on the Preparation, because the Sabbath was at hand. The New Testament usage is conclusive, therefore, on this point. This, then, was the Friday of Passover week. And this agrees with the Synoptists. Besides, the term "Preparation" has long been the regular name for Friday in the Greek language, caused by the New Testament usage. It is so in the Modern Greek to-day. It was the Sabbath eve. just as the Germans have Sonnabend for Sunday eve, i. e., Saturday afternoon. So this passage also becomes a positive argument for the agreement between John and the Synoptists.
- (e) John 19:31, "For the day of that Sabbath was a high day." From this passage it has been argued that at this Passover the first day of the Passover festival coincided with the weekly Sabbath. But that is an entirely gratuitous inference. This coincidence would, of course, be a "high day," but so would the first day of the feast, the last day, or the Sabbath of the feast. In John 7:37 the last day is called "the great day of the feast." The Sabbath occurring during the festival would be a high day likewise. Robinson's arguments on this point are quite conclusive. Nothing can be made out of the expression against the position of the Synoptists.

McClellan discusses various other passages in John which show that the crucifixion occurred on Friday, and that this was the first day of the feast (John 18:39,40; 19:31,42; 20:1,19, etc.). We conclude then that a fair interpretation of the passages alleged not only removes all contradiction between John and the Synoptists, but rather decidedly favors the view that they have the same date for the Passover meal, and that Jesus ate the Passover at the regular hour and was crucified on Friday, 15th Nisan.

2 132. The Hour of the Crucifixion.

In John 19:14 it is stated that the time when Pilate sentenced Jesus to be erucified, or rather when he began the last trial in which he sentenced him, was about the sixth hour. We read, however, in Mark 15:25 that it was the third hour when Christ was crucified. The Synoptists all unite in saying that the darkness began at the sixth hour. The Jewish way of counting the hours was to divide the night and day into twelve divisions each, beginning at sunrise and sunset. The hours would thus vary in length with the time of year. Just after the vernal equinox the third hour of Mark would be about 9 A.M., and the sixth hour of the Synoptists would be about noon. The ninth hour, when Jesus gave his piteous cry to God (Mark 15:34) would be about 3 P.M. But how can the sixth hour of John, the time when Jesus was sentenced by Pilate, be reconciled to this schedule? A real difficulty is here presented, but by no means an insuperable one, as Alford and Meyer hold. Let us discuss some of the more usual explanations. Andrews and McClellan give quite a variety of suggested solutions.

- 1. Some hold that "sixth" in John is a textual error for "third." This could easily happen, since the gamma and the digamma of the Greek are very similar. Eusebius said that the accurate copies had it "third" in John. Various writers have held this position, such as Beza, Bengel, Alford, Robinson (given up by Riddle), Olshausen, (Farrar). But the textual evidence is overwhelmingly against it, and, besides, the difficulty would not be removed. John is evidently speaking of the time at the last trial and Mark of the time after Jesus has been led out to the crucifixion. So nothing is gained by this hypothesis.
- 2. Others would change the punctuation in John 19:14 so as to make "of the Passover" belong to "sixth hour," beginning from midnight. But there is no evidence that the Passover began with midnight. So Hofmann. This is very forced and unnatural.
- 3. Views that hinge on the word "preparation." Some would hold that John simply says that about noon the preparation time of the Passover begins. But Preparation here means Friday, and noon is not the hour needed to harmonize with Mark. Equally arbitrary is it to count six hours backward from noon so as to reach six o'clock.

Augustine suggested that the six hours are to be counted from 3 A.M. This would make 9 A.M., and would concur with the hour of Mark. But this is wholly arbitrary and unsatisfactory, and would not relieve the trouble.

4. Equally arbitrary is the solution that makes Mark refer to the hour of the sentence and John to the crueifixion, just the reverse of the Scripture account. Augustine also proposed that Jesus was crueified at the third hour by the tongues of the Jews, and at the sixth by the hands of the soldiers.

- 5. Others hold that Mark and John both speak in general terms. Hence the crucifixion may have taken place between 9 and 12 in the morning. Mark looks in one direction and John in the other. So Hengstenberg, Krafft, Ellicott, Campbell. The Jews, it is true, were not as exact in the use of expressions of time as we are to-day, but this solution hardly meets the requirements of the case. Mark puts his third hour at the beginning of the crucifixion, and John his sixth hour at the beginning of the last trial. This reconciliation does not reconcile.
- 6. The most satisfactory solution of the difficulty is to be found in the idea that John here uses the Roman computation of time, from midnight to noon and noon to midnight, just as we do now. Hence the sixth hour would be our six o'clock in the morning. If this hour was the beginning of the last trial of Jesus, we then have enough, but not too much, time for the completion of the trial, the carrying away of Jesus outside the city walls, together with the procuring of the crosses, etc. All the events, moreover, narrated by the Evangelists, could have occurred between dawn (John 18:27) and six or seven.

For a long time it was doubted whether the Romans ever used this method of computing time for civil days. Farrar vehemently opposes this idea. But Plutarch, Pliny, Aulus Gellius, and Macrobius expressly say that the Roman civil day was reckoned from midnight to midnight. So the question of fact may be considered as settled. The only remaining question is whether John used this mode of reckoning. Of course, the Romans had also the natural day and the natural night just as we do now. In favor of the idea that John uses the Roman way of counting the hours in the civil day, several things may be said.

- (a) He wrote the Gospel late in the century, probably in Asia Minor, long after the destruction of Jerusalem, when the Jewish method would not likely be preserved. Roman ideas were prevalent in Asia Minor. John evidently is not writing for the Jews primarily, since he constantly speaks of "the Jews" as outsiders. John is writing to be understood by the people, and this is the way it would be understood in Asia Minor.
- (b) All the passages in John, where the hour is mentioned, allow this computation. John 1:39 would be 10 A.M.; 4:6f. would be 6 P.M., counting from noon also (as we do). This hour suits best the circumstances. In the evening the women would come to get water, Jesus would have time for his journey thither, and would be tired and hungry. In John 4:52 the hour would be 7 P.M. This hour likewise suits the circumstances better. John 11:9, Are there not twelve hours in the day? is not against this idea, since here obviously the natural day, as opposed to night, is meant. The Romans used both methods and so do we.

(c) Moreover, one passage in John (20:19), when compared with Luke 24:29,36, makes it necessary to understand that John used the Roman method in this instance. It was toward evening, and the day had declined, according to Luke, when Jesus and the disciples drew near to Emmaus. Here he ate supper and, "rising up that very hour," the dis ciples returned seven miles to Jerusalem and told these things to the eleven who were together. But while they were narrating these things Jesus appeared to them. Now John, in mentioning this very appearance of Jesus (20:19) says that it "was evening on that day, the first day of the week," i. e., evening of the day when Mary Magdalene had seen the Lord. But with the Jews the evening began the day. Hence John. here at least, is bound to mean the Roman day. It was the evening of the same day in the morning of which Mary had seen Jesus. This appears conclusive. John did use the Roman method here, may have done so always, almost certainly did so in 19:14. Besides, as McClellan shows, the natural meaning of John's phrase is that it was the sixth hour of the Friday (Preparation) of the Passover. But we have just seen that John in 20:19 counts according to the Roman day. Hence the sixth hour of Friday would be six o'clock in the morning.

This is the only solution that really harmonizes John and Mark. The rest make the hours agree, but the hours bring together different events. This method harmonizes the whole narrative, and seems entirely probable. So substantially Greswell, McClellan, Ebrard, Tischendorf, Tholuck, Wieseler, Broadus, Gardiner, Clark, Andrews (new edition), and others.

Prof. W. M. Ramsay, in The Expositor for March, 1893, contends that Mark and John are at variance, but that it is of small moment, since the ancients had little notion about hours. He seeks to show that the martyrdom of Polycarp and Pronius, usually relied on to prove that in Asia Minor the hours were counted from midnight, took place in the afternoon, instead of the morning, the usual time. Hence the eighth and tenth hours respectively would be 2 P.M. and 4 P.M. But his arguments are not sufficient to set aside the established custom in such cases. He claims, moreover, that the Roman civil day was just a day and was not divided into hours. But this is mere assertion, and would besides be an anomaly. How else could divisions of time be marked in the civil day?

§ 134. THE TIME OF THE RESURRECTION OF CHRIST.

1. Mark, Luke, and John say that the resurrection had taken place early on the first day of the week, i. e. early Sunday morning. Mark (16:9) says that Jesus. "having risen early, on the first day of the week, appeared, etc." The position of "early" is ambiguous in the Greek and the passage is disputed. Mark (16:2) states that it was very early on the first day of the week, the sun having risen, when the women came to the sepulchre. Luke (24:1) says that the women came to the tomb at early dawn on the first day of the week. John (20:1) says that Mary Magdalene came to the tomb in the morning on the first day of the week. So then, there is no doubt that these three Evangelists mean to say that Jesus rose very early on Sunday morning, and that shortly after that event came the two Marys and some other women to anoint his body with spices.

Sceptics make objection to some of the details in the accounts of Mark and John especially as being inconsistent. John (20:1) says that Mary comes while it is yet dark, while Mark says (16:2) that the sun was risen. But Mark also says in the same verse that it was very early, which would agree with John's statement that it was yet dark. Hence Mark's other statement, that the sun was risen, must be interpreted in the light of his own words. Two solutions can be offered.

- (a) We may suppose, as McClellan and others, that John's note of time refers to the starting from Bethany, while it was yet dark or very early (Mark). In a few minutes it would be early dawn (Luke), and by the time the women come to the tomb, the sun would be up. All this is entirely possible and looks even probable, for in the twilight of early dawn, the border line is very narrow between darkness and sunrise. A stiff morning walk would pass through all the stages. It all depends on where you take your stand in this fleeting interim. Mark covers both sides and so includes it all from the first glimmering light till the full light of day.
- (b) Or the expression, "the sun was risen" (aorist participle), may simply be a general expression applicable to the phenomena of sunrise. The first gleam of daylight comes from the rising sun, though not yet completely risen. So Robinson, Ellicott, Clark. Robinson gives several examples from the Septuagint, where the same phrase is used in the aorist tense in a general way for the dawning light of day (Judges 9:33; 2 Kings 3:22; Ps. 104:22). Either of these explanations is entirely possible and removes the difficulty.
- 2. But Matthew seems to put the resurrection on the evening after the Sabbath, our Saturday evening. He says (28:1), "But late on the Sabbath day, as it was dawning into the first day of the week, came Mary Magdalene and the other Mary to view the sepulchre." If this passage means that the visit was made at the end of the Sabbath day (evening) and after the resurrection of Jesus, then Matthew is in plain contradiction to the other Evangelists. Some have taken the position that Jesus rose at sunset on the Sabbath day, forgetting that Mark (16:9) says that he rose early in the morning. There are several ways of reconciling Matthew with the other gospels.

- (a) Greswell, Alford and others would translate "late on the Sabbath day" by "late in the week." The Greek word is the same in this verse for Sabbath and week. In both cases, therefore, the translation could be the same. But little sense would result from this translation. "Late in the week" and "dawning into the first day of the week" hardly fit well. By this explanation the latter expression is used for the first part of Sunday, and the visit occurred in this dawning part of the day.
- (b) Others would translate "late on the Sabbath day" by "after the Sabbath day." Godet, Grimm and others contend that the Greek idiom could mean this, and it is so translated by several English translators such as Newcome, Sharpe, Wakefield, Norton, etc. But it is extremely doubtful whether the Greek will permit such a rendering. So it seems that we must choose between the two following explanations.
- (c) Matthew does not clearly say that this visit was made after the resurrection of the Saviour although his words may mean that. Hence the words may have their natural meaning. Late in the Sabbath day, about sundown say, the two Marys go to view the sepulchre (Matt. 28:1), having rested through the day (Luke 23:56). The women who had come with Jesus from Galilee had gone thither on Friday, after his burial, to see where he was laid and had prepared spices. If they went at nightfall at the close of the Sabbath (Matt. 28:1) "to see the sepulchre," they could have bought spices after sundown (Mark 16:1). Then (Mark 16:2) in the early morning, they rose and took the spices and went to anoint his body. It was then that they saw the angel (Matt. 28:5). Matthew does not say that in the visit of 28:1 the angel appeared to them. He speaks of the earthquake having come, and the resurrection, and then resumes. This view gains some support from the use of the same Greek word in Luke 23:54, "And it was the day of the Preparation (Friday) and the Sabbath drew on (was dawning)." Here the meaning seems to be that the Sabbath dawned at the close of the day. So Westcott, McClellan and others. However it may be about the visit of the women in Matt. 28:1, Matthew certainly does not mean to say that Jesus rose at sunset on the Sabbath. The whole course of his narrative in the rest of the chapter shows that it was the morning of Sunday when the angel appeared. While (Matt. 28:11) the women went to the disciples, the soldiers ran to the chief priests (Matt. 28:13) and said that the disciples came by night and stole him while they slept, clearly implying that it was now day. Hence Matthew does not teach that Jesus rose at sunset, but the reverse. Besides, Matthew expressly says that Jesus rose on the third day, which would not be true, if he rose on the Sabbath.

(d) Sabbath day may be used of the day followed by the night, according to popular reckoning prevailing in the Saviour's time. The Jews originally counted from evening to evening, but this custom did not prevail universally. Jonah (1:17) and Matthew (12:40) speak of three days and three nights, following the day by the night. Meyer, Morison, Clark and others hold this view, and it is possible at least, but hardly so satisfactory as the view of McClellan above. At any rate, it remains clear that Matthew agrees with the other Evangelists in putting the resurrection of Jesus Sunday morning. The chief point of difficulty is Matthew's visit of the women in 28:1, whether this was in the evening before simply "to view the sepulchre," or in the morning to anoint the body of the Saviour. The condensed account of Matthew leaves this question unsettled, and there we too shall have to leave it. And this last matter does not affect the question as to the time of the Lord's resurrection, but only the number of the visits made by the women.

§ 134. THE LENGTH OF OUR LORD'S STAY IN THE TOMB.

Quite an effort is made in some quarters to show that Jesus remained in the tomb seventy-two hours, three full days and nights. There are three sets of expressions used about the matter, besides the express statements of the Gospels about the days of the crucifixion and resurrection. Let us examine these lines of evidence.

- 1. Luke settles the matter pointedly by mentioning all the time between the crucifixion and the resurrection (Luke 23:50-24:3). The burial took place Friday afternoon just before the Sabbath drew on (Luke 23:54). The women rested on the Sabbath (Saturday) (Luke 23:56), and went to the sepulchre early Sunday morning, the first day of the week (Luke 24:1). There is no escaping this piece of chronology. This is all the time there was between the two events. Jesus then lay in the tomb from late in the afternoon of Friday till early Sunday morning. The other Gospels agree with this reckoning of the time, as we have already seen.
- 2. But how about the prediction of Jesus, repeatedly made, and once illustrated by the case of Jonah, that he would rise after three days? Are two nights and a day and two pieces of days three days? Let us see.
- (a) The well-known custom of the Jews was to count a part of a day as a whole day of twenty-four hours. Hence a part of a day or night would be counted as a whole day, the term day obviously having two senses, as night and day, or day contrasted with night. So then the part of Friday would count as one day, Saturday another, and the part of Sunday the third day. This method of reckoning gives no trouble to a Jew.

- (b) Besides, the phrase "on the third day" is obliged to mean that the resurrection took place on that day, for, if it occurred after the third day, it would be on the fourth day and not en the third. Now it so happens that this term "third day" is applied seven times to the resurrection of Christ (Matt. 16:21; Matt. 17:23; Matt. 20:19; Luke 27: 7,21,46; I. Cor. 15:4). These numerous passages of Scripture, both prophecy and statement of history, agree with the record of the fact that Jesus did rise on the third day. (Lu. 24:7.)
- (c) Moreover, the phrase "after three days" is used by the same writers (Matthew and Luke) in connection with the former one, "the third day," as meaning the same thing. Hence the definite and clear expression must explain the one that is less so. The chief priests and Pharisees remember (Matt. 27:63) that Jesus said, after three days I rise again. Hence they urge Pilate to keep a guard over the tomb until the third day (Matt. 27:64). This is their own interpretation of the Saviour's words. Besides, in parallel passages in the different Gospels, one will have one expression and another the other, naturally suggesting that they regarded them as equivalent. (Cf. Mark 9:31 with Matt. 16:21, Luke 9:22 with Mark 10:34.) On the third day cannot mean three whole days, while after three days can be used as meaning parts of the first and third days.
- (d) Matthew 12:40 is urged as conclusive the other way. But the "three days and three nights" may be nothing more than a longer way of saying three days, using day in its long sense. And we have already seen that the Jews counted any part of this full day (day and night) as a whole day (day and night). Hence this passage may mean nothing more than the common "after three days" above mentioned, and, like that expression, must be interpreted in accordance with the definite term "on the third day" and with the clear chronological data given by Luke and the rest. They seemed to be conscious of no discrepancy in these various expressions. Most likely they understood them as well as we do at any rate.

APPENDIX A.

ANALYSIS OF THE GOSPELS BY DR. BROADUS.

These Analyses are made chiefly according to external relations of place and time, with a view to studies in Gospel Harmony, and are brief, so as to be easily committed to memory. An Analysis according to the development of characteristic ideas would be quite different.

GOSPEL OF MATTHEW.

- I. Birth and infancy of Christ. I., II.
- II. Circumstances preparatory to his public ministry. III.—IV., 11.
- III. Ministry in Galilee. IV., 12-XVIII.
 - 1. Teaching about Galilee, call of certain disciples, general mention of miracles. IV., 12—end.
 - Sermon on the Mount. V.—VII.
 - 3. Series of Miracles. VIII., IX.
 - 4. Mission of the Twelve. X.
 - 5. Message from John, etc. XI.
 - 6. Opposition (Sabbath, Beelzebub, kindred). XII.
 - 7. Series of Parables. XIII.
 - 8. Withdrawals (Across the lake, Tyre and Sidon, Decapolis, Cæsarea Philippi,—Transfiguration), and final teachings in Galilee. XIV.—XVIII.
 - IV. Journeying to Jerusalem. XIX., XX.
 - V. Triumphal entry, teaching in the temple, discourse on the Mount of Olives. XXI.—XXV.
- VI. Passion. XXVI., XXVII.
- VII. Resurrection and appearances. XXVIII.

Leading Peculiarities.

- (1) Designed especially for Jewish readers, to prove that Jesus of Nazareth is the Messiah, and to give correct ideas of the Messianic reign—hence many allusions to Old Test. prophecies as fulfilled (quotations from O. T., Mt. about 41, Mr. 21, Lu. 22, Jo. 16)—and to kingdom (or reign) of heaven—genealogy begins with Abraham.
- (2) Consists very largely of Discourses.

- (3) In narrating events, often speaks generally, without descending to particulars—often arranges topically, rather than chronologically (particularly from 4:12 to end of chap. 13)—"not merely a history, but a historical argument." (Alexander.)
- (4) Style simple, without remarkable peculiarities—frequent use of "then."

Illustration of the Peculiarities.

- Comp. Westcott's Introduction to the Study of the Gospels; Gregory, "Why Four Gospels?" etc.
- (1) Mt. alone has the phrase, "gospel of the kingdom," and Christ speaking of himself as "king" (25:34). He has "kingdom of heaven" 22 times, the other Gospels saying only "kingdom of God." He has "Father in heaven" 15 times, Mr. 2, Lu. 0. He calls Jerusalem "the holy city" 3 times, the others never. He himself makes 10 quotations from Old Test., Mr. 1. He alone mentions the Magi coming to do homage to the king of the Jews. The parables in Mt. all refer to the Messianic reign, in its beginning, spread, or consummation, while most of them in Lu. apply only to individuals. The Sermon on the Mount is for Lu. only one of many discourses, while in Mt. it is the great discourse, introduced as early as possible, and reported at length—showing the true nature of the Messianic reign, and the relation of Christ's teaching to the moral law, and to current Jewish opinions and practices. Mt. gives no explanations of Jewish customs, like Mr. 7:2-5, or of the topography of Judea, like Lu. 2:4-13, or of the enmity of the Jews to the Samaritans, like Jo. 4:4, 10

GOSPEL OF MARK.

Analysis.

- I. Circumstances preparatory to the public ministry. I., 1-13.
- II. Ministry in Galilee. I., 14-IX.
 - 1. Preaching, eall of certain disciples, various miracles. I.,14-end.
- 2. Opposition encountered (charge of forgiving sins—of keeping company with sinners—Sabbath, Beelzebub and kindred). II., III.
 - 3. Parables (3). IV.
 - 4. Various miracles, and mission of the Twelve. V.—VI, 13.
 - 5. Withdrawals, viz.: Aeross the lake-Tyre and Sidon-Decapolis, Cæsarea Philippi (Transfiguration). VI., 14—IX.
- III. Journeying to Jerusalem. X.
- IV. Triumphal entry, teaching in the temple, and discourse on the Mount of Olives. XI.—XIII.
- V. Passion. XIV., XV.
- VI. Resurrection, three appearances, ascension. XVI.

Leading Peculiarities.

- (1) Shortest, Mt. 63 pages (Rev. Test.), Mr. 39, Lu. 66, Jo. 49.
- (2) Designed especially for Gentiles.
- (3) Gives our Lord's actions more than his sayings, (e. g. nearly as many miracles as Mt. or Lu., but only four parables).
- (4) Contains only some twenty-three verses of matter wholly wanting in Mt. and Lu.—but gives a multitude of minute, and often vivid. details. Thus thoroughly independent.
- (5) Chronological, almost uniformly.
- (6) Style animated and pictorial—somewhat numerous Latin words— Aramaic words used by Jesus—favorite expressions, as straightway (immediately, etc.).

Illustration of Peculiarities.

- (1) Take care not to judge of the comparative length by the number of chapters.
- (2) Explanations given that were quite unnecessary for Jews 7:1-4; 13:3; 14:1,12; 15:42. The word "law" does not occur.
- (3) Notice at the beginning how rapidly he comes to the active ministry of our Lord, how promptly he brings us into the midst of miracles and opposition. The fourth parable is in 12:1 ff.
- (4) The principal matters given by Mr. alone are in 3:20 f.; 4:26-29; 7:21-7; 8:22-26; 14:51 f.
- (5) Vivid details in 1:13,15,20,85; 2:27; 3:5; 4:37f.; 5:5,13: 6:3,20,21,23-5,33,40,48; 7:31; 9:14,16,21-29,39; 10:46,50; 11:17,24; 12:41f.; 13:3,32; 14:3,30,37; 15:21,24. Repeated descriptions of our Lord's looks and feelings (in Mr. alone) 3:5,34; 5:32; 6:6; 7:34: 10:21,23; 11:11, etc. Notice how often he uses the Greek imperfect tense where Mt. and Lu. have the aorist. After the fall of Peter the vivid touches are rare.

GOSPEL OF LUKE.

- I. Birth and childhood of John the Baptist, and of Jesus. I., II.
- II. Events preparatory to public ministry. III,—IV., 13.
- III. Ministry in Galilee. IV., 14—IX., 50.
 - Nazareth, Capernaum, teaching about Galilee, disciples. IV., 14—V., 16.
 - Opposition (forgiving sins, companying with sinners, Sabbath).
 V., 17—VI., 11.
 - 3. Choice of the Twelve, and Sermon on the Mount. VI., 12-end.
 - 4. Teaching and miracles—message from John—the sower—other miracles. VII., VIII.
 - Mission of the Twelve—withdrawals (Across the lake, Cæsarea Philippi, and Transfiguration). IX., 1-50.

- IV. Teaching after leaving Galilee, up to Triumphal entry. IX., 51—XIX., 27.
 - 1. On his way to Feast of Tabernacles. IX., 51-end.
 - 2. Between Tabernacles and Dedication. X.-XIII., 10.
 - Between Dedication and raising of Lazarus. XIII., 11—XVII., 10.
 - Final journey to Jerusalem (cf. Mt. and Mr.) XVII., 11— XIX., 27.
 - V. Triumphal entry, teaching in the temple, discourse on the Mount of Olives. XXI., 28—XXI.
- VI. Passion, XXII., XXIII.
- VII. Resurrection, appearances, ascension. XXIV.

Leading Peculiarities.

- (1) Longest of the Gospels—contains much matter that is peculiar to him, particularly in Div. I. and IV.
- (2) Written for all, whether Jews or Gentiles—genealogy going back to Adam—dates referred to reigns of Emperors.
- (3) Of special topics, frequent allusion to our Lord's praying—Christ, the perfect man, and the Saviour of all men.
- (4) Not long discourses, but great number of conversations, parables, etc.
- (5) Style less Hebraistic (except in ch. I., II.), and more elaborate, than the others—style of an educated man (physician).

GOSPEL OF JOHN.

- I. General introduction. I., 1-18.
- II. Early labors of our Lord. I., 19-IV.

Testimony of John, and first call of certain disciples—marriage at Cana—first Passover (Nicodemus), and labors in Judea—journey by Sychar to Galilee.

- III. Discourses to the Jewson his character and mission, with the connected events. V.—XII.
 - 1. Man at the pool of Bethesda, and discourse. V.
 - Feeding the five thousand, and discourse on the bread of life. VI.
 - 3. Feast of Tabernacles, and teachings then and soon after. VII.—X., 21.
 - 4. Feast of Dedication—asked whether he is Messiah—retires to Perea. X., 22—end.
 - 5. Raises Lazarus, and retires again to Ephraim. XI.
 - 6. Arrival at Bethany, triumphal entry, application of the Greeks and discourse. XII.
- IV. Paschal Supper and farewell discourse. XIII.—XVII.
- V. Passion. XVIII., XIX.
- VI. Resurrection and various appearances. XX., XXI.

Leading Peculiarities.

- (1) Designed to correct errors prevalent towards the close of the first century, by bringing out a class of Christ's teachings not previously so much insisted on. (Luthardt.) E. g. (1) True nature of Christ, as the Eternal Word. (2) Testimony of John the Baptist to Jesus. (3) Minute details concerning death and resurrection of Jesus, many questions having arisen as to the reality of these.
 (4) Fact that Christ's death was voluntary, and that it constitutes
 - his true glorification. (5) Authority of Apostolic teachings established by account of the Comforter.
- (2) Contains nothing that is found in the others, except feeding the five thousand, the triumphal entry, the supper at Bethany, and some details of the Passion and Resurrection.
- (3) Though chiefly occupied with discourses, gives several singularly beautiful narratives, chap. 1, 2, 4, 11, 21.
- (4) Mentions the feasts which mark the duration of our Lord's ministry (especially four Passovers, including 5:1).

(5) Style—short sentences—frequently states an idea first positively, then negatively—"verily, verily"—certain terms frequently recurring, as light and darkness, the truth and falsehood, love, the world, eternal life (similarly in Epistles of John).

Illustration of the Peculiarities.

- (2) Matters given by John alone: Division II throughout; division III, 1, 3. 4, 5 (in 6, application of the Greeks); division IV., feet-washing; most of the facts recorded in divisions V and VI.
- (3) John gives no parables, but several expanded metaphors that approach the parable, as the good shepherd, the true vine, etc. He makes no mention of demoniacal possessions.

APPENDIX E.

A LIST OF SOME UNCANONICAL SAYINGS OF JESUS.

Some of the more important reported sayings of Christ are given which are not found in the Gospels or Acts; whether true words of the Master or not, it is not known. Some certainly are not like the Spirit of Christ, but it will be of service to the student to compare them with the genuine Words of Jesus in our Gospels. The Apocryphal Gospels are passed by as not worth using in this list.

1. The Logia of Jesus (Grenfell and Hunt):

Jesus saith: Except ye fast to the world, ye shall in no wise find the Kingdom of God; and except ye keep the Sabbath, ye shall not see the Father.

Jesus saith: I stood in the midst of the world, and in the flesh was I seen of them, and I found all men drunken, and none found I athirst among them, and my soul grieveth over the sons of men because they are blind in their heart.

Jesus saith: Wherever there are . . . and there is one . . . alone, I am with him. Raise the stone and there thou shalt find me, cleave the wood and there am I.

Jesus saith: A prophet is not acceptable in his own country, neither doth a physician work cures upon them that know him.

Jesus saith: A city built upon the top of a high hill and stablished, can neither fall nor be hid.

2. Readings found in Codex D.

One is concerning a man found working on the Sabbath, and comes after Luke 6:4: O man, if indeed thou knowest what thou doest, thou art blessed; but if thou knowest not, thou art cursed and art a transgressor of the law.

Likewise Codex D has, after Matt. 20:28: But you seek to increase from little, and from greater to be less.

3. Quotations found in various early Fathers.

From Barnabas: Let us resist all iniquity, and hold it in hatred. They who wish to see me and lay hold on my kingdom must receive me by affliction and suffering.

From Origen and others: Show yourselves tried money changers.

Ask great things, and the small shall be added to you; and ask heavenly things, and the earthly shall be added unto you.

He who is near me is near the fire; he who is far from me, is far from the kingdom.

For those that are sick I was sick, and for those that hunger, I suffered hunger, and for those that thirst, I suffered thirst.

From Clement of Rome (Ep. II.): Keep the flesh pure, and the seal unspotted.

When the two shall be one, and that which is without as that which is within, and the male with the female neither male nor female.

If ye kept not that which is small, who will give you that which is great? For I say unto you, that he that is faithful in very little is faithful also in much.

From Justin Martyr: In whatsoever I may find you, in this will I also judge you. Such as I may find thee, I will judge thee.

From Ignatius: Take hold, handle me, and see that I am not an incorporeal spirit.

From Clement of Alexandria: He that wonders shall reign, and he that reigns shall rest. Look with wonder at that which is before you. My mystery is for me and for the sons of my house.

From Papias: The days will come in which vines shall spring up, each having ten thousand stocks, and on each stock ten thousand branches, and on each branch ten thousand shoots, and on each shoot ten thousand bunches, and on each bunch ten thousand grapes, and each grape when pressed shall give five and twenty measures of wine. And when any saint shall have seized one bunch, another shall cry: I am a better bunch; take me: through me bless the Lord.

In general the Later Judean Ministry and the Perean Ministry, chiefly Luke's contribution to the Life of Christ, furnish many events and discourses similar to those described in the Galilean Ministry. Sections 80 to 103 furnish most of the so-called "doublets" or repeated sayings of Jesus or similar miracles. This is just what we should expect in a popular teacher who journeyed in different parts of the country.

The Historical Geography of the Holy Land

Seventh Edition. With Scripture Index and Six Colored Maps, specially prepared. 8vo, cloth, 730 pages, $4.50 to illustrate the whole subject. His geographical statements are pen-pictures. We are made to see the scene. No important problem is unrouched. Withatt question it will take its place at once as a standard work, indispensable to the thoroughgoing student of the Bible. — Sunday-School Times.

His intention is rather to show how the history of the land is conditioned by its physical structure. It is thus the idea of Karl Ritter which rules the treatment and presentation. Very comprehensive sections are concerned, not with the history, but with the nature of the land. . . . The author pays special attention to the military operations. One could sometimes imagine that an officer is writing, who, above all, regards the land from the point of view of the military stategist. In this connection especially the history of Israel in its chief crises in Old Testament times receives striking illumination. Large passages are frequently quoted from the Old Testament in order to explain them by the exhibition of their geographical background. In addition the author has a special gift of vivid representation. He makes the history transact itself before the eye of the reader in dramatic form. One sees, everywhere, that the landscapes which he describes stand before his own eyes. Thus the book is an extremely valuable means of aid to the understanding of the history, especially of the Old Testament. — Prof. Schürer, of Kiel, in the Theol. Literature.

The book is too rich to summarize. . . . The language is particularly well chosen. Few pages are without some telling phrase happily constructed to attract attention and hold the memory, and we often feel that the wealth of imagery would be excessive for prose were it not that it is chosen with such appropriateness and scientific truth. . . To the reader much of the pleasure of perusing the volume comes from its luxurious typography, and the exquisite series of orographical maps prepared by Mr. Bartholomew from the work of the Survey. These maps alone are more suggestive and enlightening than many treatises, and they are destined, we trust, to enliven many a sermon, and turn the monotony of the records of Israelitish wars into a thrilling romance. — Speaker.

OOK OF ISAIAH

In Two Volumes. Crown 8vo, cloth, $1.50 each.

VOLUME I. CHAPTERS I.-XXXIX

VOLUME II. CHAPTERS XL.—LXVI.

This is a noble volume of a noble series. Isaiah will ever be the cream of the Old Testament evangelistic prophecy, and as the ages go on will supply seed-thought of the Holy Ghost which grow into flowers and fruits, vines and trees, of divine truth for the refreshment and nourishment of the intellect, heart, character, and life. How can any pastor or instructor of the public, young or old, afford to be without such aids? — Ballimore Methodist.

Prof. George Adam Smith has such a mastery of the scholarship of his subject that it would be a sheer impertinence for most scholars, even though tolerable Hebraists, to criticise his translations; and certainly it is not the intention of the present reviewer to attempt anything of the kind, to do which he is absolutely incompetent. All we desire is to let English readers know how very lucid, impressive—and, indeed, how vivid—a study of Isaiah is within their reach; the fault of the book, if it has a fault, being rather that it finds too many points of connection between Isaiah and our modern world, than that it finds too few. In other words, no one can say that the book is not full of life. - Spectator.

It would be difficult to say how highly we appreciate the work, or how useful we believe it will be. — Church Bells.

He writes with great rhetorical power, and brings out into vivid reality the historical position of his author. — Saturday Review.

Mr. Smith gives us models of expositions; expositions for cultivated congregations, no doubt, but still expositions which may have been largely preached in church. They are full of matter, and show careful scholarship throughout. We can think of no commentary on Isaiah from which the preacher will obtain scholarly and trustworthy suggestions for his sermons se rapidly and so pleasantly as from this. - Record.

In Two Volumes. Crown 8vo, cloth, $1.50 each.

In Dr. Smith's volumes we have much more than a popular exposition of the minor Prophets. We have that which will satisfy the scholar and the student quite as much as the person who reads for pleasure and for edification.
... If the minor Prophets do not become popular reading it is not because anything more can be done to make them attractive. Dr. Smith's volumes present this part of Scripture in what is at once the most attractive and the most profitable form. - DR. MARCUS DODS, in the British Weekly.

Few interpreters of the Old Testament to-day rank higher than George He is at home in criticism, in geographical and archæological questions, and in philology. . . . Hardly any commentator of the present day is more successful than he in putting the student at once into the heart of an Old Testament problem. -S. S. Times.

The above four volumes are contained in "The Expositor's Bible." and are subject to special subscription rates in connection with that series. Descriptive circular on application.

Contrary Winds and Other Sermons.

Crown Svo Yolume, Cloth. $1.75 net. 3a Edition.

"This work touches on numerous phases of life and thought and experience, showing that the author has lived through a vast deal and has been made the richer and stronger by it. It leaves the impression of wisdom that comes from actual experience, dealing with life rather than speculations, and so comes home to the heart and conscience. IT SHOWS A WIDE RANGE OF READING AND CLOSE GRAPPLE WITH THE DIFFICULT PROBLEMS OF OUR TIME. Such preaching is tonic and invigorating. It strengthens the heart and fortifies the will to overcome trials and conquer temptations and achieve victory."-N. Y. Christian a' Work.

The Congregationalist says: "Its variety of theme and the never failing intellectual power which it illustrates, the author's reverent positiveness of faith, his broad and intimate knowledge of human nature, and the richness of his personal spiritual experiences-never obtruded but always underlying his words—render it a volume of rare and precious value to the Christian believer, and A CAPITAL SPECIMEN OF MANLY, BUSINESS-LIKE DISCUSSION TO ALL OTHERS WHO CARE TO READ

WHAT A CHRISTIAN HAS TO SAY FOR HIS RELIGION."

N. Y. Churchman: "Sermons practical in their nature, full of deep thought and wise counsel. They will have as they deserve a wide circulation.

THE PARABLES OF OUR SAVIOUR.

EXPOUNDED AND ILLUSTRATED. By Wm. M. TAYLOR, D.D., LL.D. Uniform with same author's "Limitations of Life," and "Contrary Winds," and other Sermons. Crown 8vo, cloth. $1.75. net.

"To Archbishop Trench, who more than any other English writer has brought patristic lore to bear upon the illustration of the parables, every later author must express his peculiar obligations; but the recent works of Prof. Bruce and Goobel have broken new ground in this department, and my aim has ben to turn their fruitful suggestions to good hom letical account. The little vols, if Dr. Dod's—notly the first if which was in my hands when the se discourses were prepared—are full of richest nuggets; and the Expositions of William Arnot are characterized by the masculine sense, rich Christian experience, and striking il u trations for which he was so remarkable But the present work, while indeb'ed in different repects to all these authors, will be found to be in others independent of them all."—From AUTHOR's

N. Y. Observer says: "Dr. Taylor shows in this work his large acquaintance with this portion of religious literature. A better book for the study, the Sunday school, and the Christian has not been issued this season."

Methodist Recorder: "Dr. Taylor's style is clear and strong, and ne brings out with great distinctness the leading thoughts contained in each parable. It will be real with pleasure and profit by thoughtful Christians. The volume is one of more than ordinary richness."

Cincinnati Herald and Presbyter: "They are rich in truth, simple and plain as style, and give evidence of ripe scholarship. They are suitable for all classes of readers, and cannot be read without profit."

Lutheran Quarterly: "They are clear and direct in style, abound in apt illustrations, are textually faithful, and breathe a devout and scholarly spirit."

Christian World: "One cannot help but be struck with the fact, as he reads these discourse, that the author has brought to bear on their exposition an acute and yes wonderfully practical mind."

Christian Leader: "Recent research has opened up great wealth of fresh lore bearing upon the suggestions of the parables, and these Dr. Taylor has not only mastered, but assimilated."

Congregationalist: "The whole series is characterized in a remarkable degree by strong common sense and a shrewd insight into human nature and needs, as well are by the loyal purpose to lead men and women to God."

NEW WORK BY REV. W. M. TAYLOR, D.D., LL.D.

JOHN KNOX.

With a fine Steel Portrait. Engraved by Holl, from a Painting in the possession of Lord Somerville. 12mo, cloth. $1.25. net.

This work gives a vivid, comprehensive and accurate account of the life and work of the great Scottish Reformer. It includes a careful and well ordered summary of the career of Knox in England, as that has been brought to light by the recent investigations of Lorimer and others. Particular attention has been given to the course of events in Scotland during the last thirteen years of the Reformer's life, and his interviews with QUBEN Mary, as well as his work in the reconstruction of the Scottish Church, are described with fullness of detail and undependence of judgment. The story is admirably told, the interest being maintained from first to last, so that the book will be at once delightful to the young and instructive to those of maturer ears.

THE MIRACULOUS ELEMENT IN THE GOSPELS.

By ALEXANDER BALMAIN BRUCE, D.D., Author of "The Parabolic Teaching of Christ." 8vo, cloth. $2.50.

This work, though constructed on a different method, may be regarded as a companion to my work on The Parabolic Teaching of Christ, published a few years ago. In the Fifth and Sixth Lectures I have considered from my point of view, at considerable length, a large number of the miraculous narratives, and made observations on nearly the whole of the narratives of this character contained in the Gospels My object in these portions of the work is not to expound homiletically the whole narrative in which a miracle is recorded, but to inquire whether the event recorded be indeed a miracle.

"It will take rank at once among the standard treatises upon its always important and engrossing theme. It is an elabor ate sudy—the fruit of wide-racking and profound research and patient reflection. The result of these studies is that the volume is a powerful defense of the miracles as an essential feature of the religion of Christ. It is a cause of congratulation to the whole Christian public that so valuable sources of lectures has been given to the whole world in so available shape,"—Boston CONGREGATIONALIST.

"An exhaustive discussion of the New Testament Miracles. The topics are candidly, lucidly, and very ably considered. The volume is a rich addition to our apologetic literature, which every Biblical stude, t will desire to add to his library."-Zion's Herald.

The Parabolic Teaching of Christ.

A Systematic and Critical Study of the Parables of our Lord. By Rev. Prof. A. B. BRUCE, D.D. I vol., 8vo, cloth, 527 pp. Price, $2.50.

"A work which will at once take its place as a classic on the Parables of our Saviour. No minister should think of doing without it."—American Presbyterian Review.

American Literary Churchman says: "We recommend this book with he most confident earnestness. It is a book to be bought and kept; it has both depth and breadth and minute accuracy; it has a living sympathy with the teaching of the Parables and with the spirit of the Master."

ENGLISH NOTICES.

"Prof. Bruce brings to his task the learning and the liberal and finely sympathetic spirit which are the best gif's of an expositor of Scripture. His treatment of his subject is vigorous and original, and he avoids the capital mistake of overlaying his exegesis with a mass of other men's views."-Spectator.

"The studies of the Parables are thorough, scholarly, suggestive and practical.

Fullness of discussion, reverence of treatment, and sobriety of judgment, mainly characterize this work."—Christian World.

"Each Parable is most thoughtfully worked out, and much new light is thus thrown on the difficulties which surround many of these beautiful and suggestive examples of Divine teaching,"-Cergymen's Magazine.

"This volume has only to be known to be welcomed, not by students alone, but by all earnest students of Christ's oracles. On no subject has Dr. Bruce spoken more wisely than on the question why Jesus spoke in parables. The one end the author sets before himself is, to find out what our Lord really meant. And this he does with a clearness and fullness worthy of all praise. Familiar as we are with some of the best and most popular works on the Parables, we do not know any to which we could look for so much aid in our search after the very meaning which Christ would have us find in His words."-Noncon formist.
